BUTLER CITIZEN.

ONN H: & W. C. NEGLEY. PROP'RS Intered at the Postoffice at Butler a second-classe matter.

REV. WYLLE, of the Presbyterian church of this place, will preach his final ermon to the same on Sunday next.

R. W. SMITH, Esq., a prominent member of the Kittanning, Armstrong county, Pa. Bar, died on the 6th inst., in 65th year of his age.

HON. BENJAMIN HABRIS BREWSTER of Philadelphia, has been appointed by President Arthur Attorney General of the United States in place of Hon. Wayne MacVeagh, resigned.

Owing to the press upon our column many matters have to be deferred. The desire of readers to have the full proceedings in the Guiteau trial, for the murder of the late President Garfield, necessarily excludes other things.

"THE Mercer Republican," is the name of a new Republican paper just established in Mercer, Pa. The first number is before us, with a very well written salutatory. While it is to be Republican in principle yet it announces that it will "oppose the growing and dangerous system of Boss rule and endeavor to secure for the people their free, untramelled choice" in nominstions for office. This is the kind of papers wanted at present and the more of them the better. We wish our new neighbor all possible success.

NO PAPER.

As next week will be "Holiday Week," no paper will be issued from this office. We extend to our readers the compliments of the season, and again wish them a "Merry Christmas" and a "Happy New Year "

CARRIER'S ADDRESS.

We are requested by the carrier of the CITIZEN to state that he will, between the coming Holidays, wait upon his friends with the usual New Year's Address, containing a calendar, cards this place, etc.

DEATH OF SAMUEL MARKS.

We regret to learn of the death of Samuel Marks, Esq., who died at his residence in Freeport, Pa., on last Saturday, 17th, inst. Mr. Marks was formerly a citizen of this place, and was esteemed by all who knew him as a man of integrity and worth. While here he filled the office of clerk to the county commissioners for some years, and was afterwards elected treasurer of the county, in 1857. Since that time he has been connected with the internal revenue service in this district, and was regarded as a very faithful and most capable officer. We have not learned his exact age, but suppose it to be about sixty years. His remains were interred at this place on Tuesday.

NEW YEAR'S GIFT. In our next issue we will give the ubscribers to the CITIZEN a neat Calndar, for the year A. D. 1882. This we conceive to be the most useful gift we can present them. It will be a neat one, with border, and of size convenient for being cut out and pasted or tacked up for reference.

NEXT GOVERNOR. The Philadelphia Press hits the nail on the head when it says: 'There is no overwhelming necessity for nomthe office or reading room of the Riggs inating a Republican candidate for House in the course of six weeks, and had several brief conversations with Governor of Pennsylvania in Washington. Did space permit we would say more on this subject at present, and will take the first fitting opportunity to do so. The matter of Governor is one of so much importance to the people that they do not want to make another mistake in their candidate.

COLLECTOR TWENTY-THIRD DISTRICT.

"Senator Mitchell and Representatives Bayne, Shallenberger and Miller and Colonel John M. Sullivan, Collector of Revenue in the Twenty-third district of Pennsylvania, called on the President this morning and stated to him that it was their wish, and they believed the wish of a large majority of the people of the district, that Col. Sullivan should be retained in the oface of Collector. They cited the fact that General Raum, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, regarded Colonel Sullivan as one of the most capable
