THE old, old question as to whether THE old, old question as to whether fall or spring transplanting is better, now comes up again to perplex all who are about to take their first lessons in experience. There are good arguments in favor of each—some against fall transplanting—one against spring transplanting. If transplanting is to be done this fall, do it as soon after the leaves have changed color as possible. Dig holes large enough to admit the roots without cramping them. Work the soil well between the roots and fibers and make the soil compact, so that the roots shall be in contact with the soil. Raise a slight mound about the stem, and over this, in a circle three feet in diameter, place two or three inches of straw, old manure or litter. Currants, raspberries, gooseberries and grapes may be planted with perfect safety until the ground freezes.

LAST Tuesday morning, in the State Supreme Court sitting at Pittsburgh, the counsel for Brandt and Hummel, two of the six men who were convicted of the murder of old man Raber, in Lebanon county, for the insurance which they had on his life, moved for a postponement of the hearing of the motion for a new trial. The grounds for this motion were that Brandt and Hummel were too poor to pay counsel for preparing the case for the Supreme Court, and some time was consumed by their friends in raising the necessary funds; that owing to the large amount of testimony, the printer had been wholly unable to prepare a proper book, and that great injustice would be done these two men, who are now under sentence of death, if the argument was called up now. The District Attorney of Lebanon county protested against the delay, and asked the Court not to grant it, but Chief Justice Sharswood announced that the case would go over until January.

be heard and decided. Thus far the Supreme Court has been very slow to pronounce upon the validity of that part of the reconstruction legislation the constitutionality of which is in dispute. But events have so shaped themselves that the issue can now scarcely be avoided. Early in the term, and most likely on the second day, the Virginia case relating to the rights of negroes to be tried by juries of their own race is to be called. This case is to be argued by the Attorney Generals of Virginia and the United States respectively. The question as to the validity of the election laws is to come before the Court in connection with the case of the Cincinnati election judge and the habeas corpus cases of the Maryland election judges. It is well that these important questions are likely to be adjudicated before the Presidential election is upon us.

Spellacy, of Petrolia, withdrew when he yet had a chance of winning and his withwrawal was no small disappointment, not only to himself but to a good many who had backed him for place. It seemed a little curious that after he had sprawled along in his ungainly fashion for 340 miles without showing distress he should have suddenly stopped, and he was interviewed in his room at the Putnam House to learn the reason. "It's the doctor's orders; I look all right, don't I?" he exclaimed, leaping out of bed and executing a war dance with startling vigor considering the size of the room and the length of his limbs. "You see, I'm supple and active still. There's nothing the matter with my legs and feet. But the doctor says if I go on the track again he won't be answerable for the consequences. I'm likely to have a hemorrhage of the lungs." His lungs were indeed congested and there was imminent peril. His "weak spot" had been found in time and he escaped, by withdrawing, from what might have been a fatal result.

MR. NICHOLAS BAGGS, Manager Pittsburgh Branch Store:

Dear Sir-I have concluded to close our Branch Store in Pittsburgh at the end of the present lease, which expires with this season.

The people of Pittsburgh and vicinity gave us a cordial welcome and a most hearty support, and this makes it harder to shut up our house; but the fact is, the store room, 29 Fifth avenue, never suited us, and we were unable to get exactly what we wanted. And more than that, our business is increasing so rapidly that we find it to our interest to CONSOLIDATE OUR EF-FORTS and mass all our best clerks. You may have heard by this time that we have secured the property adjoining us on Chestnut street, and are now fitting it up for a NEW DEPARTMENT for a BOYS' AND YOUNG MEN'S CLOTHING DEPARTMENT. You will also be glad to know that business is "booming" at OAK HALL—OUR OLD standby—where, for nearly 20 YEARS we have done the LARGEST BUSINESS in the United States. WE SHALL KEEP THE STOCK UP IN FULL ASSORT—MENT UNTIL THE CLOSE OF THE HOUSE, BUT YOU MAY MARK THE PRICES LOW ALL THE WAY THROUGH, as we prefer to sell everything out clean. Yours truly,
