An exchange suggests that the several hundreds of young men who will graduate from the medical colleges this spring should take a course in Hygiene, as while the great art of ing disease in an old one, the still greater art of preventing it is yet in its infancy. But as preventing dis-ease is hardly in a doctor's line of business, in the present order of things, we do not think the medical students will take the proffered advice, though it would pay a community, and pay it well, to hire the right kind of a man to look after its general health, examine the water, milk and liquor they drink, food they eat, houses they live in, and a thousand other things.

SCRIENER's is the only American periodical that has as yet established a large circulation abroad; the edition in England being 10,500. It now enters upon its second decade, and the work of winning a second hundred thousand at home. Its readers to day are estimated at more than half a million. The publishers of SCRIENER announce that all new subscribers after this date who take the back numbers, beginning November last, will receive instead of the six unbound numbers the bound volume, November, '79, to April, '80 (containing all of "Success with Small Fruits," and the opening chapters of "Peter the Great,' "The Grandissimes," and "Louisiana,") with-out extra charge. The subscription price is $4.00 a year. $4.00 a year
