

BUTLER CITIZEN.

New Advertisements. Trial List for May 15. Assessment table for 1882.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The cold weather of last week is supposed to have injured the apples more than any other fruit. New Silks, New Satins, New Moire Satins, New Surah Satins, Silk Warp Cashmere and Nans Velling at L. STEIN & SON'S.

The Winfield township gas well makes an extensive light in the eastern horizon at night. Novelties in Gloves at L. STEIN & SON'S.

Mr. Maben Lowman, lately foreman of the CITIZEN office is able to be out again. He was confined to the house for several weeks by bilious fever. You can always see the latest novelties in Ladies' Neckwear at L. STEIN & SON'S.

Mr. Wm. Humphrey of Portersville, has, within the last few days, shipped five car loads of wool from this point. You will find the best assortment of Fringes, Ornaments, Passementeries and Buttons in Butler and the lowest prices at L. STEIN & SON'S.

Mr. J. A. Clark was exhibiting his horse on our streets yesterday. The "Earl of Ingleson" is a handsome animal. See advertisement in another place. The largest and handsomest line of Canton, Renfrew and Lancaster Dress Gingham in Butler county at L. STEIN & SON'S.

Mr. Lou Stein, Jr. has again been troubling himself on window decoration. Lou gets there in good shape. Gents' fine white and colored shirts, low prices, at Heck & Patterson's.

Choice roll butter sold in Pittsburgh yesterday at 33 to 35; eggs, 17 to 18; prime domestic potatoes at $1.30 to $1.25; imported Irish potatoes at $1 to $0.80. A lot of second-hand Watches cheap for cash, at E. Grieb's.

London has produced a Wilde and Butler, not to be out done; will soon produce a little Wilde, a woman's at $1.25 to that effect. Last Saturday evening resulted in a wedding. Go to J. F. T. Stehle's and see Ole Bull Patent Violin.

Barnam made an affidavit at the Custom House that Jumbo was brought here for breeding purposes, and a free permit was granted. The duty on elephants is twenty per cent. Moire Ribbons, Moire Saab Ribbons, largest line of Ribbons in Butler, at L. STEIN & SON'S.

The Butler County Teachers' Association will meet at Butler May 25th and 26th. A programme will be prepared and published in the meantime. All the new effects in Dress Goods and Trimmings at L. STEIN & SON'S.

Venor has a rival in the person of an old colored resident of Ordell, N. J., who presages the weather nightly by cloud reading. He doesn't often miss it either. He predicts a dry spring and a wet summer. Colored Cashmeres in all the new spring shades at L. STEIN & SON'S.

Mr. W. A. Robinson, of Cranberry township, this county, had two horses stolen last Wednesday night, and found them on Friday at the Red Lion stables, in Pittsburgh, where they had been left by the thief. A new line of Black Cashmeres that excel in elegance of finish, quality and durability at L. STEIN & SON'S.

Mr. West Henderson, of Harrisville, was thrown from his buggy while driving down the plank-road, a mile or two below Butler, last Tuesday night. He was made insensible by the fall, but was not seriously injured. Fertilizers of all kinds, at J. G. & W. CAMPBELL'S.

Preaching at Mt. Chestnut U. P. Church every Sunday at 3 o'clock P. M. Sunday School at 1:30 P. M. Preaching every Sunday at W. O. Spring U. P. Church every Sunday at 11 o'clock A. M., Sunday School at 10 A. M.

The anti-Chinese people are prompt. No sooner was the Senate vote recorded, failing to pass the prohibitory bill over the President's veto, than Senator Miller, of California, introduced the same bill with the single change of making the time ten years instead of twenty.

Men's, Boys' and Children's overcoats, at less than cost, at Heck & Patterson's. Mention has been made of the predominance of lawyers in our government as shown by the list of Congressmen. It may be noted further that the President and his Cabinet are lawyers every one. But those who hold that to be a disadvantage may find some consolation in the fact that they were all successful ones.

Carpets, oil cloths and mattings, cheapest in Butler county, at Heck & Patterson's. The great dry goods firm of A. T. Stewart & Co., of New York, announced last Saturday that they had decided to discontinue their dry goods business, and offered their stocks and mill properties for sale. The fall of this house, is a great surprise to the commercial world.

Old Gold, Tan, and all new Spring Colors in Kid, Silk and Lisle Gloves at L. STEIN & SON'S. The auditor general has sent to mercantile appraisers the following relative to assessing butchers: "If a butcher sells meat in a store or business place apart and separate from his slaughter house, he is a dealer in merchandise and should be assessed as a retailer and taxed according to his sales.

The Ward Hill Plow is sold by J. G. & W. CAMPBELL. Sam'l B. Dick, James E. McFarland and Henry Johnson of Meadville, W. B. Roberts of Titusville, are all named as Congressman-at-large. If there are any more aspiring statesmen in Crawford county please trot them out now so that we can take our choice. Don't be backward in coming forward. Franklin, (Pa.) Citizen.

Heck & Patterson are closing overcoats out, at less than cost to manufacture. A frequent cause of injury to brakemen is a difference between cars in regard to the location of bumpers. Unless the bumpers meet when cars are pushed together to be coupled, the brakeman will be caught. The decision of a case in a York State court holds railroad companies responsible for such accidents, and a brakeman on the Erie road is awarded $5,000 damages for the injuries he received.

Gents' Furnishing Goods, full stock and low prices, at Heck & Patterson's. People who had taken down their heating stoves and taken out their bricks during the warm weather, were badly caught last week. We heard of one family, living near Butler, consisting of six small children, all of whom were made sick by the sudden change of weather and no fires in the house. The first of May is soon enough, if not too soon, to dispense with grates and heating stoves in this climate.

Ladies' Gossamer Gum Coats, cheapest in Butler, at Heck & Patterson's. The "packer" used in oil wells to shut off the water when it comes in below the casing is made of rubber, and is in the shape of a hollow cylinder, which fits over a joint of the tubing especially designed for it. It is put down with the tubing and the weight of the tubing above it causes the rubber to expand and jam against the side of the hole, effectually cutting off the water above from the oil rock below it. One can be seen at Campbell's hardware store in this town.

Wall paper and window shades at J. F. T. Stehle's. Some of our farmers say that the wheat and rye in this county was entirely killed by last week's frost, and advise farmers to turn their stock of all kinds into their wheat and rye fields and let them eat it down to the ground, when it will sprout again from the roots. Mr. Christy Moore informs us that he knows of a farmer who does so every spring, whether there is a late frost or not, and always with good results.

You can have a nice violin for 50 cents at J. F. T. Stehle's. Harry Donaghy and his mother were driven from their buggy last Monday morning but were not seriously injured. They were coming in on the Kittanning road, and the team scared at a narrow gauge railroad engine. The team came up Jefferson street to Main street, up Main street to the Court House, and down the street and across the Pittsburgh bridge at full gallop, and the buggy was broken. The toll-gate keeper stopped them at the gate.

See prices on carpets at Heck & Patterson's before buying. Several weeks ago the Marion, a government ship, was sent to the South Sea Islands in quest of the Trinity, a ship sent out by New London, Conn. while oil firm, to Heard's island for a cargo of sea elephant oil, nearly two years ago, and which did not return when expected. The Trinity had been wrecked and the Marion, found her crew on an island and rescued them. The adventures of the crew of the Trinity as told by one of her officers is published on our first page.

Fine Accordians at J. F. T. Stehle's. The County Commissioners publish this week, their annual statement of the amount of the assessed value of taxable property in this county. This table is worthy of a careful examination by all tax payers. Butler borough leads off with a total valuation of $525,788, but Fairview twp., is not far behind it with $508,556. Clinton, Penn., Allegheny, Cherry and Parker townships have the greatest value in horses; Adams and Clay the greatest in Cows. Saxenbury borough and Washington twp., have the most money at interest; Muddy creek the greatest value in buggies, and Butler borough the greatest in watches.

The Pearl shirt, the finest dress shirt in the market, only $1, at Heck & Patterson's. Ladies' and Gents' Gossamer Gum Coats, cheap, at Heck & Patterson's.

Mrs. Samuels, Jesse James' mother, remarked at the funeral of her son: "I knew it had to come, but Jesse, my dear boy, is better off in Heaven to-day than he would be here with us." This will excite some speculation, and if Jesse has gone to Heaven with a few hundred murders to his account, it becomes interesting to know where all the other murderers are now tenting.

The Acme Harrow is sold by J. G. & W. CAMPBELL. Drilling was discontinued at the Crowe well last Tuesday evening. The fourth sand found in it was not very thick, not more than five or six feet, and contained but little oil, not enough to make it worth pumping. The fact that the fourth sand is so very light speaks well for the territory. A third sand oil field always holds out best. This well was located forty rods east of a 22 1/2 degree line passing through No. 1 well, and is 1 1/2 rods west of the 22 1/2 degree line passing through the Simcox & Myers well. This makes rather a bad showing for the 22 1/2 degree line business, and as none of the new wells that have been started will be down for at least three months, people who are anxious to know in which direction the belt or pool extends will have to possess their souls in patience.

Carpets, fine stock, at low prices, at Heck & Patterson's. The question of the duty of the authorities of a borough in removing ice from pavements and crossings has just been considered by the Supreme Court in the case of Kline against the borough of Mauch Chunk. Kline stepped on snow made slippery by travel while crossing a public thoroughfare, and falling sustained injuries for which a jury awarded him $500 damages. The borough took the case to the Supreme Court, which holds that boroughs cannot prevent general slipperiness of the streets and crossings by snow and ice, but that it can prevent accumulations of the same which render pedestrianism dangerous. As it did not appear that Kline had fallen on a ridge of snow, the Court held that the verdict should have been in favor of the borough.

Hats, Caps and Gents' furnishing goods, cheap, at J. F. T. Stehle's. Terrible Accident. Mr. Martin Eisler, gardener, of this place met with a terrible accident last Thursday morning, which may have proved fatal. That morning Mr. William Rihlander Sr., with the aid of his son Henry, and Mr. Isiah Balph, undertook to remove an old fashioned log pump from the well just back of his blacksmith shop. This well is twenty-seven feet deep, and was dug and the pump put in in 1854. The pump stock is in three pieces, the lower piece which is about eighteen feet in length and which has stood in from 13 to 15 feet of water for nearly twenty-eight years. To take it out they used a windlass, which had one wooden and one iron handle and placed two iron bars across the hole, to which to fasten the logs while slipping the rope down for a fresh hold. They had taken the upper and middle pieces of the pump stock out and were about taking out the lower piece, when Mr. Eisler happened to notice them at work and came up from his residence to lend a helping hand. The rope was fastened to the lower piece and it had been raised so that the end of it was some feet above ground. Mr. Eisler, while standing on one side of the windlass, and Mr. Balph on the other—when the wooden handle in Mr. Eisler's hand broke. This jarred the other handle from Mr. Balph's hand and the heavy log commenced descending and the windlass revolving very rapidly. One of the handles of the windlass struck Mr. Eisler's left arm, breaking it in two places and throwing him in a stooping posture under the revolving windlass where he received several terrible blows on the back of the head from the handles of the windlass, before falling across the iron bars. Had it not been for the bars he would have fallen headlong into the well. He was carried home and medical aid summoned, when it was found that his skull is fractured in several places, and that his life was in danger. Up to yesterday he was still alive, but if he survives, he will be a cripple for many months, perhaps for life. Mr. Eisler's family consists of himself, wife and six small children. He is in very poor financial condition, and his only support has come to him at the only season of the year, during which he makes any money. A subscription is being taken up in aid of this distressed family. The members of the church to which they belong, the German Lutheran, are subscribing liberally, and it is hoped that everybody who can, will give their mite to help them out of their need. Some of the money they will get for the necessities of life, long before Mr. Eisler becomes able to do anything toward their support.

Patronize the "Union." The iron for the Etina bridge should be hurried up. A substantial board fence is building around the school lot. Ninety dollars were stolen from the vest of Lewis Owen, at Forestville, one day last week. The entertainments of Thursday and Friday evenings of this week promise to be very good. One of our western tourists has been relieved of $150 by a pick-pocket. J. D. Taggart was home from Beaver Falls last week on a visit. He reports business very lively in that town. A great improvement has been made in the appearance of the new cemetery in the last few days by the planting of arbor vitas around many of the lots and of ornamental shrubs throughout the greater part of the cemetery. P. S. F., has frequently referred to a wedding which he solemnly assures us is to take place this spring. Of course we all "tumble," although few of us ever dream of it coming off so early. But come, P. S. F., don't feel so down in the mouth about it, take comfort from the old saying, "There are as good fish as the sea." The party of six, which left here last week for Oregon, has been heard from frequently. At last accounts Kansas city had been reached. At that point they report that all the members of the company were in good health. BILLY WILLIAMS.

A Stroke at the Standard.

TRUSVILLE, Pa., April 14.—A number of so-called special telegrams from this city, purporting to give accounts of the reorganization of the Union Oil Company, were more remarkable for lack of correctness than anything else. That the company has reorganized is true. Among those who have embarked in the new scheme are H. L. Taylor, John Satterfield and Thos. S. McFarland, all of the firm of H. L. Taylor & Co., Managers of the Tidewater Pipe Line; and W. B. Gowen, President of the Reading Railroad Company; Charles Parish, John Scott, S. Burke and Amasa Stone, all heavy capitalists and largely interested in railroads. The prime object of the corporation is to compete with the Standard Oil Company, and if possible break the death-grip it has for several years held on the oil interest on both of Western Pennsylvania but of the entire country. While its operations may not, perhaps, be conducted on the same extensive scale as the Standard's it will be no mean opponent and will speedily make itself felt—with the Union refineries, the Tidewater Pipe Lines and the railroad backing which is represented by the gentlemen last named in the list of incorporators, there is no reason why successful competition cannot be entered into. In case the old plan of lowering the price of oil is adopted by the Standard, it is probable the enlarged and strengthened Union will be able to stand it as long as the older company.

As is known to the Union Oil Company hitherto done business in Philadelphia and in this city. Under the new management it is understood that the principal scenes of operation will be in Western Pennsylvania, with Titusville as a center. New refineries will be built, and smaller ones bought. Even now agents are at work negotiating for the purchase of the numerous pipe lines with which the oil regions are crossed and recrossed, and it is said they have every prospect of success. Mr. Thomas S. McFarland lands in New York to Liverpool to-morrow, in order to secure loans for the new enterprise, and also to sell some of the stock which has yet remained in the hands of the reorganizers. The original $4,000,000 stock of the Union Oil Co., was raised to something like $7,500,000, of which not quite all was taken. The assistance of English capitalists will be secured, and the establishment of a foreign agency effected before the return of the representative.

Capture of a Thief in Zeleno. In the Allegheny Mail, of last Thursday, we find the following: Anton Molitor, a carpenter, who resides at No. 119 Juniata street, robbed of $250 last week. Mrs. Ball is the housekeeper of Molitor. Her grand-son, Andrew Ball, has been boarding at the house for some time. He occupied the same room with Molitor. The latter kept his money in a bureau drawer in his sleeping apartment. On last Thursday morning young Ball informed him that he was going to the country for a short time, and left the bureau drawer open. On occasion to use some money, went to the drawer where he kept his savings and discovered that it was gone. He immediately suspected Ball of being the thief, and Chief of Police Long was notified. The matter was placed in the hands of Detective Willis, who traced the young thief to Zeleno. A warrant was sent to Constable Weiger of that place, who arrested Ball and brought him to this city last evening. He was given a hearing before Mayor Peterson this morning and pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny. He was held in the sum of $300 bail for trial at court.

Burning of Wise's Dance Hall. The dance hall, erected by Mr. Leonard Wise, on his lot, back of the county jail, seven years ago, was burned to the ground last Monday night, or rather early Tuesday morning. The house was sent to Constable Weiger and shortly after the alarm was given, but owing to the bursting of the hose, were prevented from saving the building. They saved Mr. Wise's residence, however. The fire originated from an egg hatching arrangement that Mr. Wise's son and Harry Donaghy had started in the basement of the building. The incubator is supposed to have exploded, and the flames must have reached a ten gallon can, filled with oil, and have exploded it, previous to the fire being noticed, for when Mr. Wise attempted to put it out by throwing water from his pump on it; the more water he threw on it the more it seemed to burn. His son had been out to see that the incubator was working all right, about an hour before the building was 35x85 feet, entirely of frame and cost Mr. Wise over $1,600. His insurance policy expired ten days ago, and as his policy on his house will expire shortly he thought he would wait till he had the two buildings insured together. He places his loss at, at least $1,500.

A Corpse Revives. CHARLESTON, W. VA., April 14.—Miss Jenkin, of Blue dead last Monday. After the funeral service, while the friends were taking a last view of the body, signs of life were observed. The body was removed from the coffin and taken home where indications of life are still visible.

A Generous Gift. NORWICH, Conn., April 12.—The noble gift of John F. Slater, of this town, of $1,000,000 for the education of the colored race, is characteristic of the man. His design in making offer to the New York Legislature, where it is represented by Rutherford B. Hayes, Chief Justice Waite, Governor Colquitt, Rev. Phillip Brooks and others as trustees of the John F. Slater fund, was to-day introduced, and was in his own words, "To uplift the lately emancipated population of the Southern States and their posterity by conferring on them the blessing of a Christian education." He further adds: "I am encouraged to the execution of this charitable foundation of a long cherished purpose by the wisdom and success that have marked the conduct of the Peabody educational fund in a field of operation not remote from that contemplated by this trust. The general object which I desire to have exclusively pursued is the uplifting of the lately emancipated population of the Southern States and their posterity by conferring on them the blessings of a Christian education. The disabilities formerly suffered by this people and their singular patience and fidelity in the great crisis of the Nation, establish a just claim on the sympathy and good will of humane and patriotic men. I cannot but feel compassion due, in view of their prevailing ignorance, which exists because of no fault of their own."

Mr. Slater further suggests that the education of teachers for the colored race may be the wisest purpose to which the fund can be put. If, after 32 years, three-quarters of the trustees shall for any reason agree there is no further use for the fund in the form of an institute, Slater authorizes them to apply the capital to the establishment of foundations subsidiary to those existing in institutions of higher education, so as to make them more freely accessible to poor colored students. The fund he especially wishes neither principal nor income to be expended in land or buildings for any other purpose than that of a safe and productive investment for income.

The Petroleum Outlook. The outlook for better prices for crude petroleum in the near future is encouraging, notwithstanding the new developments in the Sheffield and Butler oil fields. It is conceded on all hands that the Richburg field has reached the highest production which can be reasonably expected, and that the extent of the territory in that section is clearly defined. The Bradford field is gradually declining in production and the new strikes in other territory do not more than make up the decline in the yield of old wells. The total oil production is now placed at 75,000 barrels per day, and in the first of August the yield will decline to 65,000 barrels per day.

From the best informed sources we learn that the demand during the year 1882, will average 65,000 barrels of crude per day. For the eight months ending with February 24th, 1882, the output of the petroleum reported is officially reported to be $34,453,551, an increase of over $9,000,000 compared the exports of the same period for 1881. This demonstrates, in a measure, the increase of the foreign demand and consumption. The home consumption is rapidly increasing, especially in the Southern and Western States.

It is generally believed that with the declining production and increased consumption, it will not be long until the large stocks in the oil region will be drawn upon heavily, crude oil will then command $2.00 per barrel. This is a rosy picture but we believe it is justified by the actual condition and tendency of the petroleum trade.—Pennington Citizen.
