

Hon. Henry M. Fuller for Congress.

The Whig Conferees appointed for the XIth Congressional District, composed of the counties of Luzerne, Wyoming, Columbia and Montour, met at the House of Wm. Beisell, in Wilkesbarre, on Saturday last, and unanimously concurred in the choice of Mr. Fuller as the Whig Congressional candidate. We feel it to be unnecessary to dwell upon his fitness for the station to which he is about to be recalled. He has just returned from Washington, bearing all the titles of a high minded and devoted member to the good of his country, and he has more than satisfied the expectations of his constituents. Col. Wright, by his most strenuous efforts has again succeeded in obtaining the nomination of the Bob tail faction and will as in 1850, be Mr. Fuller's Competitor. His vile attempts to disfranchise a large portion of the people of his district by endeavoring to set aside the vote of Montour, in order that he might go to Washington "whether or no," are not yet forgotten, and the people pretty generally feel that the greedy aspirants are the ones who ought to be made to wait until they are impelled rather by a sense of duty to seek office, than by a desire to satisfy their own ambition.—Pittston Gazette.

The Awakening.

Diedrick Knickerbocker tells a story of a Dutchman who undertook to jump a wide ditch, and in order to do so, went back so far and ran so furiously that when he reached the brink he was completely blown, and either stuck fast or tumbled in—at all events, he failed to get over.

"Where's your enthusiasm for Gen. Scott?" has been the cry of his antagonists since his nomination. It was in vain that we answered, "It is in the hearts of the People, and will be manifested at the proper time;" because thousands did not neglect their business to wander off hundreds of miles at every call of a Scott Meeting, they flattered themselves that the People felt no enthusiasm for Scott, and would not be called forth to elect him. And the leaders did their best, by bragging, bullying and offering to violate the laws by betting, to make the Whigs faint and give up the contest.

At length they perceive their mistake. The quickness they mistook for apathy was the dictate of security—of confidence.—People saw no use in giving five months to a contest for which six weeks would suffice. They gave the summer to their farms or their business, knowing that for so easy a job as the election of Gen. Scott the Fall would be ample time. And now, having their work in shape to enjoy a little respite, they are taking hold of the Presidential canvass. There are no more complaints of apathy—no more satanic grins over the paucity of Whig Meetings. From Maine to Iowa, from Buffalo to New Orleans, the rally for Scott is spontaneous and universal. The change within a fortnight can hardly be realized except by those who are in the constant receipt of advices from all parts of the country.—And everywhere, as the Scott ranks are formed, our friends are astonished at their strength. Here is CONNECTICUT at our elbow, which the Pierce men have hoped to carry, and where they will still make an earnest fight, but in which they will be beaten (if we are not grossly deceived) as they have not been since 1840. TENNESSEE has been debatable, but not a Scott man in its length and breadth has longer a doubt of it. DELAWARE went against us two years ago; but it will now give Scott a larger majority than it ever gave to any candidate for President. IN MARYLAND, the Whigs have been tickling their adversaries with a present of half a dozen Old Fogies, and for every one of them we shall add at least a hundred to Scott's majority. And so NEW-YORK has been talked of as a doubtful State, which is sheer humbug. Unless PENNSYLVANIA outdoes all expectation, NEW-YORK will give the largest majority for Scott of any State in the Union.

But it is not only in the naturally Whig States that this change is manifested. If the present tide sweeps on, Pierce will hardly get fifty votes. MISSISSIPPI is a doubtful State to day, and will be carried for Scott if his friends there but realize their own strength, as part of them do. ILLINOIS can be carried if the Whigs but work there as those of Delaware, Maryland, Michigan, &c., are now working. After the Election is over, if it be lost, every one will say, "How easily it might have been carried if we had only known how close it was!" And so of Iowa, Wisconsin and other States. Let Scott and Pierce be fairly set before the whole People, and every vote called out, and the majority for Scott will exceed any ever given, except to Harrison.

Friends of Gen. Scott! we know whereof we affirm when we assure you that all goes well. We are no prophet, and cannot say what the Future has in store, but To-Day the prestige of success is all on our side and every indication portends an overwhelming triumph for Old Chippewa. Take hold with us, and place his triumph beyond doubt or contingency.—Tribune.

Judge Woodward and Catholic Jurors and Catholic Witnesses.

Some years ago Judge Woodward was President Judge of the 4th Judicial District. He held a special Court in Cambria county, at which the case of Jackson versus Adams was tried. It involved a large amount of property, and excited much interest in that county. After the case had been tried, and on return of Judge Woodward to Bellefonte, Centre county, inquiry was made of him how the case had been decided. Judge Woodward, in reply, remarked in the presence of two gentlemen, who were acting with the Democratic party that he "WANTED TO HAVE NOTHING MORE TO DO WITH CATHOLIC JURIES AND CATHOLIC WITNESSES." The Democrats have nominated for the office of Supreme Judge a man who does not believe the evidence of a large and respectable portion of his fellow citizens. He does not place any confidence in the oaths of Catholics. We ask whether this is not the fair and legitimate construction to place upon the language of Judge Woodward?—Bombshell.
