A terrible murder was committed at A terrible murder was committed at an early hour this morning at Coyle's Ferry, opposite Marietta, which has produced the greatest excitement. Emma Myers, of Chambersburg, has been residing in the family of John Coyle, sr., at the ferry, for some time past, with whom the son John Coyle, is become inferented and it is said r., became infatuated, and, it is said, desired to marry, but his addresses were always rejected by the girl.

Early this morning, about half-past five o'clock, Emma went to the barn for the purpose of milking the cows. Young Coyle followed. What conver-Young Coyle followed. What conversation took place between them is not known at this writing. Coyle, however, drew a small seven shooter, and fired point-blank at the girl, the ball penetrating her breast in the center, five and a half inches below the throat, then passing through her body, and coming out the right side of her back somewhat lower down, and causing somewhat lower down, and causing instant death. The murderer then turned the weapon upon his breast and fired the ball penetrating the fiesh, but not producing a fatal wound. He then placed the pistol to the back of his head, but fired with no other result than to make a flash wound about an

than to make a flash wound about an inch back of the right ear.

After shooting Coyle retired to the house and went to bed. News of the rash act was sent to Wrightsville by the young man's father, when Justice Frank Magee proceeded to the scene and held an inquest. Mrs. Coyle, mother of the murderer, testified that she had called the murdered girl at the calledt when she got up as usual she had called the murdered girl at five o'clock, when she got up as usual and went about her work, that of milking. At six o'clock she got up herself, and shortly afterward her son John came in and said, 'Mother I've shot Emma and shot myself. She just quivered and fell down dead," She also testified that her san had asked so testified that her son had asked the girl to marry him, telling her that if she refused he would shoot her. She straightened herself up, and pointing to her breast, said, Well, shoot right nere,' when he drew the revolver and fired the fatal shot.

Ayer's Hair Vigor FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

IT is a most agreeable dressing, which is at once harmless and effectual, for pre-serving the hair. It restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray, light, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use thin hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured. It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to brashy, weak, of otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable. The Vigor cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of danfuff; and, by its cooling, stimulating, and soothing properties, it heals most if not all of the humors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.

As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair The Vigor is incomparable. It is colorless, contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil white cambric. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article for the toilet it is economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.
