THE Millerstown Herald very truly remarks that "The Butler Eagle is out in a long article on the strangled Judicial bill. Nobody cares now what it says." Very true. "Nobody cares now what it says." Heretofore it attempted and advocated many outrages on the people of this county, but this last one has taken away from it what the extent the law allowed, and public little respect it had left. The hot term of Vennor, the weather prophet, commenced a little sooner than he announced. He predicted for that his insane acts had nothing to do the present month, July, as follows, among other things:

"Between the 10th and 15th days an exceedingly hot term is likely to be experienced in both the United States and Canada." He says as to the balance of this month, that, "Within a few nay thing else. It was something days from the close of the month, probably about the 27th or 28th a cool wave will occur, carrying frosts in Canada and cool weather generally, with storms of wind throughout the United States." It is very broad in its provisions and is intended to check the frauds and unfair work done in making nominations. It applies to all parties and all modes of making nominations, whether by delegates or by the popular vote. Therefore to the Republican party of Butler county it is a matter that will require their attention in making our future nominations. The protection of law is now thrown around primary elections: the object being to primary elections; the object being to have them conducted and governed the same as the general and legal elections. # The Cyclopaedia War.

The month of July, 1881, witnesses the completion of the largest and most important literary work this country and the century have seen. It is the Library of Universal Knowledge, large type edition, in 15 large octave volumes, containing 10 per cent more matter than Appleion's Cyclopædia, at less than one-fourth its cost, and 20 per cent more than Johnson's Cyclopædia, which forms the basis of the Library of Universal Knowledge (the last London edition of 1880 being reprinted verbatim as a portion of its contents) is the laborious product verbatim as a portion of its contents is the laborious product verbatim as a portion of its contents, is the laborious product verbatim as a portion of its contents, is the laborious product verbatim as a portion of its contents, is the laborious product verbatim as a portion of its contents, is the laborious product verbatim as a portion of its contents, is the laborious product verbatim as a portion of its contents, is the laborious product verbatim as a portion of its contents, is the laborious product verbatim as a portion of its contents, is the laborious product verbatim as a portion of its contents, is the laborious product verbatim as a portion of its contents, is the laborious product verbatim as a portion of its contents, and contents are defensed and published for a foreign market, and could not be expensed to product on the production, edited and published for a foreign market, and could not be expensed to a production, edited and published for a foreign market, and could not be expensed to the production of human knowledge, bringing the whole number of titles under one alphabetical arrangement to about 40,000. Thus the work is thoroughly Americanized, and the Library of Universal Knowledge becomes at once the latest and most complete Encyclopædia in the field, at a mere fraction of the cost of any similar work which has preceded it.

Of course the old and wealthy publishers who have grown rich (it is said that the Appletons have made a profit of nearly two million dollars on their Cyclopadia) from the sale of their high-priced publications are not pleased that their monopolies are broken and their power overthrown. Of course the book agents and booksellers who have been used to getting from 40 to 60 per cent commission for selling these high-priced books are not so well pleased to sell the Library of Universal Knowledge on 15 per cent commission, though those who are not short-sighted discover that their own interests, after all, are identical with the interests of the people, and their real profits, in the end, are increased, by the immense sales which result from meeting the people's wants. The majority of booksellers, however, are better pleased to slander than to sell this and our numerous other standard and incomparably low-priced publications. But the Literary Revolution has always looked to the people, in whose interests it is, for its patronage, and it has pever legosed in vain, as our more than is the state of the people, in whose interests it is, for its parollage, and it has never that one million volumes printed last year (this year being increased to probably more than two millions) abundantly prove. You can order the Cyclopædia directly from us, and by uniting with your neighbors and friends you can secure club rates

As a special inducement to our friends and patrons to go to work promptly and vigorously, each doing what he can for the dissemination of universal knowledge, we propose to distribute $10,000 in special premiums as follows, in addition to the regular discount
