The Titusville Herald gives the exceptions, every district shows an increase in developments, not only in wells completed but in rigs up and building, and wells drilling. Producers have taken advantage of good weather, and under the stimulation of in every direction, and completed 220 wells, having a production of 5,900 barrels; besides 343 wells drilling and 391 rigs up or building to be used in increasing the production of the month

The lower oil field was of so little importance last month, except on the Hunter farm at Byrom Centre, that it is not necessary to use its figures in connection with the summing up of further operations. The Bradford field is the only one which effects the market. In December 188 wells were com-pleted in that district, with a production of 5,657 barrels, and 657 rigs are scrutiny of buyers. now up or building and wells drilling. 40 more wells were completed, increasing the production 1,592 barrels more than the November wells. The production also exceeds that of October by 820 barrels. These figures our readers will not apply only to the Bradford field. The following table will also show the number of actually new rigs and wells started in that field during December:
Rigs and wells drilling December 1......
Wells finished in December.....

Rigs and wells drilling January 1......667
Less wells and rigs unfinished in December..427

The greater average per well arises from the small number of dry holes and the large strikes on the Rew farm Kansas branch are the four districts noted, while the same points show a decrease in rigs and wells drilling, though it is slight. There is a decrease in the production below that of November in the East and West branches, Tram Hollow, Indian and Mark exercise. Meek creeks.

A PERILOUS PLUNGE.

[Pittsburgh Gazette, Jan. 2.]

A frightful plunge was made yesterday morning about two o'clock by one John Brown, of Temperanceville. He had been in the city, vigorously and energetically getting ready to turn over a new leaf on the 1st of January, 1880, and after having a good deal of fun with the boys in the Diamond al-1880, and after having a good deal of fun with the boys in the Diamond alley and other popular resorts, began to be word big word by the boys in the Diamond alley and other popular resorts, began to be word by the boys in the Diamond alley and the Diamond alley and the boys in the Diamond alley and the boys in the Diamond alley and the boys in the Diamond alley and the Diamon wend his way to Temperanceville When he reached the approach to the Point bridge his gait was very un- JAS. T. M'JUNKIN, Gen. Ag't steady, and as a result he staggered and fell over the abutment into the turbid waters below, a distance of fully sixty feet. The cold bath sobered John sufficiently to make him under-John sufficiently to make him under-stand that he had got into deep water, and that he would have to swim for his life. He was too much befuddled, however, to take the bearings, and he struck out at random, his course chancing to be directly down the Ohio. Being an expert swimmer, Brown had no difficulty in keeping afloat, so he ploughed the waves like an ocean ploughed the waves like an ocean steamer, until he reached a point nearly opposite Saw Mill run, about a mile below the bridge, when he had completely recovered his senses, and, finding he had passed his home, he speedily made a landing, none the worse for his perilous trip—in fact, something better, for he started home very drunk and got there sober.

CURIOUS PROPOSALS .- When Lord of travels by Miss Beaufort, he little dreamed that before long he would write to the young authoress: "I was thinking the other day about a communication from the Emperor Akbar to the King of Portugal, which contained a request for copies of the holy books of the Christians, and in which the following sentence occurs: "In the world of humanity, which is the mirror and reflection of the world of God, there is nothing equal to love or comparable to human affection.' For many years I have felt and known this, though never said it till to-day to any one.
When you next write, please give me the possessive pronoun of the first person." Surely never was a declaration made in a quainter fashion, saving perhaps by the Scotch beadle who led the manse housemaid to the church yard, and pointing with his finger, stam-mered: "My folk lie there, Mary, wad ye like to lie there?" Or the lugubriously humorous Irish lover who took his girl to see the family vault, and then there asked her if she would like to lay her bones beside his bones!— Chambers' Journal.

chism. He wears an air of melan-choly. "What's the matter, dear?" asks Aunt Augusta. "Monsieur le Cure is always scolding me! To-day he asked me how many Gods there were." "Well, you told him one, I suppose?" "Oh, aunty! I told him and that didn't seem to satisfy —Our regiment was charging up a side hill, raked fore and aft with batteries and sharpshooters. One fellow near me dropped on his hands and knees, and crawled on in that position toward the enemy, when the Colonel caught him in the rear with the flat of of his sabre. "Get up, you darned fool. Do you think you are cavalry?"

-"Pa," said a little boy, "a horse is worth a great deal more, isn't it, after it is broke?" "Yes, my son. Why do you ask that question?" "Because I broke the new rocking horse you gave me this morning."

-What is the difference between hornet and a flea? One difference is that when you put your finger on a flea it isn't there, but when you put your finger on a hornet it is there. A Maine editor was paralyzed while sitting in church last Sunday, and an esteemed contemporary thinks the novelty of the situation was too much for him. NEW
