

NOTICE TO FARMERS PRODUCERS OF GRAIN. GEORGE WALTER WANTS AT HIS MILL, 25,000 Bushels of Wheat, 25,000 Bushels of Rye, 10,000 Bushels of Corn.

New Advertisements. Jury Lists for December Term. Pan Cake Flour—S. S. Marvin & Co. Trial List for week commencing Nov. 28th, 1881.

Local and General. A Lewistown man proposes to raise cats for the market. Chesapeake Bay and tributaries supply the country with over 3,000,000 oysters annually.

Griefs and Grievances. A lot of second-hand Watches cheap for cash, at E. Grieb's. More money for the Michigan sufferers is needed than at first supposed.

Deaths. A 7-year-old boy, in Harrisburg, Pa., while playing cracker, a few days ago, stood upon his head so long, that he was attacked with brain fever, and died in a few hours.

Deaths. A Franklin county school teacher threw a stick at a boy who was misbehaving himself, and the stick striking the lad in the left eye he will probably lose the sight of it.

Deaths. While working in Maher & Co.'s coal shaft, near Freeport, last Monday, Patrick McCormick was severely injured by a large quantity of slate falling upon him. One of his legs was broken.

Deaths. Our county treasurer thinks he is perfectly safe. He never keeps a large amount of money in the safe, and never goes to his office as early as Deacon, the Beaver county treasurer did last week.

Deaths. A family in Parker is afflicted with chicken-pox. Some of the local physicians thought it was small-pox, and the town was excited. The Phoenix states that there are no cases of small-pox in the town.

Deaths. A notice of intention to apply to the Courts of Armstrong county for a charter for a Mutual Benefit Marriage Association, signed by J. S. Calhoun and P. W. Boyd, has been published in the Parker city papers.

A circular has been issued to the county, borough and city superintendents of schools by Hon. E. E. Higbee, calling two conventions of the officers of the county, borough and city superintendents of schools for the coming winter.

A Pittsburgh gentleman who has just returned from the burnt district in Michigan says only about half enough money has been subscribed to afford proper relief to sufferers, many of whom are yet lying sick without sufficient shelter, bedding and conveniences.

Burglaries and robberies are becoming very frequent in Western Pennsylvania. Within the last few days these crimes have been committed at Mt. Pleasant, Westmoreland county; Lickingville, Clarion county; Hulton station, Allegheny county; Beaver, Beaver county, and Portersville, Clarion county.

The grand jury of Allegheny county found a large number of trial bills against the liquor dealers of that county, last week, for selling liquor illegally.

The Supreme Court, now in session in Pittsburgh, rather astonished the members of the bar a few days since, by their most remarkable number of reversals in the list of decisions rendered. Considerable unfavorable comment was indulged in on the present state of the courts of our Commonwealth.

The petition of R. W. Barnhart, guardian of O. F. Barnhart, to join in lease of ground for school purposes was awarded as prayed for.

The petition of Isaac Collins, administrator, for order of Court for permission to pay legacy on bequest in the estate of Elizabeth Conway, deceased, was granted.

The hearing on the oath of the bodies of E. Eschenburg for her child was continued till next Saturday at 2 p. m.

The act of Assembly relating to this subject is as follows: Sec. 1. Be it enacted, etc., That all the following described buildings, to-wit: Every building used as a seminary, college, academy, hospital, asylum, or a hotel for the accommodation of the public, every storehouse, factory, manufactory or workshop of any kind, in which employes or operatives are usually employed at work on the third or any higher story, every tenement house or building in which rooms or floors are usually let to lodgers or families, and every public school building, when any of such buildings are three or more stories in height, shall be provided with a permanent, safe and external means of escape therefrom in case of fire; and it shall be the duty of the owners or keepers of such hotels, tenement houses, or other buildings, to provide such means of escape as first, second, and third, in order of preference, for the escape of persons in case of fire.

The mystery of that Confession I have read the statement made by the ghostly Guideau, and it makes me wish to God that he may have a fair patient trial. There are mysteries about this confession that I hope, when he finds the noose about his murderer's neck, he may be induced and have time to clear up.

It is, I believe, a fact, that between the inauguration and the death of the President he was at Washington, reduced to abject poverty and want. He was driven from boarding-houses to boarding-houses, until he found himself upon the streets without a cent. Now, what I want to know is, where he got the means to lodge at the Riggs House, take his meals and baths at that costly hotel, and hire hacks, and all that sort of things? Who lifted him out of his penury and armed him for this horrible crime? And did these benevolent beings know of the purpose this wretch had in view? Let us restrain our senseless wrath. The man must die. He courts the gallows, but let us have all he knows before the grave covers his dishonored carcass. D. P. MAC-O'HEE, October 8, 1881.

TRIAL LIST. CASES DISPOSED OF LAST WEEK. William Seibert, et al. versus J. C. Donaldson, James Gribben and Jonathan Mayberry—October 26, 1881. Verdict for the plaintiffs for $250 and costs. October 27, 1881, motion for new trial made and entertained for reasons filed.

The latest reading of a scriptural adage is—"train up a child in the way you should have gone yourself."

An extra census bulletin just issued, giving the cereal production of the United States by counties for the year ending June 30, 1881, shows the States which lead in the enormous grain yield of the country. Illinois may be said to head the column. It produces the most wheat, corn and oats and ranks second in the production of rye. California leads in barley and Pennsylvania in rye. New York is first in buckwheat, second in barley and third in rye and oats. The great wheat States are Illinois, which raised fifty-one million bushels; Indiana, forty-seven; Ohio, forty-six; Michigan, thirty-five; Iowa, thirty-one; California, twenty-nine; Missouri, twenty-five; and Wisconsin, twenty-four.

The States which produce nearly three-fourths of the whole wheat crop of the country. Nearly a third of the entire crop yield of the United States was grown in Illinois, whose product amounted to three hundred and twenty-five million bushels. The other great crop States are Iowa, which produced two hundred and seventy-five million bushels; Missouri, two hundred and two million; Indiana, one hundred and fifteen; Ohio, one hundred and eleven; and Kansas, one hundred and seven. Of oats the product in Illinois was sixty-three million bushels; Iowa, fifty; New York, thirty-seven; Pennsylvania, thirty-three; Wisconsin, thirty-two; Ohio, twenty-eight; Minnesota, twenty-three; and Michigan, twenty-two. California and New York contributed nearly half of the barley crop of the United States, the former showing a production of twelve and the latter seven million bushels, while Iowa follows with four and Minnesota three million bushels. Two-thirds of the buckwheat grown in the United States are credited to New York and Pennsylvania in the proportion of four to a half million bushels to the former and three and a half to the latter. The leading rye States are Pennsylvania, with an crop of three and a half million bushels, Illinois, three, New York two and a half, Wisconsin two and Iowa one. We may add that the entire yield of the United States was four hundred and fifty million bushels of wheat, five million of barley, four hundred and seven million of oats, twenty million of rye, forty-four million of barley and twelve million of buckwheat.
