WORLD.

Damascus is the oldest city in the world. Tyre and Sidon have crumbled on the shore; Baalbee is a ruin; Palmpra is buried in a desert; Nineveh and Babylon have disappeared from the Tigris and the Euphrates. Da. and cared for the little things I had succeeded in doing; and when there mascus remains what it was before the desert; 'a presidential capital' with martial and sacred associations extending through thirty centuries. It was near Damascus that Saul of Tarsus saw light above the brightness of the sun; the street which is called Strait, in which it was said 'he prayed,' still runs through the city. The caravan comes and goes as it did a thousand years ago; there is still the sheik. the ass and the water wheel; the merchants of the Euphrates and the Mediterranean still occupy the streets 'with the multi-tudes of their wares.' The city which Mahomet surveyed from the neighboring height, and was afraid to enter, 'because it was given to man to have but one paradise, and for his part he was resolved not to have it in this world. s to-day what Julian called the 'Eye of the East,' as it was, in the time Isaiah, 'the head of Syria.'

From Damascus came the damson our blue plums, and the delicious, apricot of Portugal, dalled damasco; damask, our beautiful fabric of cotton and silk, with vines and flowers rising upon a smooth bright ground; the damask rose introduced into England in the time of Henry VIII; the Damascus blade, so famous the world over, for its keen edge and wonderful elasticity, the secret of whose manufacture was when Tamerlane carried the artist into Persia; and that beautiful art of inlaying wood and steel with gold and silyer, a kind of mosaic engraving and culpture united, called damaskeening, with which boxes, bureaus, and swords are ornamented. It still is a city of lowers and bright water; the stream of Lebanon and the 'silk of gold' still murmur and sparkle in the wilderness of the Syrian gardens.

> CHEMICAL EXAMINATION OF DRINKING WATER.

Dr. J. W. Mallet, University of Virginia, has undertaken for the National Board of Health, a special study of the methods of examining drinking water for organic impurities; and the board urgently request that physicians and sanitarians shall promptly report to Dr. Mallet any well marked cases of disease which may seem on medical grounds to be fairly attributable to orgapic impurities in the drinking water used by the patient. It is further deshall be forwarded to Dr. Mallet for examination, but not until after the been submitted to Dr. Mallet, and notice has been received from him that the analyses are ready to proceed with its examination, Such notice of readiness will be accompanied by clear instructions as to the quantity of water required, and the mode of collecting, packing, and shipping it. The cost of deserters .- Cincinnati Commercial. packages and transportation will be borne by the Board of Health. Dr. Mallet's post office is University of Virginia P. O., Albemarle County,

It is to be hoped that physicians will not neglect to aid this important inquiry, especially as it furnishes so favorable an opportunity to have testof money, office, appointment, employ- ed gratis any water the wholesomeness of which they may have cause to lence Press, relates an interview she ecently had with Secretary Lincoln. I wished to see him because he was of two hundred dollars and to undergo an imprisonment not exceeding six months.

Approved the 8th day of June, 1881.

Approached him. 'I have no favor to ask of you, Mr Secretary,' I said, when he had rise and conversation had opened 'except you will take from had opened, 'except you will take from me a burden I have carried about with me for many years. I knew President Lincoln well He was good and kind and helpful to me in whatever I tried to do for our soldiers. He recognized succeeded in doing; and when there came one great undertaking (referring days of Abraham—a centre of trade and travel—an isle of verdure in the so great as to appall z women with its so great as to appall a women with its seeming impossibility yet which the entreaties of many survivors forced me to attempt, when other officials said, 'It cannot be done,' he, the head and heart of it all, said, I will help you.' And he smootted my way, and made it ali possible and plain. When the task was ended, and I came back to Washington feeling the obligation I owed to him, he was not here to receive my grateful thanks. He had gone beyond all that. It was a sad little burden to carry around with me unuttered and unshared, but I have carried it. At home and beyond the sea, wherever I have been, it has gone with me; and I have come to-day to ask you, as his representative, to acccpt that burden of thanks for him.' I felt my tears flowing before I had finished, and was asbamed that I had failed to control them, but when I glanced up at the Secretary I saw he he was weeping too. He reached out his hand, and said: 'I do accept your tribute of thanks-for my father;' and then I came away."

Burlington, Iowa, Hawkeye. The greatest wonder in the State of Iowa, and perhaps in any State, in what is called the Walled Lake, in Wright county, twelve miles north of the Dubuque and Pacific railway, and one hundred and fifty miles west of Du-buque. The lake is two or three feet higher than the earth's surface. In some places the wall is ten feet high, fifteen feet wide at the bottom, and five feet wide at the top. Another fact is the size of the stone used in the construction, the whole of them varying in weight from three tons down to one hundred pounds. There is an abundance of stones in Wright county, but surrounding the lake to the extent of five or ten miles there are none. No one can form an idea of the means emthe ice on the lake broke the wall in several places, and the farmers in the vicinity were obliged to repair the damages to prevent inundation. The lake occupies a ground surface of 2,800 acres, depth of water as great as twentyfive feet. The water is clear and cold. soil sandy and loamy. It is singular that no one has been able to ascertain where the water comes from nor where

When Davy Crockett was in Washington he was one day sitting in a hotel toasting his shins when a Senator from Massachusetts entered.

Approaching the old frontiersman

the latter said . 'Crockett, a large procession of your constituents are marching up the street. You ought to go out and greet them.'
Crockett hurriedly arose and went out upon the hotel steps, when a large drove of mules caught his eye. He quietly watched them until the last one had passed and then returned to his seat by the stove. The Massachusetts Senator was still there, and as the redoubtable Davy dropped into his chair, asked: 'Well, did you see your friends?' 'Oh, yes,' was the response. 'They are looking remarkably well, too.' 'Did you ascertain their destination?'

'Certainly, sir.' 'And where are they going in such a solid body?' Crockett turned to the Senator with quiet, calm expression, and replied:

'The blamed fools are all going down to Massachusetts to teach school.' And then they gazed a moment into each other's faces and sadly walked up to exercise the barkeeper awhile.

ROBERTSON'S UNPARDONA-

General Grant ought to know but 10 per cent. of his force at Chicago had Republican sired that samples of each such water constituencies behind them; that the strong Republican districts were almost without exception against him; reasons for suspecting the water have that Robertson was elected a delegate as a Blaine man, and refused to obey instructions that the State Conventio had no authority to give. It would be a consistent thing now for General Grant to join Vice-President Arthur at Albany, and labor with the members of the Assembly in behalf of the
