—"Golden Days," one of the best, if not the very best papers "for boys and girls" published in the country, is again before us. It has with it a new story entitled "Bob and Bob, or the Right Path and the Wrong." It is a neatly printed sixteen page paper, all ways filled with instructive reading matter and interesting stories by good authors. The young folks hail its weekly appearance with delight. James Elverson, publisher, 8 W. corner Eighth and Locust streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

—RESULTS FATALE.—Some week or ten days ago Mr. Solomon Young, while engaged in the mill of the Messrs. Starr, at Glade Mill, Middlesex township, this county, was caught by one arm between two cog wheels, while in motion. The arm was literally crushed, but it was thought he would survive the injury. On last Saturday, however, he died, and was buried here on Monday last. He is positively restricted to three nights a week. Those daintily worked slippers for his big feet must be finished for Christmas, you know.

—New York City has, for the present at least, got rid of another "Boss," Kelly by name. A combination of Republican and anti-Tammany Democratic aldermen elected another man, last Friday, to take his place as Comptroller of the city.

—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound revives the drooping spirits; invigorates and harmonizes the organic functions; gives elasticity and firmness to the eye, restores the natural lustre to the eye, and plants on the pale cheek of beauty the fresh roses of life's spring and early summer time.

—The vote of Pennsylvania aggregates about eight hundred and sixty-five thousand, according to the official count, a gain of nearly one hundred and sixteen thousand over 1876. According to the same ratio of increase, it will be brought up to a million in 1884. A commonwealth that polls a million of votes is almost a nation within itself.

For the Holidays at E. Grieb's.
A large selection of Ladies' and Gents, Gold and Silver Watches, chains, gold and stem winding. Watch cases, clocks, silverware, necklaces, medals, lockets, crosses and chains of all kinds, also rings in great variety, consisting of canoes, amethysts, amethyst encrusted, turquoises, garnets rubies, pearls, emeralds, plain gold hoops, fancy engraved bands, children's rings, etc. dec3:3t

—Although there are forty-two fire water-plugs in this town they are placed so ridiculously close to each other that the greater part of the town is left unprotected. With but few exceptions, the plugs are all on Main and Jefferson street, and in some places less than one hundred feet apart. This state of affairs is an imposition on the majority of the taxpayers of the town. The two hose companies have but 500 feet of hose each.

—It isn't much advantage to be elected President after all. When Garfield and his wife took the cars at Mentor to go to Cleveland the seats were full, and both would have had to stand had it not been for a kind old lady who "set along" and gave Mrs. Garfield a seat. The breakman finally managed to squeeze out a place for James also; but the average American does cling to his seat with the tenacity of a burr.

American Wines.
But few persons are aware of the great amount of grapes raised in New Jersey. Alfred Speer is known to be the largest wine grower east of the Rocky Mountains. His Port Grape wine is the best, and is considered by physicians and chemists as the best wine to be procured. For sale by D. H. Walker.

Lippincott's Magazine.
Lippincott's Magazine for December opens with an interesting and finely illustrated paper entitled "An Historical Rocky-Mountain Out-post," by George Rex Buckman. Another illustrated article, "Our Grandfathers' Temples," by Charles F. Richardson, is a very readable account of the oldest places of worship still existing in the country. "Will Democracy Tolerate a Permanent Class of National officeholders?" is a challenge to the Civil Service Reformers, which cannot fail to attract attention as an able expose of the ideas on which our present system appears to be founded, and which the Reformers will have to take into account if they hope to effect any radical change in the practice hitherto followed by both parties. "The Authors of Freedom," by J. B. Matthews, has a timely interest in connection with Sara Bernhardt's performances. Other papers deserving of notice are "Gas-Burning and its Consequences," by George J. Varney; "An Episode of Spanish Chivalry," by Prof. T. F. Crane; and the conclusion of Dr. H. C. Wood's exposition of "Automatism;" and a contribution to Shakespearean studies by Prof. James D. Butler. The popular serial, "Adam and Eve," reaches a dramatic and satisfactory termination in this number, which also contains several striking stories, including a thoroughly realistic sketch of Edinburgh street life, by the author of "Phiters, Tatters, and the Concessor." The "Monthly Gossip" is unusually full and entertaining, with the January number this Magazine will enter on a new series, at a reduced price and with the promise of greater attractiveness and wider claims to popularity.

MARRIED.
TURNER-MCCALL—November 30, 1880, by Rev. C. L. Stramer, at West Sunbury, Mr. Turner to Miss Sarah E. McCall, both of Concord township, Butler county, Pa.

BRACKEN-MARTIN—December 7, 1880, at M. E. Parsonage, by Rev. W. P. Turner, Mr. Charles C. Bracken, of Oakland, and Miss Elsie Martin, of Butler township.

DEATHS.
SMITH—November—1880, at his residence in Allegheny township, this county, Mr. Simon Smith, Esq., aged 80 years and 3 months. Esquire Smith was a man of more than ordinary intelligence and influence and a very bold and active reader. He came from Wales a poor man and by industry as a miner acquired means enough to buy the fine farm upon which he lived and died.

ANNOUNCEMENT FOR 1881.
With the January number Lippincott's Magazine will enter upon a new series, a change which will be made in the name and material reduction in price. Maintaining the same high literary standard as in the past, but presenting new and attractive features,—among them a more liberal and lighter in character than hitherto,—its conductors will spare no efforts to secure for it the distinctive reputation of a thoroughly popular and first-class Family Magazine.

Lippincott's Magazine will aim to furnish entertainment and a healthy stimulant to those of both sexes who find their mental refreshment in light and attractive reading. Its new scheme will embrace a great variety of topics, giving special prominence to those that concern life, its interests, social aspects, and various phases, pathetic and amusing presented in vivid pictures and graphic sketches. The list of writers will include many new contributors, fresh editorial departments will be added, and illustrations, carefully executed, will continue to be a feature.
