NEARLY 300,000,000 postal cards were used in the United States last year. They are made at Holyoke, Mass., by a private concern, under the general supervision of a Government officer. The work is nearly all done by machinery, even to counting and putting them up in packages of twenty-five. The use of postal cards is said to have driven many makers of writing paper and envelopes out of business.

At the paper mills of Crane Bros., Coltaville, Mass., large quantities of banknote paper are made for the Government. The strictest inspection as to quality is observed, a spot or speck no larger than a pin head being sufficient to condemn a sheet, and the employes arriving and departing are carefully watched. Armed guards patrol the premises and grounds day and night, and no approach to them is permitted. Twenty-four women were sent from the Treasury Department as counters and examiners, and are each able to count 30,000 sheets daily. The precautions are necessary to prevent duplication of sheets for dishonest purposes.

THRIFT is a great thing. What especially endeared Mrs. John Gilpin to the worthy linen draper, her husband, was the pleasing discovery

She had a Gugal mind."
She had a Gugal mind. She has had a first-class political rumpus; has treated herself to two simultaneous Governors, two Legislatures, and a Major General commanding; has made herself for several weeks the cynostre of the country's eyes—and all for the insignificant sam of $20,000. The faithless wife and paramour met at Dallas, in the same State, where they have lived ever since as man and wife. Hertolzer opened a grocery there. One day a Houston friend came across him and his assumed wife and informed Speilman, who arrived there on the 19th inst. Hertolzer got an inkling that his outraged partner was coming and made his escape. Spellman had his wife arrested, but after a few hours she was released, and the probability is they returned home together.

A YOUNG man by the name of William Kotz, coachman for Mr. Charles McClellan, came to my stare one morning complaining that his feet hurt him very badly, and expressing fears that they were frost-bitten. He had in vain tried to get relief by consulting physicious, and had endeavored, without success, to ease the paine by rubbing his feet with snow and ice, the remedy applied in such cases. Being exposed a great deal to the cold by his occupation his feet got worse daily, until one day he fainted in the street. A few days after he again came to my store and showed me his feet. I have seen a great many sores in my life, but nothing to equal this, and was afraid the poor felicw would lose his limbs. He asked me for ST. JACOBS OIL; but at first I refused, as I did not wish to take the responsibility upon myself, not being a great admirer of so-called Patent-Medicines. However, some friends, who happened to be in the store at the time, begged me give the ST. JACOBS OIL to the sufferer; so we rubbed his feet well with the OIL, and he took the remainder with him. After nine days the same man again came into my store, perfectly well, and requested me to write to you of this most wonderful cure; he also stated, that two other persons had been cured of Rheumatism by the same bottle which helped him.

A Great Mistake Corrected A Great Mistake Corrected.

In our issue of Jan. 28th, under the heading "A Sbrewd Clergyman," we gave an account of a Rev. Lane, of Kensico, who had been arraigned for kissing some of his female members, and, to our great surprise, we learned that either through ignorance or malice, or both, some persons started the impression that Kensico was merely a fictitious name, and that the article was intended as a malicious drive at Rev.. S. Lane, of this county. And now, we consider it due the latter, as a Christian minister, to say that the article was copied from the New York Stan, and has reference to Rev. Lane, of Kensico, N. Y. Our mistake in the issue of Jan. 28th was the omission of N. Y. after Kensico, leaving it indefinite, and our second mistake, in our issue of Feb. 18th, under the heading "A Great Commotion," arose from our not knowing that others had first applied, or supposed it to apply, to Rev. S. Lane. We very much regret the indefiniteness which gave room for this annoyance, both to him and to us. The CITIZEN is above any willful wrong, and we believe that Rev. S. Lane is above the reach of any real harm from the ignorance of malice of those who oppose his denuncations malice of those who oppose his denunciation of sin. We did not know such a minister wa in this county until this matter arose.

Editors Citizen-It is not often we trouble the type or invade the editorial anctum, but under the circumstances pardon the digression from a general place in your valuable paper. Our town is growing smaller day by day, on account of the oil operations seeking more prolific fields. But this is not our only loss. Our esteemed and much-respected young friend, Dr. R. L. Patterson, has also left us for a new field (if not better,) one which we hope will not be so laborious to him, and, although it may be his gain, we feel deeply the loss of one who, by his gentlemanly deportment, genial disposition and many humane acts, added to his professional ability, had endeared himself to his numerous patrons and to the community at large. His great success in the treatment of that dreadful scourge, "diphtheria," as well as other acute diseases, had made his name a household word throughout the whole neighborhood, beside a widespread reputation in the adjoining county of Armstrong. In our loss the only consolation we have is in his gain, and the assurance that the citizens of East Liverpool, Ohio, where he has located, will have a physician well worthy of their esteem and patronage, and we hoereak for our friend a sucalthough it may be his gain, we feel worthy of their esteem and patronage, and we bespeak for our friend a successful career. Postmaster General Key has addressed a communication to the House Post-Office Committee in response to a resolution calling upon him for information in regard to the double postalcards and returning letter envelopes authorized by the Forty-fifth Congress, and his reason for not adopting them He adverts to the restrictions imposed by the law on the payment of any more money for designs, and says that all designs for such cards as possess any merit have been patented. Moreover the contract under which the single postal cards are furnished would, in the opin ion of the Assistant Attorney General, cover all postal-cards to be used by the Government until the expiration of the contract. This would compel the department to accept the terms of a single manufacturer. Further, as the present system of postal-cards has proved merely a private accommoda tion and has not increased the revenue, the department does not favorably re-gard the policy of opening the door to further encroachment upon the 3-cent postage rate. The Postmaster General does not regard the double-letter en-
