

Speech of Kossuth.

A letter from Constantinople, of Oct. 1, in the Augsburg Gazette, gives the following as the speech delivered by Kossuth on going on board the frigate Mississippi:

"Companions—May the Almighty God be praised, who has granted me the extraordinary favor of being able to speak to you, worthy brethren, of my nation, under this flag, (pointing to the flag of the United States.) Now only can I breathe freely. Now only I, a poor exile, feel myself proud at owing my deliverance to you, and to one of the most magnanimous nations of Europe. I am about to proceed with my companions to that generous people to whom you have the happiness to belong, and I shall kiss with joy that sacred land of liberty, where I hope to find for my unfortunate people what I seek. Yes, for I seek brethren; and Kossuth will not die until he has found them. But I do not seek your sympathies, for we possess them; nor an asylum for exiles, for we shall never want one as long as the Magyar shall groan under the yoke of the Slavonian; nor a Liberator, for Hungary will know how to deliver herself; but I seek an avenger against the oppressor of a holy cause, and for innocent men who have unjustly fallen."

When Kossuth had concluded, the captain shook him by the hand, and the crew cried, "God save Kossuth."

Woman's Rights.

The New York Recorder, a religious journal, which opposes a stout resistance to most of the new-fangled isms of the age, has a capital notice of the late "Woman's Rights" Convention, at Worcester. The following paragraph, it seems to us, contains a pithy reply to the noisy females who are ceaselessly vexing the public ear with their clamors on this subject. It is the whole argument in a nutshell:

"The principal object seems to be to procure the right to vote and to engage in all masculine employments. As it regards the right to vote, it will be difficult for the advocates of abstract rights, without reference to the teachings of the Bible and common sense, to deny the justice of their demands. As to engage in masculine employments, we do not know any law that prevents a woman from commanding a vessel, if she can convince ship owners of her capacity; from practising physic, if she can get patients; from preaching, if she can get hearers, and manage certain difficult passages of Scripture about the duties of woman; from driving a team, holding a plough, going whaling, building ships, forging anchors, or any thing of that sort. The public opinion of which these ladies complain, is made by the delicate, religious and pure-minded of their own sex. The instincts of a true woman will always lead her aright."

In a town not far from Boston, a clergyman was visiting a district, where a little fellow was put forward to 'speak a piece,' because he was bold. When he was done the clergyman praised him by saying, "Why, my little lad, you are not afraid, are you?" "No! I ain't afraid of nothing." "I ain't afraid of Skunks!"

The Cuban Expedition.

The Cincinnati "Nonpareil" states that witnesses are being subpoenaed to go before the Circuit Court of the United States, to be held in Columbus, for the purpose of endeavoring to indict those persons who were engaged in getting up the Cuban expedition. The case will come before his honor Judge McLEAN. This trial will elicit considerable interest, and the result will be looked for with anxiety.

It is said that the report that the Austrian Minister at Washington had demanded his passports was without the foundation.

Weights and Measures.

The following table of the number of pounds of various articles to a bushel, may be of interest to some of our farming friends:

- Of wheat, sixty pounds.
- Of shelled corn, fifty-nine pounds.
- Of corn, in the cob, seventy pounds
- Of oats, thirty-five pounds.
- Of barley, forty-eight pounds.
- Of potatoes, sixty pounds.
- Of beans, sixty pounds.
- Of bran, twenty pounds.
- Of clover seed, sixty pounds.
- Of timothy seed, forty-five pounds.
- Of flax seed, fifty-six pounds.
- Of hemp seed, forty-four pounds.
- Of buckwheat, fifty-two pounds.
- Of blue grass seed, fourteen pounds.
- Of castor beans, forty-six pounds.

Story.—An amiable youth was lamenting, with the most sincere grief, the death of an affectionate parent. His companion endeavored to comfort him by the reflection, that he had always behaved to his departed parent with duty, tenderness and respect. "So I thought," replied the youth, "while my parent was living; but now I recollect, with pain and sorrow, many instances of disobedience and neglect, for which, alas! it is now too late to make atonement." Dr. Harris, in his last will and testament, made the following address to his children: "Think how you and I shall endure the sight and thought of one another at the last day, if you appear in the old Adam. Much less shall you stand before Christ unless you have the image of Christ upon you; and therefore, never cease until you be made new creatures, and study we'll what that image is. This was the advice of a father."

Economy in Candles.

If you are without a rush light and would burn a candle all night, unless you use the following precaution it is ten to one an ordinary candle will gutter away in an hour or two sometimes to the endangering the safety of the house.—This may be avoided by placing as much common salt, finely powdered, as will reach from the tallow to the bottom of the black part of the wick of a partly-burned candle, when, if the same be lit it will burn very slowly, yielding a sufficient light for a bed chamber; the salt will gradually sink as the tallow is consumed, the melted tallow being drawn through the salt, and consumed in the wick.—The Economist.

An old fellow, who had become weary of his life, thought he might as well commit suicide, but he did not wish to go off without forgiving all his enemies. So at the last moment he removed the noose from his neck, saying to himself, "I never can or will forgive old Noah for letting the infernal copperhead snake get into the ark. They have killed $2000 worth of my cattle, and when he and I meet there'll be a general fuss."

What a Printer is.

Toast given at a Printer's supper in Indiana:—"The Printer—Independent as a wood sawyer, proud as Lucifer, poor as Job's turkey, and the personification of intelligence."

PENNSYLVANIA, SS. In the name and by the authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. By William F. Johnston, Governor of the said Commonwealth.

A PROCLAMATION.

THE promise that "seed time and harvest shall not cease" has again been fulfilled: A God of infinite goodness has watched over and cared for us, as a People, during another year;—Plenty has poured her Treasures into our garners;—Peace has presided over our councils, and Health and Happiness have been universally enjoyed;—Civil and religious liberty has been more widely spread and the foundations of those Institutions which our Fathers laid, have been deepened and strengthened by the Providences thus vouchsafed to us.

To that gracious Giver, to whom belong "the Earth and the fullness thereof" for these manifold evidences of his beneficence, the Citizens of this Commonwealth owe public demonstration of their humble dependence and adoration, and of their heartfelt gratitude and thanksgiving.

Deeply impressed with the propriety of the duty, and in accordance with venerated custom, I, William F. Johnston, Governor of the said Commonwealth, do hereby appoint and designate

Thursday, the 27th day of November, next, as a day of general THANKSGIVING through out the State, and I hereby recommend and earnestly invite all the good People of this Commonwealth to a sincere and prayerful observance of the same.

GIVEN under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this twenty first day of October, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and fifty one, and of the Commonwealth the seventh-sixth. BY THE GOVERNOR. A. L. RUSSELL, Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Hover's Writing Ink.

"We are opposed to all kinds of 'Puffing,' in the figurative sense of the term. Whether in the notice of a book, or anything else, we have a repugnance to give it a fulsome adulation, or to recommend it in any way at all, unless we honestly believe it worthy of favor. "We have again furnished ourselves with a keg of Hover's Black Writing Ink, and when we say that this is not the first or the second keg that has been procured from Mr. Hover, the article may be considered endorsed 'good' by us, otherwise we should not have continued its use for these six or seven years past. Others may have their preferences in favor of different manufactures, and we are quite willing that they enjoy those preferences (save and except those of our correspondents, who sometimes impose that loathsome Blue stuff upon us, which is not fit to be used); for our own part, we continue the manufacture of Mr. Hover, whose ink is not only clear and black, but does not clog and conglomerate our pen, as some otherwise good inks do."—German Reformed Messenger, Chambersburg, Pa.

HORSES MADE SOUND

BY THE HORSE OWNER'S SECRET, Being a new and certain remedy for the speedy Cure of Heaves, By SIR JAMES LYNDONTON, Principal Farrier to his Royal Highness Prince Albert.

THE great discovery contained in this little work procured Sir James his Baronety. It is really worth its weight in gold to all who own or use Horses. It prescribes a Certain and positive cure for Heaves which any person can prepare. The remedy is better and cheaper than any advertised Heave Powder, and is perfectly safe, as any one can know who tries it. Horse owners know that many a valuable Horse loses half its price by this prevalent disease. The remedy prescribed in this work will cure him and increase his market value, besides relieving the poor beast of a horrible complaint, similar to the Asthma in a man. The public can depend on this work; it is no catechenny humbug. The articles prescribed by Sir James are all cheap and can be had at any store. To prevent imposition the work will be sent in sealed envelopes. English price four shillings, and three pence sterling.—American price, $1 per copy. Persons ordering Sir James' Work, are expected to confine his instructions to their own animals.—It will be sent to none others.

An American Horse Doctor approves of the above System! Read what he says: APPLETON, Ohio, July 21, 1851 Mr. DUNBERTON.—I have tried your Secret for the cure of Heaves, and approve of it very much. Yours, truly, [Witness, G. Long.] S. LAKE, Horse Dr. To procure this valuable little work. Address, post paid.

JOHN DUNBERTON, English Horse Doctor, American Agent for James Lyndonton's Horse Owner's Secret, New York Post Office. The Secret is sent by mail at letter postage. October 23, 1851—6m

Hover's Ink Manufactory, REMOVED TO

No. 144 Race Street, (Between Fourth and Fifth, opposite Crown St.) Philadelphia.

WHERE the Proprietor is enabled, by increased facilities, to supply the growing demand for HOVER'S INK, which its wide spread reputation has created. This Ink is now so well established in the good opinion and confidence of the American Public, that it is scarcely necessary to say anything in its favor, and the manufacturer takes this opportunity to say that the confidence thus secured shall not be abused.

In addition to the various kinds of Writing Ink, he also manufactures Adamantine Cement for mending Glass and China, as well as a superior Hair Dye; a trial only is necessary to insure its future use, and a Sealing Wax, well adapted for Druggists and Bottlers, at a very low price, in large or small quantities.

Cure of Consumption,

Liver Complaint, Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Throat and Lung Complaints.

I have published a brief work on Consumption, which contains an invaluable recipe for the cure of these prevalent diseases, even in their worst stages, when friends and physicians have given up all hope. The Lung Balsam prescribed in this work Cures without the expensive aid of physicians or injurious use of patent medicines. In adopting this System of Cure the patient knows what he is using—knows that he is not shortening his days by the use of anodynes or mercurials, which may seem to Relieve but never Cure. He knows when using this Life saving Balsam, that he is taking mild, pleasant, efficacious remedies, such as Nature prescribes for the ill her children suffer. The ingredients composing this Lung Balsam are obtainable (cheaply too) wherever consumption exists, proving that Every ill has its antidote. Consumptive patients may rely on this receipt—(all Lung Complaints are removed by its use)—I would not attach my name to it, had I doubt of its efficacy. The directions for preparing and using the Balsam are perfectly plain. I prefer selling the Receipt to making the Balsam, as it enables people to Make their own Medicine at a trifling Cost. I will impart the secret of making the Balsam, and the Family right to use it, for $1, but in no case will I sell it for speculating purposes.

Proof of its Goodness.

JACKSON, Mich., March 21, 1851. Doct. S. TOUSEY—Sir: You wished me to let you know what effect your preparation of Medicine for Consumption and other diseases had in my family. After the first ten days my wife gained in weight 3 lbs; relieved her cough, changed her countenance, and all appearances were better. My family would not be willing to do without it. It is a medicine much needed in Jackson—there is many cases similar to my wife's. The Rev Mr. Blanchard will write you for a recipe. Respectfully yours, O. F. POOL. Address, post paid, (enclosing $1.) Dr. S. TOUSEY, 106 Nassau street, New York.—The work goes by mail under seal. October 23, 1851—6m

American Repertory of Inventions.

To Mechanics, Inventors and Manufacturers. SEVENTH VOLUME OF THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN. MESSRS. MUNN & CO., American and Foreign Patent Agents, and Publishers of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, respectfully announce to the public that the first number of Volume VII. of this widely circulated and valuable journal will issue on the 20th of September. The new volume will commence with new type, printed upon paper of a heavier texture than that used in the preceding volumes. It is the intention of the publishers to illustrate it more fully, by introducing representations of prominent events connected with the advancement of science; besides furnishing the usual amount of engravings of new inventions. It is published weekly in form for binding, and affords at the end of the year a splendid volume of over four hundred pages, with a copious index, and from five to six hundred engravings, together with a vast amount of practical information concerning the progress of invention and discovery throughout the world. There is no subject of importance to the mechanic, inventor, manufacturer and general reader, which is not treated in the most able manner—the editors, contributors & correspondents being men of the highest attainments. It is in fact the leading scientific journal of the country.

The inventor will find in it a weekly list of American Patent Claims, reported from the Patent Office, an original feature not found in any other weekly publication. Terms:—$2 a year; $1 for six months. All Letters must be post-paid and directed to MUNN & CO., Publishers of the Scientific American, 125 Fulton-street, New-York.

INDUCEMENTS FOR CLUBBING.

Sacred Scenes and Characters.—By the Rev. J. T. Headley. This work may very properly be considered a companion to the "Sacred Mountains," by the same author.—Its object is to illustrate and "render more life-like" the sacred writings. It is not the author's design to supersede the Bible. But his wish is to excite a solicitude to obtain, and to become intimately acquainted and perfectly familiar with its history, doctrines and laws; to know its truth, to imbibe its spirit, feel its power, and partake of its salvation; in a word, to prize in some measure as it deserves, this treasure which is indeed beyond price. We predict for it a circulation far beyond any of the author's former works.

The News, January 7th. Sacred Scenes and Characters.—By the Rev. J. T. Headley, author of the "Sacred Mountains," &c. This work will add greatly to the reputation of the author. In literary merit it more than equals his "Sacred Mountains." Mr. Headley excels in his glowing style and vivid descriptions. His works are a rich treasury of all the sublimity of thought, moving tenderness of passion, and vigorous strength of expression, which are to be found in all the languages by which mortals declare their minds.—Daily Globe, January 5th. Rambles and Sketches.—By Rev. J. T. Headley.—We have not for a long time sat down to a book with more pleasing anticipations, or found those anticipations more fully realized, than in the perusal of the work before us, and we know it will be hailed with gratification by the many admirers of the talented author. His "Napoleon and his Marshals" was, perhaps, as popular, and found at least as many enthusiastic readers as any book that can be mentioned. We think the Rambles & Sketches are destined to be as popular at least as any of his previously published works. There is not a dull chapter in the work, filled as it is with "an infinite variety." The author has ample room and verge enough for the employment of his fine talents to great advantage, and most successfully has he accomplished the task. The biographical sketch of the author is interesting and "well considered," and adds much to the value of the book, which is got up in a very neat and attractive style by the publisher.—Portland Transcript, Dec. 15.

Mr. Headley is one of the most promising writers of this country, and we have here one of his best books—one on which he can safely rest his fame. It possesses the unflagging charms of perfect simplicity and truth.—There is a graceful frankness pervading the composition, which engages the interest of the reader in the author as well as in the subject. His rambles about Rome, Paris and London exhibit a thousand lively traits of an ingenious nature, upon which a man of taste will delight to linger. We predict for this a sale equal to that of any of the author's works. New York News.

The collection is one of which no author need be ashamed. It consists, indeed, of some of Mr. Headley's most brilliant and highly-finished compositions, of those specimens of his abilities by which he may be judged with the greatest safety in his fame as a word-painter and thinker.—N. Y. Tribune, December 17, 1849.

N. B.—The above books will be forwarded to order, at the prices mentioned, free of postage, to any part of the United States
