An Altercation. There is great excitement at Brookville, Jefferson county, over an unfortunate affray between to well known citizens of the place and the subsequent death of one of them. It appears that Dr. C. W. Stebbins, a dentist, had been drinking quite freely of late, and on Tuesday afternoon while in this condition be got into an altercation with Dr. Sweeny, an old resident of Brookville. Epithets were exchanged which was followed by a stunning blow, which Dr. Sweeny planted on the forehead of his antagonist. The latter recled and feel back, striking the back of his head against a post. Further hostilities were prevented and Steb-hins, after having his wound dressed, continued his perambulations about the town. In the evening he became very ill and died suddenly. Opinion is divided as to whether death was caused by the blow, by the fall against the post or from natural causes. Dr. Stebbins was over fifty years of age, as is Dr. Sweeny, who is a man of excellent reputation.

It is seldom that we can commend a book so strongly as that named above. "TREASURY OF SONG," is indeed a treasury. It contains nearly 300 choice selections of song from the various departments, sacred, classical, humorous. These extend over 500 royal octavo pages,

The Kansas City Journal says: "There is not a song in the entire collection that could be omitted without marring the completeness of the book." The Rev. R. B. Hull, of New York City says. "It is impossible, I think, to make a better." Professor Hugh A. Clarke, of the University of Pennsylvania declares, "I am glad to bear my testimony to the excellence and variety of the selections it contains. Prof. Clarke, is one of the highest authorities in music.

A series of sketches, and portraits of entimels musicians and singers is included in the book, making in all about 550 pages. The binding is beautiful and in every respect the work is superb. It has been published by Hubbard Brothers, of Philadelphia.

This Oil is abstracted from peculiar specie of small white shark, caught in the Yellow sea, known as Carcharodon Kondeleth. Every Chinese fisherman knows it. Its virtues as a restorative of hearing were discovered by a Baddhist Priest about the year 1410. Its cures were so numerous and many so seemingly mireulous, that the remedy was officially proclaimed over the entire Empire. Its use became so universal that for over 300 years no deafness has existed among the Chinese people. Sent, charges prepaid, to any address at $1.00 per bottle.
