BUTLER, PA., WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 17, 1881.

NO. 38

ADVERTISING RATES.

One square, one insertion, $1; each subsequent insertion, 50 cents. Yearly advertisements exceeding one-fourth of a column, $5 per inch.

From the fact that the Citizen is the oldest established and most extensively circulated Republican newspaper in Butler county, it is believed that it is the medium they should use in advertising their business.

A CRACK SHOT.

The Story of the Female Hunter of Long Eddy.

HONESDALE, Pa., July 28.—Mention has frequently been made in the metropolitan papers of Lucy Ann Lobdell, better known, perhaps, as the "Female Hunter of Long Eddy."

THE DESERTED WIFE. After about a year of happy married life Slater deserted his wife, then the mother of a baby only a few weeks old, and as her parents were very poor and objected to her becoming a burden upon them in their poverty, she donned male clothing and determined to earn money by hunting and trapping.

Nothing is so unpleasant, nothing so common as bad health, and nothing so detrimental to the system as to neglect it until it has become a chronic disease.

CONSTIPATION! SHOULD not be regarded as a trifling ailment, in fact it is one of the most common of the ailments, and one of the most dangerous.

SICK HEADACHE! This distressing affliction occurs most frequently, the disturbance of the stomach, arising from the impurities of the blood, causes a severe pain in the head, accompanied with disagreeable nausea, and this constitutes what is popularly known as Sick Headache.

ELY'S CREAM BALM. HAVING gained an enviable reputation, displacing all other preparations, it is now being sold in every part of the world.

CRYSTALENE. The Best and Cheapest PAINT, Mixed Ready For Use.

J. C. REDICK, GENERAL AGENT, BUTLER, PA.

Wanted AGENTS! AGENTS! AGENTS! JOHN B. GOUGH'S brand new book, entitled 'SUNLIGHT AND SHADOW' is the best choice offered to you.

John B. Gough can prove this. This grand work, which has been published in the 'Boston' book for years, and is containing all the 'boon' to be had.

REVOLUTIONIZING EUROPE.

A writer for the Fortnightly Review (English), after reviewing the current political situation in France, Germany, Austria, Spain and Italy, turns to America with the following words:

"It is a relief to turn from the backward and the jealous nations of the Old World to the spectacle which is presented to us across the Atlantic. The future is there, and as we contemplate the majestic proportions of the great western republic, with its population of fifty millions rapidly swelling to double that total, we feel that here we have the factor that is destined to revolutionize the world."

THE BRITISH MERCANTILE GAZETTE has the following respecting the threatened invasion of the domain of the English miller by their enterprising cousins of the far West:

It has been stated that there are 10,000 millers in the United Kingdom, and that a very large proportion of that number had not, previous to the late exhibition, even so much as seen the devices by the aid of which the American country has asserted itself.

There is also every apparent indication of the permanency of the rapid increase. One authority has it that in the State of Minnesota alone the mills turned out 6,000,000 barrels of flour in the year 1879, and that the mills in Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, and other states produced no less than 20,000,000 barrels in the same year.

A POOR HOUSE COMPANION. In 1868 Mary Perry, aged twenty-five years, was brought to the poor house where Lucy Lobdell was confined. Mary Perry had four months before married a brakeman on the Erie Railroad, and had lived in Jersey City, where, after three months' married life, her husband deserted her and ran away with a servant girl.

THE ARREST AT HONESDALE. In the fall of 1876, Lucy Ann, or "Joe," as she was called, came to Honesdale and was arrested and lodged in jail as a vagrant.

fact is taken into consideration that the document was written with a pen made from a pine stick whittled to a point and split, and that the ink used was but the juice of the red poplar berry, the petition is indeed a literary curiosity.

SPOTTED TAIL MURDERED.

Killed by Crow Dog at Rosebud Agency—A Nosed Indian.

WASHINGTON, August 8.—Official information of the killing of Spotted Tail by Crow Dog was received at the Interior Department to-day. It is thought at the department that Spotted Tail was killed in some difficulty between him and Crow Dog growing out of Spotted Tail's expected trip to Washington.

Among the incidents of the chief's life was his death of his daughter, who died from little Switzerland last year. Even from little Switzerland last year seven thousand emigrants to the republics of the west. More than fifty per cent. of the emigrants are able-bodied men under forty years of age.

There is no such thing as a free lunch. The man who has a free lunch is a man who has a free lunch.

THE ME TOO IN POLITICS. "Me too" in politics is the natural result of "bossism." Whatever may be said to the contrary, Mr. Platt will ever be regarded as Mr. Conkling's "me too."

FOREIGN BODIES IN THE EYE. Dr. Thos. R. Pooley (Archives Ophthalmology) reports some interesting experiments with the magnetic needle for detecting foreign substances in the eye.

FIGHT WITH A PORPOISE. Mr. R. R. Tanguay, the veteran Rochester sportsman, recently had a fight with a porpoise. In a letter from St. John's River, Florida, he says:

fact is taken into consideration that the document was written with a pen made from a pine stick whittled to a point and split, and that the ink used was but the juice of the red poplar berry, the petition is indeed a literary curiosity.

LADY PHYSICIANS.

A St. Louis doctor factory recently turned out a dozen female doctors. As far as the female doctors were concerned, one or two in the whole country, and those were only experimental, we held our peace and did not complain; but now that the colleges are engaged in producing female doctors as a business, we must protest, and in so doing will give a few reasons why female doctors will not prove a paying branch of industry.

Most prudent men wear flannels during the winter, and when the first warm day of Spring arrives they find the flannel an uncomfortable burden. The impulse to change it for the lighter and cooler merino is very strong, and 83 per cent. of our male population—as is asserted by careful statistics—yield to it. Now, it is almost morally certain that a hot day in early Spring will be followed within two or three days by a cold north-east rain storm.

THE AUTOMATIC UNDER-SHIRT. In the Spring—though Mr. Tennyson has often led me to believe the fancy of men, whether old or young, gloomily turns to thoughts of under-shirts. It is the season when the question of discarding the thick under-shirt of winter and putting on the thinner garment appropriate to warm weather forces itself upon every man's attention, and no matter how it may be answered, the man always has reason to regret his course.

There is but one objection which the cavil may make to this method of preventing the glass provided for the required distribution of ray surface to produce the diamond sparkle, or something akin to it. A real diamond is never cut with the pointed apex, and hence it was possible always to distinguish the real from the spurious.

POSTAGE STAMPS. Postage stamps are printed from engraved plates under a hydraulic press on paper especially prepared for this purpose.

A Physician's Testimony. In the treatment of lung and bronchial diseases the liver is often implicated to such an extent that a remedial measure necessary in effecting a cure of the lungs.

Had Chronic Catarrh and Constipation; could get no help. Peruna cured me. Mrs. S. B. Williams, Martin's Ferry, Ohio.
