Crowded Out.—Several matters of importance have been crowded out of the CITIZEN this week, owing to the demand upon our columns. We hope to be able to insert some of them next week.

There are some nine hundred cases on the docket of the United States Supreme Court, that met at Washington City on Monday last, and in these are included the test Mormon polygamy cases and the Kentucky and Louisiana lotteries.

Out. R. B. McComb, of New Castle, who two years ago was an active and influential speaker and worker in the then Greenback party of Lawrence county, has recently written an able letter in behalf of Republican principles and the success of the Republican party in the present campaign.

CHARLES A. SULLIVAN, Esq., of this place, done some of the effective speaking for the Republicans of the State of Indiana during the heated contest just closed in that State. He spoke to large audiences in some of the principal cities of the State, and at the city of Columbus, Ohio, last Saturday on his return East.

DAVID KIRK, Esq., who was born and raised in this county, and who two years ago was the Greenback candidate for Congress in the Pittsburgh district, against Hon. Russell Errett, is the present Greenback and Democratic fusion candidate for Congress in the Bradford district, composed of the counties of McKean, Potter, Tioga, Lycoming, etc.

S. H. MILLER, Esq., Republican candidate for Congress in this district, was in town yesterday. He spoke at the Sanbury meeting on Monday evening and at Fairview on last evening, and will be at the Prospect meeting on Saturday next. He speaks encouragingly of the look out of matters in the district, notwithstanding the efforts made against him.

A GOOD FARMER. Mr. Lewis Patterson, of Slippery Rock township, this county, is a good farmer, as the following concerning his crops of this year, 1880, will prove. He had 52 acres of wheat, from which he cleaned 1561 bushels, machine measure. The wheat was in two fields of 26 acres each, the one producing 814 and the other 747 bushels. From three acres alone of one of the fields he threshed 120 bushels. Of oats he had 34 acres and in that 2,300 bushels. His corn, 27 acres, is not all husked as yet but will yield at the rate of 100 bushels per acre. He clipped 1300 pounds of wool. He has a two-year-old steer weighing 3,000 pounds. He put in 60 acres of wheat this fall. The above is a specimen (very good one) of a Butler county farmer, and we doubt if there is any better in any neighboring county.

THE Philadelphia Press, in referring to the trouble in making nominations for Congress, in this and other districts of this State, ascribes the cause of the trouble to "the unrepresentative and unrepresentative conferee system in vogue." This is a question in our politics well worthy of prompt and serious consideration. There is no doubt but the present conferee system has had much to do with the defeat of former candidates and is the source of dissatisfaction generally. Where there are two or more counties composing a district for Congress, State Senate, or anything else, it is argued that it would be better and more sensible to have the nomination made by the people of the whole district at their primaries. That is, that candidates should submit their names in all the counties of the district and trust to the justice and fair dealing of their party friends for an equal distribution of nominations. This would appear to be the only true idea of a district nomination and would settle all questions of rights by the party of the whole district. As at present, these questions are settled, or attempted to be, by conferees appointed by the candidates of the different counties of a district, who are responsible only to the candidates and are in honor bound to serve their interests only. The result has been, that these conferees are requested to "stick" to their candidates, right or wrong, with the hope of having some outside party or person called in to decide the matter. This is now becoming the fashionable way. But the question is, are the people or party of a district making their own nominations? Or is it some other party or people making them? It is, in truth, a mode of taking power from those to whom it rightfully belongs that the sooner it is repudiated the better will it be for all.

OHIO AND INDIANA. These States held their elections yesterday for State officers and members of Congress. Being two important States in the present political situation, and their State elections coming but three weeks in advance of the great pending Presidential election, they have been looked to with the greatest interest. Immense efforts have been made in each of them by both parties.

We have no definite results at this writing from either of them. But Ohio we regard as a Republican State and have no doubt we have carried it by the usual majority, if not greater. Four years ago, 1876, she gave President Hayes some 6,000 majority.

Should she now have gone Democratic we would regard it as very unfavorable for Republican success in November.

As to Indiana, we regard it on the other hand as a Democratic State, and look to it as having likely again been carried by the Democrats. If we lose it we will have lost nothing. Should we gain it we will have gained a great deal. Should it be close we will regard it as favorable to the Republican cause. Four years ago it gave about 6,000 Democratic majority for Tilden. It is one of the States, (New York being the other), that is claimed by the Democrats will give them the 47 Northern Elector votes, necessary to elect. Therefore if they lose it, all will be lost. The Republicans can lose it and still elect. But the result then would likely turn upon New York. A few days will likely be necessary to tell exact results in both Ohio and Indiana.

West Virginia also held a State election yesterday, but as this State has been conceded to the Democrats there is but little interest concerning it.

GRAND REPUBLICAN CONVENTION, AND MASS MEETING AT PROSPECT, PA., ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON, AND EVENING, OCT. 16TH, 1880.

Procession in wagons, buggies, and on horseback will form at the borough lines, at precisely 3 o'clock, p. m., and parade the streets, directed by Marshals appointed and headed by four splendid bands of music. The following distinguished speakers will be present: Hon. S. H. Miller, of Mercer, Hon. J. M. Thompson and Hon. J. D. McMunkin, of Butler.

All the candidates of the county will be present. Every body will be there. The fatted ox will be killed and a free lunch will be given by the people of Prospect and surrounding country.

Those who live in the vicinity interested in the election of the Republican candidates are requested to bring bread and butter, (bread sliced and spread), and after all have eaten there will be the largest torch-light procession ever held on this side of the county, among them will be the Baby Drummer Boy and other objects of interest. Speaking in the afternoon and night. Remember to form the procession at the borough lines at precisely 3 o'clock. The convention will adjourn at 9 o'clock, p. m., so that all can be home before midnight.

How She Saved Her Darling. "I shall never again feel so awfully nervous about my babies' health," writes a grateful mother. "We almost lost our little darling by a long attack of cholera infantum, but happily heard of Parker's Ginger Tonic in time. I took a few spoonfuls myself, which soon cured my nursing baby entirely, and an occasional dose has kept me and baby as strong and comfortable as I would be with the best medical medicine."—Mother of Brooklyn.

THE BLECTIONS YESTERDAY. WEDNESDAY, OCT. 13.—Reports from Ohio last night indicated that the State had gone Republican by a large majority, and both parties this morning are claiming Indiana.

STATE SENATE QUESTION. What the Armstrong County Papers and People Say About It.

We last week gave a brief, and what we believe has generally been conceded to have been a fair statement, of the difficulty about the Senate nomination in this district. As it is a question that concerns Armstrong county, the more particularly, we give below what the Kittinging papers and some of the Republicans of that county have to say on the subject. The simple question is, has any nomination been made with her consent, or will her Republicans ratify matters as they stand? If they do not, something should be done at once to save the district from loss.

From the below they would seem to be somewhat divided in opinion. The Armstrong Republican of the 6th inst., keeps up the name of Mr. Meredith for the Senate, and says as follows relative to the Pittsburgh meeting of the conferees:

"The Senatorial Conferees for this district were called to meet the Empire, Mr. Byram, at Pittsburgh, on Friday, last for the purpose of making a nomination for Senator. A meeting was held and several ballots taken with the usual result, when the Empire stepped in and voted for Mr. Greer, of Butler. As it was very evident from the beginning that the claims of this county were to be ignored, that the Empire was completely under the control of Mr. Greer, and his friends, the Conferees from this county very properly refused to recognize the authority of the Empire, and would not consent to make the nomination unanimous. So the matter stands as before, and if this Senatorial district is carried by the Democracy, the Butler people will be responsible for that result. The ambition of Mr. Greer, who expects to be made Speaker of the Senate, if elected, is the cause of the whole trouble, and we mistake the Republicans of this county if they will permit themselves to be bulldozed out of their just rights to gratify the ambition of Mr. Greer, or any other man. We will give attention to this matter more at length next week."

The Union Free Press of the 7th inst., has the name of Mr. Greer on the Republican ticket and refers to the Pittsburgh meeting as follows:

"The long-pending Senatorial question in the Republican party of this district was finally settled in Pittsburgh on Saturday last, resulting in the nomination of the Hon. John M. Greer, the present incumbent. And whilst this nomination is possibly contrary to the wishes of many Republicans in this county, who have felt all along that Armstrong county should be entitled to the man and that in all fairness Butler county should have conceded this right; yet, as the matter has been decided otherwise, it is the duty of the party to yield to the decision. Mr. Meredith was the choice of this county and through his delegates made a manly fight for the place and only yielded at the last when the decision of the empire was declared against him. Butler county rested its claim upon the fact that usage had allowed two terms, at least, to a representation; and that although the term had been lengthened in point of time, in the eyes of actual election it meant no more than heretofore. Armstrong county claimed by right of equality of distribution and alleged with great force of truth that the lion's share of favors always went to Butler county."

The Kittinging Times of the 8th inst., which we believe is independent in politics, has this to say:

"The Senatorial fight in this district was brought to an end on Saturday. The conferees met at the Seventh Avenue Hotel, Pittsburgh, on Friday, and proceeded to ballot, resulting as on previous occasions. An adjournment was then taken until Saturday morning, when Byram, of the Evening Telegraph, who had been appointed umpire by the chairman of the State Committee, cast his vote for Mr. Greer, of Butler, thus giving him a majority of one. This action on Mr. Byram's part was so unexpected by the Arms-rogue county men, that at first they did not know what to do. Mr. Wm. Buffington, one of the ex-district conferees, and who was chairman of the conference, then refused to announce the result, and the meeting ended. Mr. Byram, who had been in Kittinging but a few days previous, had expressed himself to the effect that Armstrong county was entitled to the nomination and should have it, accordingly to his opinion in Pittsburgh, it left an impression he had been approached. The result is far from giving satisfaction to Mr. Meredith and his friends, and in fact to the Republicans of Armstrong county, and Mr. Greer will very likely find out that honest 'Uncle' Jake Ziegler will run in on him in this county greatly, if he does not have a majority over him. As Butler county had the State Senator the last time, and as Armstrong county had worked well for Mr. Greer, and gave him a handsome majority then, it would have been the right thing for him to have given way this time. However, it is not our funeral, and we have no reason to weep."

A republican of Brady's Bend, Armstrong county, writing to the Pittsburgh Dispatch, has this to say on the subject:

"As a constant reader of the Dispatch, allow me a little space to express my indignation (as well as that of many other staunch Republicans of Armstrong county) on the selection of the candidate for the State Senate in this district. Mr. Greer was chosen by some hocus-pocus arrangement of the 'ring,' at the Seventh Avenue Hotel, Pittsburgh, on Friday evening last. He has represented this district for four years, and according to a former agreement, was to be nominated for the Senate by the Republicans of that county. Mr. Greer has openly acknowledged that all the claims he has put forth in his own behalf, were purely selfish—that Armstrong county was entitled to the candidate—and yet he persistently refused to step aside and concede the nomination to Mr. Meredith, the regularly chosen candidate from this county. The indignation in this locality over Mr. Greer's selection knows no bounds. I have voted the solid Republican ticket since 1856, and shall vote with this single exception. I do not stand alone in my opinion on this question, as I have talked to a number of our most prominent party workers in this place and vicinity, and have yet to find one man who will vote for Mr. Greer. Machine rule has been tolerated by our people just as long as they will stand it, and I have no hesitancy in saying that Mr. Greer will hardly be elected, unless the Republicans of Armstrong county have the conceded right to the representation. There is already some talk of calling a meeting to enter a protest against this election. In any event, Mr. Meredith will be petitioned to 'stick.' "Beware the votes is November."

BRADY'S BEND, PA., October 5. GARFIELD. Democratic Testimony as to His Good Character.

ALLEN G. THURMAN. Oakes Ames swears that Garfield got ten shares and Garfield swears that he did not do anything of the kind. There was a good deal of talk, but no proof against him; and I am compelled to say that Garfield got out better than any one else, and, on the whole, there was not sufficient evidence to fasten corruption at his door.

THOMAS A. HENDRICKS. I will tell you whom I think the Republicans should nominate, and whom I consider their strongest man; he is a true man, a man of principle, an honest man, and would make a good President for us all. Personally I consider him the best man you can nominate. I refer to James A. Garfield, of Ohio.

JUDGE JERE BLACK. Your express determination to see that General Garfield shall be defeated against all unjust assaults, upon his person and his name, is equally pleasant reading to me, for I have been his devoted friend for many years, and I am resolved that I never will believe that he does not deserve the affection I have bestowed upon him. If he would carry the principles which regulate his private life into his public conduct, he would make the best Chief Magistrate we ever had.

ALEX H. STEPHENS. As to the Credit Mobilier matter, with which General Garfield was charged, I believe he was altogether innocent of them. It will not do for the Democratic party to throw mud at General Garfield, because if they do they will elect him. * * * I am not here to elevate our candidates by dragging down those opposed. Although I do not think they can ever reach the elevated platform occupied by Hancock and English, I do not wish to engage in this kind of assault. Garfield I have known well since the session of Congress of 1873, and I have always regarded him of irreproachable integrity and moral character, distinguished for ability and scholarship, and one of the greatest intellects in the country. I do not oppose him on account of any moral defect or intellectual incapacity.

NEW YORK WORLD. In the midst of the organized carnival of corruption which is being going on now in many weary months at the residence of Mr. James Martin, near Centerville, in Washington it is really satisfactory to catch glimpses now and then of honesty or honesty's sake, and without consideration of party General Garfield, of Ohio, is a Republican of Republicans, but it is his simple duty, which we gladly pay him, to admit that he has done more than any other single member of his party, during the present session of Congress, to show that it is not impossible for a man to act with a Congressional majority and yet to keep his self-respect and the respect of honest men.

OF THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS.

CONSTITUTION OF PENNSYLVANIA—ART. VII. SECTION 1. Every male citizen twenty-one years of age, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at all elections: First—He shall have been seven years a citizen of the United States at least one month.

Second—He shall have resided in the State one year (or if having previously been a qualified elector or native born citizen of the State he shall have resided in and returned, then six months) immediately preceding the election.

Third—He shall have resided in the election district where he shall offer his vote at least two months immediately preceding the election.

Fourth—If twenty-two years or upwards, he shall have held within two years a State or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months and paid at least one month before the election.

SECTION 5. Electors shall in all cases except treason, felony and breach of surety of the peace, be privileged to attend during their attendance on elections and in going to and returning thereon.
