

BUTLER CITIZEN.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Stopping of the Clock.

Surprising! The instantaneous calm, the sudden silence, the hushed chamber small; starting, life may seem in half an hour—The clock has stopped—That's all.

The clock has stopped! Yet why have I found an instant feeling almost like dismay? Why note its silence so near to its sound? For it has ticked all day.

So many a life beside my own go on, And such companionship my needed keep; Compassion scarce recognized till gone, And lost in sudden sleep.

And so the blessings heaven daily grants Are in their very coming almost hid; We little heed what we are everth our want—Until it answers not.

A stranger's talk on familiar ways, As some pale face were gone beyond recall—Some thought of those who sleep with all our days—Some clock has stopped, that's all.

The Medicinal Value of Vegetables.

A celebrated cook book discusses the medicinal value of vegetables, as follows: "Asparagus is a strong diuretic, and forms part of the cure for rheumatic patients at such health resorts as Aix-les-Bains. Sorrel is cooling and forms the staple of that soup and herbs which the French lady will order for herself after a long and fatiguing journey. Carrots, as containing some quantity of sugar, are avoided by some people, while others complain of them as indigestible. With regard to the latter accusation, it may be remarked, in passing, that it is the yellow core of the carrot that is difficult of digestion—the outer a red layer, is tender enough. In Savoy, the peasants have recourse to an infusion of carrots as a specific for jaundice. The large sweet onion is very rich in those alkaline elements which counteract the poison of rheumatic-gout. If slowly stewed in weak broth, and eaten with a little Nepaul pepper, it will be found to be an admirable article of diet for patients of sturty and sedentary habits. The stock on of cauliflower has the same sort of value, only one of the stalk of a cauliflower is so fibrous and unpalatable that few persons would thank you for proposing to them to make part of their meal consist of so uninviting an article. Turnips, in the same way, are often thought to be indigestible, and better for cows and sheep than for delicate people; but here the fault lies with the cook quite as much as with the root. The cook boils the turnip badly, and then pours some butter over it, and the eater of such a dish is sure to be the worse of it. Try a better way. What shall be said about our crochic action, of which a French old woman, like a French doctor, well knows the value, and when properly cooked it really very easy of digestion."

A Peculiar Funeral Ceremony.

Boston, July 31.—A very peculiar and interesting ceremony was performed by the Chinese at the funeral of Moy Dick (Gua-to-wo), who died of pneumonia a day or two ago. Between thirty and forty Chinese assembled, clad in full native costume, and each wearing a white silk apron, upon which were worked in velvet the square and compass—the symbol of the Chinese Masonic Order of United Chinese Brethren—of which the dead Mongolian was a member. The first funeral service was held at the residence of the deceased, where a table was covered with a white cloth, and upon it were placed a bowl of rice, in which were placed a number of small lighted torches and candles; on the second table there were a large dish of baked rice, and a large bowl of tea, and a number of small cups filled with rice and chopsticks. After a few minutes of silence six Chinese, who assumed the duties of Buddhist priests, and who were dressed in white and black costumes, appeared at the sides of the coffin and tables and chanted prayers and responses. The tables were cleared of the first food, and on the first table they laid a piece of pork and another roasted pig, while on the second table oranges and different varieties of Chinese food were placed. The prayer for the dead was again resumed, lasting nearly a half-hour. After prayers to "Joss" had been duly rendered, those of the Chinese who wished paid their respects to the dead by coming to the front of the first table, two by two, and kneeling and bowing their heads to the ground a number of times. During the services, the Chinese band, consisting of a "Tom Tom," cymbals and other instruments, played different selections. The procession then marched to Mount Hope, where the interment took place, the grave being covered with tables used at the funeral and quantities of prayer on slips of paper, many of which were distributed along the road.

A Suit Instituted to Decide Whether Edison is the Inventor of the Electric Light.

Special Dispatch to the Press. RACINE, Wis., Aug. 6.—During the approaching term of the Circuit Court in this city a suit will be instituted, which for magnitude and general interest will exceed any other case ever tried in this part of the country. The case is brought by the United States Electric Light Company, of New York, against the Edison Electric Light Company, of the same city, and virtually involves the existence of the giant corporation's claim of being the inventor of the incandescent electric light. On behalf of the United States Company it is claimed that the light was really invented by W. K. Freeman, a well-known scientist in this city, and that Edison, after seeing Freeman's invention, took out patents in his own name. Freeman is in the employ of the United States Company as electrician. The best patent lawyers in the country have been engaged and over 3,000 depositions have already been taken. The United States Company claim that the only hope Edison has in staying off the suit for three or four years ending the benefit of the business of the intervening time.

Punched Coins Counterfeit.

An opinion of timely interest was recently rendered by Judge Lowell, of the United States Circuit Court, in Massachusetts, with reference to silver quarters and half dollars with pieces cut out and the holes filled with other metal. Judge Lowell holds, and that whoever so mutilates them or knowingly passes them is guilty of counterfeiting. The reasoning by which he reaches this conclusion is as follows: These denominations are required to be of a certain weight and fineness, and are not a legal tender if they fall below the fixed standard. "If such a coin," he says, "has had an appreciable amount of silver removed from it we cannot say that it remains a good coin for its original value, or even for proportionate value. If then, the hole is plugged with base metal or with any substance other than silver this is an act of counterfeiting, because it is making something appear to be a good coin for its apparent value which was not so before." This decision ought to be a timely warning to the rascals who have not scrupled to file bits of silver from coins to the annoyance and inconvenience of the entire community.

Hay Fever.

Mr. A. L. Avery, Pharmacist, New Ark, N. J., having been afflicted for eleven years with Hay Fever, after trying almost everything with no avail, I gave up all hopes of being cured, when I purchased of you a box of Ely's Cream Balm. To my surprise, after a few applications, I was entirely relieved. R. Watson Harris, Letter Carrier, No. 14, New P. O., Newark, N. J.

Liver, Kidney and Bright's Disease.

A medicine that destroys the germ or cause of Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Kidney and Liver Complaints, and has power to root them out of the system, is above all price. Such a medicine is Hop Bitters, and the positive proof of this can be found by one trial, or by asking your neighbors, who have been cured by it.

The Cross Mark.

The mark which persons who are unable to write are required to make in the form of a cross, and this practice, having formerly been followed by kings and nobles, is constantly referred to as an instance of the deplorable ignorance of ancient times. This signature is not, however, invariable proof of such ignorance. Anciently, the use of such a mark was not confined to illiterate persons, but was used by the most distinguished and the most famous of the world's great men. On this account, Mr. Charles Knight, in his notes in the "Pictorial Shakespeare" explains the expression of "God save the mark" as a form of ejaculation approaching to the character of an oath. The phrase occurs three or four times in the plays of Shakespeare, but for a long time was left by the commentators in its original obscurity.

"Bachupaiba" Cure.

New, complete cure 4 days, urinary affections, smarting, frequent or difficult urination, kidney disease. $1 at druggists. Prepared by express, $1.25, 6 for $5. E. S. Wells, Jersey City, N. J.

It is scarcely surprising that the age is so full of falsehood when such a vast number of words are compelled to pass through false teeth.

Dyspepsia, heart-burn, nausea, indigestion, etc., are always relieved by Brown's Iron Bitters.

If your husband smokes, gentle lady, treat him as you would a smoking lamp. Don't put him out, but let him down easy.

If you have scrofula, don't fail to use "Dr. Lindsey's Blood Searcher." Sold by all druggists. It will cure you.

Cooked his own goose: "Mr. D., if you'll get my coat done by Saturday I shall be forever indebted to you." "If that's your game it won't be done," said the tailor.

A fashion journal says: "Jane brides are the sweetest." Maybe so; but it is the general impression that those who have the most "sugar" in their own right are not sour, by any means.

When you have the blues, and feel all out of sorts, then your liver is diseased, and you need "Seller's Liver Pills."

The cause of the cyclone has been ascertained. Out in the tornado-tossed region there is a band composed of young ladies who are learning to play the cornet.

Reports of the revival of the national game of base ball are very encouraging. Five deaths have already resulted from it in this State this season. The more life that is thrown into the game the more deaths result therefrom.—Norristown Herald.

Every truth has two sides; look at both before committing yourself to either." Kidney-Wort challenges the close proximity of its ingredients and its grand results. It has nothing to learn from truth. Doctors may disagree as to the best methods and remedies for the cure of constipation and disordered liver and kidneys. But those that have used Kidney-Wort, agree that it is by far the best medicine known. Its action is prompt, thorough and lasting.

General Scripture Circulation.

The American Bible Society has undertaken the fourth general supply of the United States with the Holy Scriptures. Its purpose is to canvass the country and furnish a copy of the Bible to every family and every person who will receive it. The magnitude of the work is to be seen from the growth of our country in extent and population. At the date of the first general supply in 1829-30, the population was 12,866,000, and Missouri was the most western State. When the second distribution occurred, in 1855, the population was 26,500,000, and seven new States had been added, including Texas and California. In 1866, the Society's Jubilee, when a third distribution was made as a thank-offering, the population was nearly 37 millions, covering 36 States and four Territories. There are now 38 States, nine Territories and the District of Columbia, and the population numbers nearly 53 millions, emigrants are coming in at the rate of a thousand a day. The need of such a thorough distribution is seen in the fact that out of 714,636 families visited by the Society's representatives, 111,932 were found without the Scriptures, and 81,995 were supplied, besides 46,530 individuals not included in these families. 101,095 volumes of the Scriptures, in fifteen languages, were distributed among the newly arrived immigrants at the port of New York. This is a work to which all Christians should gladly contribute and in which they may gladly co-operate.
