There is a great deal of humor and of truth in this complaint. At the same time it might be said that every accession of a new degraded criminal makes the old degraded criminal worse; and that when a man of good education, from good society, goes into prison he makes the harden-ed ones feel less like reforming. —Eugene Miller, Esq., returned to Butler from his visit to his folks in Louisiana, last Friday. He reports the crops of that State, sugar-cane, cotton and rice, to be in a flourish-ing condition. The sugar-cane, the principal crop of the State, is not yet ready for cutting, and the cotton is in blossom and boles forming. The weather there is warm, much warmer than it is here. The darkies do most of the manual labor on the plantations. As for polities, every-body is of course for Hancock, including those darkies who were disappointed by Grant's de-feat at Chicago. -Among the productions of this county, one of the largest is that of wool, and we see no reason why a large woolen mill, one that would employ three or four hundred hands would not pay here. A paper mill also, would, we think, be a profitable investment, but there does not seem to be enough capital in town for anyone to engage in either enterprise.

The State Census—How the Popula-tion has Increased in the Differ-ent Counties.

The accompanying table of censu returns shows approximately the growth of Pennsylvania during the last ten years. In most cases the fig-ures used in the table were copied from the papers filed by enumerators with the Prothonotaries at the various county seats. In other instances the ectimates of the county papers are given, the estimates being based upon partial returns. The table also contains the official return by counties of the population in 1870, the increase since 1870, and a column showing the percentage of increase. There are 67 counties in the State. Of these Philadelphia leads, Allegheny follows, then comes Lancaster, Schuylkill, Berks and Luzerne, all of which count more than 100,000 people. But three or four counties it will be seen have a greater increase than Butler.

-A useful hint to cooks was given

-A useful fill to cooks was given at a recent sanitary convention in Grand Rap-ids, Michigan. It was pointed out that by add, ing sugar to sour fraits during the cooking pro-cess, the greater part of the cane sugar was converted by the aid of the acid into grape su-gar, which does not possess half the sweetening power. By cooking the fruit first, and then ad-ding the sugar to an agreeable sweetness, a very great deal of sugar might be saved.

The general range in the northern States is stated to be from 27 to 45 inches.

->TESTIMONIALS --

From H. E. BowLES, M. D., Hammonton, N. J., Editor South Jersey Republican. My attention was called to FRANK SIDDALLS SOAP from an advertisement in my own paper, and its uselin my house for nearly a year, according to the directions, has proved that its remarkance properties have not been overstated. For removi-ing printing link it is invaluable, while for toll and shaving it is the best Soap I have ever seen.

for the hands. Then take one piece out at a time on the wash-board, rub the Soap lightly over it, roll it up and put it back into the same tub, and so on with each piece until all have the Soap rubbed on them. Then go away and let them soak at least twenty minutes, without touching them, when the dirt will all be loosened, and a very little rubbing on the wash-board, out of that one suds, will make them perfectly clean, being particular to turn each piece while washing so as to get at the seams. Then wash lightly on the wash-board, through a lukewarm rinse-water (without any Soap,) so as to get the dirty suds out. Then put through a lukewater, and on the line, without scalding or boiling a single piece. Afterward put flannels and colored pieces to soak, and wash them exactly the same way.

It is important not to heat the wash-water in a tin, brass or copper kettle. A tea-kettle

From M as. E. STOCK WELL, Hammonton, N. J. FRANK SIDDALLS SOAP has been used in my house for the last seven months, and by follow-ing the printed directions, we find it to do every-thing claimed on the wrappers. We have not scalded or bolled a single article, and the clokes are whiter and nuccer than when suched in the old ucay.
