American Repository of Inventions.
To Mechanics, Inventors and Manufacturers.

SEVENTH VOLUME OF THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN.
MESSRS. MUNN & CO.,

American and Foreign Patent Agents, and Publishers of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, respectfully announce to the public that the first number of Volume VII. of this widely circulated and valuable journal will issue on the 20th of September. The new volume will commence with new type, printed upon paper of a heavier texture than that used in the preceding volumes. It is the intention of the publishers to illustrate it more fully, by introducing representations of prominent events connected with the advancement of science; besides, furnishing the usual amount of engravings of new inventions. It is published weekly in form for binding, and affords at the end of the year a splendid volume of over four hundred pages, with a copious index, and from five to six hundred engravings, together with a vast amount of practical information concerning the progress of invention and discovery throughout the world. There is no subject of importance to the mechanic, inventor, manufacturer and general reader, which is not treated in the most able manner—the editors, contributors & correspondents being men of the highest attainments. It is in fact the leading scientific journal of the country.

The inventor will find in it a weekly list of American Patent Claims, reported from the Patent Office, an original feature not found in any other weekly publication.

Terms:—$2 a year; $1 for six months.
All Letters must be post-paid and directed to

EXTRACTS FROM OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.
Sacred Scenes and Characters.—By the Rev. J. T. Headley. This work may very properly be considered a companion to the "Sacred Mountains," by the same author.—Its object is to illustrate and "render more life-like" the sacred writings. It is not the author's design to supersede the Bible. But his wish is to excite a solicitude to obtain, and to become intimately acquainted and perfectly familiar with its history, doctrines and laws; to know its truth, to imbibe its spirit, feel its power; and partake of its salvation; in a word, to prize in some measure as it deserves, this treasure which is indeed beyond price. We predict for it a circulation far beyond any of the author's former works.
The News, January 7th.
Sacred Scenes Characters.—By the Rev. J. T. Headley, author of the "Sacred Mountains," &c. This work will add greatly to the reputation of the author. In literary merit it more than equals his "Sacred Mountains." Mr. Headley excels in his glowing style and vivid descriptions. His works are a rich treasury of all the sublimity of thought, moving tenderness of passion, and vigorous strength of expression, which are to be found in all the languages by which mortals declare their minds.—Daily Globe, January 5th.
Rambles and Sketches.—By Rev. J. T. Headley.—We have not for a long time sat down to a book with more pleasing anticipations, or found those anticipations more fully realized, than in the perusal of the work before us, and then it will be hailed with gratification by the many admirers of the talented author. His "Napoleon and his Marshals" was, perhaps, as popular and found at least as many enthusiastic readers as any book that can be mentioned. We think the Rambles & Sketches are destined to be as popular at least as any of his previous published works. There is not a dull chapter in the work, filled as it is with "an infinite variety." The author has ample room and verge enough for the employment of his fine talents to great advantage, and most successfully has he recompensed the task. The biographical sketch of the author is interesting and "well considered," and adds much to the value of the book, which is got up in a very neat and attractive style by the publisher.—Portland Transcript, Dec. 15.
Mr. Headley is one of the most promising writers of this country, and we have here one of his best books—one on which he can safely rest his fame. It possesses the unforgetting charms of perfect simplicity and truth.—There is a graceful frankness pervading the composition, which engages the interest of the reader in the author as well as in the subject. His rambles about Rome, Paris and London exhibit a thousand lively traits of an ingenuous nature, upon which a man of taste will delight to linger. We predict for this a sale equal to that of any of the author's works.
New York News.
The collection is one of which no author need be ashamed. It consists, indeed, of some of Mr. Headley's most brilliant and highly-finished compositions, of those specimens of his abilities by which he may be judged with the greatest safety to his fame as a word-painter and thinker.—N. Y. Tribune, December 17, 1849.
N. B.—The above books will be forwarded to order, at the prices mentioned, free of postage, to any part of the United States, on the receipt of orders, with the money. Money may be sent by mail at my risk.
