THE ADULTERATION OF MEDICINES.

The great importance of protecting drugs from adulterations, substitutions and deterierations must be manifest to everybody. If the physician cannot rely on the quality and strength of the medicinal drugs he prescribes, if there is no standard for them maintained by all apothecaries, he is, of course, voy much at sea in his treatment of disease. Take the case of opium and rubuser, for instance, two drugs of the most common and extensive use. If the case of opium and rubuser, for instance, two drugs of the most common and extensive use. Such articles are, of course, obtainable, but they command good tuncertain strength, doses which produce the effects the physician desires when standard articles are used may rather aggravate the symptoms be would alleviate, and bring pain instead of quiet to bis patient, when the opium is adulterated and weakened by substitutions. Rhubarb, when of the standard quality, produces a first and a secondary effect which are both of value, but when it is poor and adulterated and weakened by an experision. But no such law as a scondary effect which are both of value, but when it is poor and adulterated and weakened by substitutions. It is true that in all our large cities there are many reputable druggists who may be trusted to send out only the best quality of drugs, so far as they can obtain it. But the physician cannot always know that his prescription is to be filled by one of these druggists. Moreover, inferior drugs are often sold to the country apothecaries, who may have a custom which is more eager for low prices than particular about getting articles of the best sort. cannot always know that his prescription is to be filled by one of these drugglists. Moreover, inferior drugs are often sold to the country apothecaries, who may have a custom which is more eager for low prices than particular about getting articles of the best sort. The buyer is unable to detect the difference in qualities, and therefore it is easy to palm off inferior goods upon him. We have in this country several large manufacturing pharmacies which are known to almost every physician, and whose names give assurance that their preparations are of the highest merit, but there are others which turn out goods of an indifferent sort to meet the demand for low prices even at the sacrifice of quality; and that demand is always large.

Mr. C. Lewis Diehl has just prepared for the National Board of Health a very exhaustive report on deteriorations, adulterations, and substitutions of drugs in the United States. He precents in it a classified list of the inferiorities and a history of the business of falisification which are of much interest. It seems that previous to the passage by Congress, in 1848, of the law regulating the importation of drugs, she United States afforded a great market for damaged and adulterated drugs, sent out by European establishments, which collected and manufactured them especially for his country. Indeed, Dr. M. I. Bailey, the first examiner of drugs appointed for New York, is authority for the statement that nearly half of those imported into New York before the year 1848 were spurious. In one of his reports he speaks of a certain exclusively devoted to the adulteration and imitation of the most important medicinal chemicals, all intended for sale in the United States. The law of 1848 shutting out their goods, members of the firm subsequently transferred their dishonest manufacture to this country. And as late as 1871 certain wholesale houses were pointed for Sales and the service of the first was a regarded in the business of adulteration and imitation of the most important medicinal ch certain wholesale houses were pointed out by Prof. Remington as regularly engaged in the business of adulteration.

Powdered drugs offer the best opportunities for the mixing of foreign substances, and formulas for the preparation of the falsified articles are still in more or less extensive use. Volatile oils are now adulterated to a shameful extent, and Mr. E. Q. Squibb, the well-known pharmacist, reports that of eleven commercial specimens of ether not one in any way approached the official requirements, which are wholly the ordinary ether is often quite unclean. If we run through the long list of drugs given by Mr. Diehl, we find that nearly every one is subject to deteriorations due to natural changes for the worse on account of age or exposure, or is liable contain impurities and contaminations introduced either during the collection of the drug or by the process of it manufacture, or is frequently open to suspicion because of adulterations which are wholly the work of design. Care must also be taken by the buyer to guard against the substitution of other substances, due sometimes to design.

Take a few of the drugs of most the substitution of other substances, due sometimes to design.

Opium sometimes contains 20 per cent. of foreign matter, chiefly lead, and the powder is adulterated to the extent of 50 per cent. chiefly lead, and the powder is adulterated to the extent of 50 per cent. Besides, much inferior opium is in the market because of the indiscriminate sale of "prize goods" by the Government. As to rhubarb, it is always more or less difficult to obtain a good quality of the drug in the market. Rhubarb rejected at our Custon Houses has been at times returned to England, where it is ground up with a superior article, and afterwards ad-England, where it is ground up with a superior article, and afterwards admitted as a powder. Again, the powder is often made here of inferior rhubarb, and rendered bright by turmeric; but select Chinese rhubarb may always be had at advanced prices. Jalap which comes from Mexico, varies much in quality, according to the sea-son and the care used in its collection son and the care used in its collection and selection. But it is also often adulterated with the tubers of other plants. Much inferior jalap is in the market. The Custom House reports have shown that a large proportion of the jalap imported into this county comes from Europe, and only a small proportion direct from Mexico. The European (chiefly the English) market absorbs the best lots, and turns the inferior ones adrift over here. Socotrine aloes of good quality are very scarce. Extraneous impurities are often introduced by the process of preparation, and inferior grades are substituted for those of more value. Great care has to be exercised in purchasing the prepared grades, both whole and as powder.

Adulterations and substitutions like these, to a greater or less extent, run through the list of drugs given in this report. And it is not the crude drug and the imported preparations only that are subject to such injurious treatment. When the careless drug collections adulterated with the tubers of other whole and as powder.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

IT is a most agreeable dressing, which is at once harmless and effectual, for pre-serving the hair. It restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray, light, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use thin hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured. It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to brashy, weak, of otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable. The Vigor cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of dandruff; and, by its cooling, stimulating, and soothing properties, it heals most if not all of the humors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible. As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair

The Vigor is incomparable. It is colorless, contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil white cambric. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article for the toilet it is economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.

a woman's health often break down at an early age? Put a man at the wesh-tub, let him get heated from the hot suds until every pore is opened; then let him stand over the filthy steam that comes from scalding and boiling clothes, that are full of sweat and exhalations from the skin, and his health too would break down before long; and yet this most terrible ordeal is what has to go through with on wash-day; and, besides, with her clothing wet from perspiring a the hot work, she has to risk her life by going out in the air to hang up the clothes. Even those not at work are in the unhealthy atmosphere; its smell, so apparent to visitors, showing that it finds its way through the house,—the family, however, often becoming so accustomed to the peculiar odor from its own wash as not to notice it. These facts readily explain why so many women suffer with colds, rheumatism, weak nerves, or neuralgia, and while yet young in years, and physicians and boards of health cannot draw attention too strongly to the injurious effects of the usual way of washing, with its necessary steam and scalding or boiling to get the clothes pure and sweet-smelling, especially as its without doubt often the direct cause of those dreadful diseases, diphtheria, consumption, and typhoid fever. First, put the white clothes in a tub of water, only made warm enough to be comfortable First, put the white clothes in a tub of water, only made warm enough to be constituted for the hands. Then take one piece out at a time on the wash-board, rub the Soap lightly over it, roll it up and put it back into the same tub, and so on with each piece until all have the Soap rubbed on them. Then go away and let them soak at least twenty minutes, without touching them, when the dirt will all be loosened, and a very little rubbing on without touching them, when the dirt will all be loosened, and a very little rubbing on the constitution of the constitution the wash-board, out of that one suds, will make them perfectly clean, being particular to turn each piece while washing so as to get at the seams. Then wash lightly on the washturn each piece while washing so as to get at the seams. Then washing so to get at the seams board, through a lukewarm rinse-water (without any Soap,) so as to get the dirty suds out. Then put through blue-water, and on the line, without scalding or boiling a single piece. Afterward put flannels and colored pieces to soak, and wash them exactly the same way. It is important not to heat the wash-water in a tin, brass or copper kettle. A tea-kettle will heat enough water for a large wash with this Soap.

Just Think What You will Save by this Easy Way of Washing! No Wash-boiler! No Steam! No Smell of Suds through the House! It has the remarkable Property of keeping the Dish-Cloth, Wash-Rag and Sponge always Sweet, and of Washing Freely in Hard Water. --- SOLD BY GROCERS

A NEW DEPARTURE! BEST PLOW IN THE WORLD!

THE SYRACUSE CHILLED PLOW CO. of Syracuse, N. Y.

Are now putting on the market a Plow that is as much superior to any Plow heretofore made as the Plows of the past few years have been superior to those made half a century in use.

It obviates all the objections made to any It of ristes all the objections made to any other Plow.

In addition it embraces several new features of the greatest value, for which we have obtained exclusive Patents.

Its Beam, Clevis, Jointer Standard and Wheel Standard will be STEEL, and its mold board will be a composition of Steel and Iron chilled under a process for which we have also obtained an exclusive Patent. It will be called

THE SYRACUSE CHILLED STEEL PLOW

A inst-class steel Plow, made in the ori-dinary way, full rigged, retails for twenty-two dollars. Inferior Steel Plows retail from six-teen to nineteen dollars. The price of our new Plow will be but Seventeen Dollars, and it will be the cheapest Agricultural Implement ever sold. Its mold board will outwear three of the very best kinds of the ordinary steel mold boards.

It will scour in soils where all steel plows with this Plow will be introduced a corre-gated Plow Point and Jointer Point, on which we have also obtained a Patent, and which is also a great improvement, both as regards strength and wear.

The Jointer can be shifted so as to take more or less land, and also more or less pitch, and it can always be kept on a line with the The wheel will run under the beam or one side of it as desired, and always kept in line. The beam is adjustable for Spring or Fall Plowing, and also for two or three horses.

The handles can be adjusted to accommodate a man or boy, on the same Plow.

date a man or boy, on the same Plow.

It is a perfect Plow.
Wooden beams are going out of use because they shrink, swell and warp, and never run two seasons alike.

Iron beams are too heavy.

Malleable beams become demoralized and bend, which is much worse than to break.

A Steel beam is the necessity of the day. It is three times as strong and very much lighter than any other style.

When we say a Mold board is chilled, the farmers know it is so.

We do not palm off on them a composition of various metals and call it chilled metal.

We want agents for this new Plow in every town in this State.

We can give but a very small discount to them, but we will pay the Railroad Freight.

We propose to place this Plow in the hands of Farmers as near the cost of manufacture as nossible.

Steel costs several times more than Iron.

But this Plow, full rigged, by giving small discounts, can be sold for Seventeen Dollars.

Compare this price with that of any Iron Plow ever made.

It is cheaper than any other Plow now made would be at five dollars and a half. Where there are no agents we will, on re-teipt of Seventeen Dollars, send a Plow to any Railroad station in the State and pay the
