men in the quarry had a raft ready, and were beginning to load it. Ten o'clock brought four feet eleven inches of water, and at noon there were five feet and four inches.

'I've missed it a little,' said Hamp. 'I said the water would run over the dam by noon, and it has still eight inches to rise before doing that.'

'Well, that sort o' a miss don't count,' said Riley. 'You've worked the sum right anyhow, an' the water's deep enough for raftin', an' still a-rasin'. It'll go over the dam in two or three hours more, an' I'll do what I said: I'll shake any man 'at says John Hampton See's a dunce or anything like it. An' that ain't all,' said the old man, rising and striking his fist in the palm of his hand. 'They've been a-sayin' that ole Riley Vaughn didn't value edication; now I'll show 'em. I'm a-goin' to make this dam a permanent institution. I'm a-goin' to build Vaughn & See's foundry an' agricultural implement factory right down the creek there, an' put a big lot of improved machinery in it; an' I'm a-goin' to send my pardner, John Hampton See, off next week to get the rest of his edication where they sell the sort of edication as is good for him—not a lot o' words, but principles and facts. You tell your mother you're a-goin' to New York right away, boy, an' 'at ole Riley Vaughn's a-goin' to foot all the bills outen your interest in the comin' factory. You'll study all sorts o' figgerin' work an' machine principles in the big school in New York what's called the school o' Mines, an' then you'll go to all the big factories an' things.'

This scheme was carried out. Hamp spent three years in study, and returned an accomplished mechanical engineer. He went into the factory as old Riley's partner, and his work is to improve machinery and processes. The firm own many patents on things of his invention, and the factory is the centre of a prosperous region, in which Mr. Hampton See is an especially respected citizen.

PROFESSOR KING AT HOME.

Prof. Samuel A. King the balloonist, whose air-ship was wrecked in the great forest of Wisconsin on October 14, and who tramped about for five days in the wilderness, returned to his home in this city a few days ago. "Well," said he to a Press reporter afterward, "I suppose you want to know something about the wreck. We had a very pleasant night of it after ascending from Chicago. The wind was blowing hard from the lake, and when we got into the air the cooled atmosphere acted so suddenly on the balloon that I thought she would fall again. We went up about a mile and drifted southwesterly across the Illinois prairie, and when night fell we saw lights glimmering from the small villages without knowing where we were. The wind died away and the balloon remained almost stationary in the clouds all through the night."

Signal-service Officer Hashagan, my only companion in the balloon, went to sleep. The car was about eight feet long by seven wide, and we had very comfortable quarters. At the earliest dawn of the day I saw that we were moving again. Our heavy drag-rope was cut and hung 350 feet below us. We had descended imperceptibly until the rope trailed over the roof of a house, and perhaps demoralized the chimney. Then he asked where we were, and a farmer who responded said that we were near Spring Valley, Wisconsin. We went up again and passed a valley which looked like a hole in the ground. Presently we came upon the most beautiful sight I ever saw—a vast field of little hills, rising suddenly from the green prairie and crowded at their summits with a heavy growth of timber We yelled down to ask where we were of a passing pedestrian, and he 'guessed' we were about 200 miles from St. Paul, Minn. The drag rope was still trailing, and it must have hit somebody's house. We heard a gunshot, and then the hum of a bullet close to the balloon. About noon that day we again asked where we were and a man said not more than eighty miles from St. Paul, but that our course would take us a little to the South of the city. I threw out ballast in the hope of striking a higher current, and as the earth fell away and became a vast, undistinguishable plain, I caught my last glimpse of civilization for five days. After two hours in the clouds at a height of 8,000 or 10,000 feet I descended again, and as the clouds broke away under us I believe I said: "Great God, we're in the woods. Hashagan, do you see any house?" As far as the eye could reach it encountered this rolling ocean of trees. A river twisted through the forest, and, believing we had traveled northward through Minnesota, I said: 'We are on the Mississippi, anyhow.' The balloon descended in the tree-tops, after climbing a steep hill with an ease which we appreciated when we carried the balloon down afterward. Finding an opening in the forest, we split up the balloon and soon after, began our long tramp back to civilization. We followed the Flambeau River, eating berries and part of a hedgehog on the way, and finally reached Chippewa Falls, seventy-five miles from the balloon's resting place. You know the rest."—*Phila. What We Hate.

We hate growling, no matter the source or cause and recommend herewith the remedy. Use St. Jacobs Oil and laugh at pain. It will do the work every time.

Absurdly Stupid and Foolish to allow prejudice or ignorance to get the better of good judgment It has been amply shown and conclusively proven that constipation, bad breath, dypepsia, kidney affections and all diseases of the liver, stomach and bowels have been cured and can be cured by simply taking Simmons Liver Regulator. It is harmless; not unpleasant and easily procured—so there is no reason to be ignorant of a true remedy. If you suffer, you have no excuse, for this medicine places certain relief and cure within your reach.

If our preacher would take Peruna his hoarseness would soon leave him.

Henry Stewart, a negro, aged nearly 80, who was insured for $125,000 by graveyard sharks, died at Harrisburg on Saturday night.

It is astonishing how many people hawk up and spit out Catarrhal corruptions when there is so little need of it, as Peruna cures it.

Rheumatism Neuralgia

Sprains, Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

PAIN KILLER has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, IT NEVER FAILS. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c., and $1.00 a bottle.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
