From the N. Y. Weekly Despatch. Opium Eating.

influence-moral, intellectual, and pecuniary-enlisted in behalf of the great temperance reformation, and alacrity, also | Clark, Johnston B. 2 with which the better portion of all classes of the community engage in philanthropic efforts for the amelioration of suffering humanity, it seems unaccountable that so permicious a habit as that of opium eating should be so entirely overlooked.

Some idea as to the extent of the habit may be inferred from the quantity of Kemerer, Mary the drug retailed in our city. One druggist has stated that two pounds weekly is but a low estimate of his average retail sales of opium and its preparations. Now we have, in this city, at a low estimate, five hundred retail drug stores; of these, the probability is, there as many which sell over as there are which sell under that amout. It may, therefore, be safe to consider two pounds weekly as the average retail sales of these five hundred stores; which will give us the alarming exhibit of 1,000 pounds weekly, or 52, 000 pounds annually, retailed in this city alone-not to mention the quantities purchased by the same class of consumers from wholesale dealers.

Large as this estimate may appear, it will not, we think, seem incredibly so, if we take into consideration that, even a larger quantity is consumed in England, as well as in many other foreign countries.

A London paper reveals the following curious particulars respecting the consumption of opium in Great Britain, viz: A druggist of Ely, Cambridge county, containing some 6,000 inhabitants, has sold three ewt., or 336 pounds, annually. In another small town, (the name of which is not given,) a druggist stated that he had sold 21 cwt. annually, and in other small towns the quantity sold annually is sumption is stated to be 2,240 pounds, So'clock A. Reduced Rates .- The New York and Erie Rail-Road have reduced the rates of transportation on all kinds of goods, boots, shoes, hats and caps between New York and Cincincinatti to $1 20 por 100lbs; on hardware, tea and all kinds of groce- August 19, 1852. ries to $1 per 100lbs.; on all kinds of dry goods to Cleveland, Sandusky, Toledo and Detroit to $1 per 100 lbs.; to Chicago, on dry goods, $1 30 per 100 lbs .--We learn that the road is doing a very large business for the season.

At the Middlesex, England, Sessions, a pickpocket on hearing that he was sentenced to 10 years transportation, seized an ink stand, threw it with great force at the Judge, making a hole in the wall .--The learned Judge calmly took another ink stand and altered the sentence to 15 years.

CROPS IN EASTERN TEXAS .- The editor of the Tyler Telegraph has conversed with a gentleman from Smith county, who informs him the whole county will produce an overwhelming crop of corn: that good upland will produce on an average, forty bushels to the acre, and that there are some lands in the county which would vield seventy-five bushels to the acre.

There are 400,000 Indians in the United States Territories west of the Mississippi. Among them are laboring, one hundred ordained missionaries, besides assistants, and 10,000 Indians are communicants.

GOING IT STRONG .- "In March last, three men(?) in the city of Springfield, IIlinois, agreed together to drink themselves to death. The Register of that place, says the first died in April, the second in May. The survivor, on the happening of the last event, showed signs of breaking the contract, and kept sober two or three days afterwards; but honor revived, and he died in the month of June. This is literally true."

Crops in New York .- The wheat crop of New York, it is said, is all secured, and it turns out well, the yield has been good. Of rye but little has been planted, but it has grown well; oats turn out pretty well, a great amount was planted ; Indian corn has not yielded well, but a very large area is covered with it; potatoes athirds crop only; fruit scarce.
