Our selected field is Gar-field.

Garfield and victory must be the rallying cry.

Crawford County Republicans nominate tomorrow.

The nomination is received with the greatest satisfaction on all sides.

"I go in for that nomination with all my heart."—Senator Edmunds.

Twenty-eight years ago, Garfield was a driver on the canal in Ohio.

"The nomination is an exceedingly fortunate one."—Senator Windom.

The general expression is that "the ring" is bursted, county and State.

Our Democratic friends are disappointed. They wanted Grant nominated.

We shall hear no more of a third term—the result at Chicago settled that question forever.

Gen. Garfield is a Christian, a scholar, a statesman and a soldier, as his whole past life proves.

There are no longer Grant Republicans and Blaine Republicans. They are all Garfield Republicans.

The Butler Citizen will be furnished from now until January 1, 1881, for 75 cents. Send in your names.

"Maine's vote is cast for you with my cordial concurrence."—James G. Blaine's telegram to Jas. A. Garfield.

Carl Schurz, Murat Halstead, the St. Louis Anti-Third Termers, Prohibitionists, and every shade of Republicans will support Garfield.

Subscribe for the Citizen, the only Republican paper in the county that is supporting the whole county ticket as nominated at the Republican primary.

Garfield went to Chicago to nominate a man for President, and got nominated himself. That is better than going for wool and coming back shorn.

The Greenbackers, in National Convention last week, nominated General James B. Weaver, of Iowa, for President, and E. J. Chambers, of Texas, for Vice President.

One of the features in the coming Fair to be held in Butler in September next, is that all premiums awarded will be paid the parties entitled to them before leaving the grounds.

The Court is disposing of cases in the Quarter Sessions this week with great rapidity. Judge McJunkin is presiding and Associates Storey and Dadds present. Full proceedings next week.

Gen. Garfield has been a member of Congress for nearly twenty years, and yet is comparatively poor, which of itself is a sufficient answer to two of the three charges already made against him by the Democrats.

Garfield was everybody's second choice. He wasn't the first choice simply because he was not, formally, a candidate. Everybody, of all parties, must acknowledge his ability and consistency as a public man.

The Mercer County Republicans meet on next Tuesday to nominate their county ticket. The nominations are made under the old delegate system, and the present County Convention will contain 161 delegates.

Mr. Gordon, of Mercer, the other delegate from this district to the Chicago Convention, entered the Grant ship just in time to go down with it, having voted for Grant on the last ballot, that nominated Garfield.

Garfield's nomination was a spontaneous and unthought of outburst of popular confidence in him as the man to heal all dissensions and solidify the party for the great fight.

His own party, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the lakes to the gulf recognized him as the man to lead.

Some persons are said to take off a fine moss that decorates a grave in one of our Cemeteries and apply it to the graves of their friends. This is affection for the dead at other peoples expense.

We don't believe there is in public life to-day, in this or any other country, an abler, more consistent, more upright man than James A. Garfield. He is in every sense a true representative of this free and enlightened Republic.

The Prohibitionists of the United States will meet in National Convention at Cleveland, Ohio, to-morrow, 17th, inst., to nominate a ticket for President and Vice President.

The Democrats come next, at Cincinnati next week, where it is feared cold water will be at a discount.

On the 14th of January last, President Hinsdale, of Hiram College, said to his students, referring to Gen. Jas. A. Garfield: "To-day a man will be elected to the United States Senate, at Columbus, who, when a boy, was once the bell-ringer in this school and afterward its President." And he might have added, "and after that, President of the United States."

The dead-lock at Chicago could not possibly have terminated more happily for the Republican party than it did in the nomination of Gen. Garfield, a man on whom all factions and phases of opinion in the party can unite, and on whom all has already united.

Even the Democrats are compelled to acknowledge his ability, unprecedented popularity and high character as a man who has risen from the most humble sphere in life by his own industry and integrity.

The Butler Eagle, edited by Thomas Robinson, the defeated nominee for Congress, and published by his son, E. D. Robinson, has placed at its mast-head the names of all the successful nominees of the late Republican primaries save that of Hon. J. D. McJunkin. Why Mr. McJunkin's name is left off, is manifest. Both father and son feel very sore over the defeat of the former, and resort to such petty meanness for revenge. Yet they hoist the names of the rest of the ticket, who were elected by the same votes Mr. McJunkin was. "Consistency, thou art a jewel." Blood in this case is thicker than water and a great deal stronger than fidelity to the party.—Patriot Record, 12th inst.

FOR THE CAMPAIGN. THE CITIZEN will be sent to single subscribers from now to the first of January next for 75 cents; in clubs of four or more, to one postoffice, for fifty cents each. All the important events and matter of what promises to be a very exciting Presidential election will be given the readers of the CITIZEN. Now is the time to commence taking a campaign paper. Friends who interest themselves in extending our circulation will be thanked and remembered.

All Looking Fine. Never before have we seen the forest trees dressed in a richer verdure than at present, in the fields presenting promise of a greater harvest. The wheat fields of Butler county look better than for many years past and a good crop is most promising. The same may be stated of the rye, corn, oats, potatoes, apples, peaches, grapes, small berries, etc. The late rains have revived and restored the meadows and the grass crop, that was generally feared would be light, will now be heavy. In a word, a finer prospect for everything has not been seen in this county for years.

DEMOCRATS AT CINCINNATI. This day a week, Wednesday, 23rd inst., the Democrats will meet at Cincinnati to nominate their candidates for the coming Presidential race. Whither they will be seems uncertain. Tilden all along, it was thought, would again receive the nomination for the Presidency, but the overthrow of Grant by the Republican National Convention will, we incline to think, affect his chances. They will now naturally look around for their best "dark horse" as the Republicans did. Had Grant been nominated no doubt Tilden would have been. But Garfield's nomination has frightened them, and they will hesitate before taking Tilden now.

READ HIS LIFE. An interesting sketch of the life and wonderful success of James A. Garfield will be found upon the first page of the CITIZEN. It reads like a romance; but is another illustration of the wisdom and beneficence of our Republican form of Government, the highest honors of which are open and free to the humblest. The great secret, however, of Gen. Garfield's success in public life is due to his own toil and study. He has been a great student, and from his own efforts is a man of the most scholarly attainments. It is said that when leaving the Capitol or returning thereto books were almost always in his hands or on his arms. Of how few public men can this be said. He was always well posted on all questions, a ready debater, fine and able speaker, and finally a leader in Congress. Like Lincoln, he owes all to his own industry, is a man "of the people, by the people, and for the people." The Chicago Convention, in looking all around for him as the least objectionable "dark horse," as the term went, or man to compromise and heal all differences, as in the case of Lincoln in 1860. It was a fortunate selection and there can be but little doubt that he will be elected next President of these United States.

CONGRATULATING THE NOMINEE.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Gen. Garfield was serenaded at the Grand Pacific Hotel this evening by an immense and enthusiastic throng, but declined to respond to the ovation further than bow his thanks. During the evening his headquarters was the scene of busy congratulations. Over 600 telegrams were received from every point in the Union, including the following:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, June 8. General James A. Garfield, Chicago. You will receive no heartier congratulation to-day than mine. This both for your own and your country's good. B. HAYES.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8. Hon. James A. Garfield. Accept my hearty congratulations. The country is to be congratulated as well as you. C. SCHURZ.

WASHINGTON, June 8. Hon. James A. Garfield, Chicago. I congratulate you with my heart upon your nomination as President of the United States. You have saved the Republican party from a great peril and secured the continued success of Republican principles. JOHN M. GREER.

BLAINE CONGRATULATES GARFIELD. WASHINGTON, June 8.—Senator Blaine signed the following telegram to Gen. Garfield this afternoon as soon as he received the announcement of Maine's vote on the final ballot:

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, 1:45 P. M. Hon. James A. Garfield, Chicago. Your nomination is the greatest honor yet conferred upon me, and I accept it with my hearty concurrence. I hope it will aid in securing your nomination and assuring victory to the Republic. JAMES G. BLAINE.

Gen. Garfield replied as follows: CHICAGO, June 8. Hon. J. G. Blaine, Washington. Accept my thanks for your generous dispatch. JAMES A. GARFIELD.

After the nomination was announced Mr. Blaine rode to the Capitol in a carriage with General Sherman. He remained in the Senate some three hours, taking active part in the running debates of the afternoon.

THE PLATFORM ADOPTED. A long discussion took place on the platform, which was finally adopted as given below.

The Republican party in National Convention assembled, at the end of twenty years since the Federal Government was first committed to its charge, submits to the people of the United States this brief report of its administration by and for the people.

It has raised the value of our paper currency from thirty-eight per cent. to the par of gold. It has restored upon a solid basis the payment in coin for all the National obligations, and has given us a currency absolutely good and legal and equal in every part of our extended country. It has lifted the credit of the Nation from the point where six per cent. bonds sold at 85, to that where four per cent. bonds are eagerly sought for at a premium.

Under its administration, railways have increased from thirty-one thousand miles in 1850 to more than eighty-two thousand miles in 1879. Our foreign trade has increased from seven hundred millions to eleven hundred and fifty millions in the same time, and our exports, which were twenty millions less than our imports in 1860, were two hundred and sixty-four millions more than our imports in 1879.

Without resorting to loans, it has since the war closed, defrayed the ordinary expenses of the Government besides the accruing interest on the public debt and disbursed annually more and more.

The Republican party, adhering to a principle affirmed by its last National Convention of respect for the constitutional rule covering appointments, adopts the declaration of President Hayes, that the reform of the civil service shall be thoroughly radical and complete. [Applause.] To this end it demands the co-operation of the legislative with the executive department of the Government, and that Congress shall so legislate that fitness, ascertained by proper practical tests, shall admit to the public service. The tenure of administrative officers, except those through which the distinctive policy of party in power is carried out, shall be made permanent, ending only by death, or such other cause as may be deemed necessary for the good conduct of subordinates shall accompany the power of appointment.

A Sound Horror.

Some time between half past eleven and a quarter of twelve, of last Friday night, the steamer Stonington, of the Stonington line, while on her way to New York ran into the steamer Narragansett, of the same line. A dense fog prevailed. Both steamers were loaded with passengers. The Narragansett was struck amidships on the starboard side and raked, it is said, clear to the wheel house. A flow of water poured in and swamped the steamer. In less than five minutes she sank to the main deck and grounded. Shortly after five broke out, from the explosion of the gas tank, it is believed, and in a few moments wrapped the whole boat in flames. Terrible and heartrending scenes occurred. Soon all who could escape were struggling in the water. The Stonington sent out boats and rescued a number. The steamer City of New York also assisted materially in saving life. Of 350 on board, it is believed that 50 perished.

THE STRAY LAW.

We publish the following synopsis of the law relating to strays, as a general answer to frequent inquiries for information in reference to it:

Any person taking up a stray must give notice to the township clerk, with marks, within four days; neglect to do so subjects the owner to a fine. Neglect to give notice to the owner, if known, warrants a forfeiture of all damages, and entitles the owner to the stray, without recompense to the party injured. The township clerk for making entry of strays shall receive for each head of horse kind, 50 cents; each head of cattle, 25 cents; for every sheep, 6 cents, and for every pig, 3 cents. Neglect to give notice to the owner, if known, warrants a forfeiture of all damages, and entitles the owner to the stray, without recompense to the party injured.
