An exchange very seasonably says: Take care of the health of your family. This is the time of year when all graces, stoves, &c., used in winter should be made ready for use at a moment's notice. There is twenty times the danger of taking cold in this changeable and treacherous weather than there is in mid-winter, when everybody has heavy fiannels on, and is expecting nothing but cold weather. A severe cold taken now may keep you coughing all winter, and will certainly make you less able to endure the cold weather. Those who get safely through the next two months may consider themselves safe until the early spring days tempt them to relinquish flannels too soon.

mauufactured into pint bottles at the glass works, in this town, last Monday. This was the first work done at the works. The glass is taken from the pot on the end of an iron tube. A slight blow through the tube causes the melted glass on the end of it to take the shape of a small globe. This is then placed in an iron mould of the shape and size of the bottle. The mould is closed and some vigorons blowing causes the glass to take the shape of the mould. The mould is then opened and the bottle taken out and carried to a furnace, where the neck is heated and trimmed. The bottles are then placed in a large oven, which has been heated and are allowed to cool in it. Some more bottles will be made to-day, and after all the broken pots have been replaced work will ploceed regularly every day. Each pot of glass will make about 1,600 quart or 2,400 pint bottles, Everything about the establishment works satisfactorially. After dinner of that day officer Hughes was on guard in the inner court of the jail, where the prisoners, as is usual, were taking exerise. Suddenly and without warning he was seized by several men, one of cell. Before he could recover from the surprise of the sudden attack the cell door was locked, and he found himself helpless prisoner. Fifteen prisoners witnessed the attack upon the guard, but were awed into silence by a display of weapons in the hands of the desperadoes. No sooner had the work of silencing the men been accomplished when Jail Physician Hope and th turnkey entered the court yard. Entirely ignorant of what had taken place, they proceeded leisurely a few yards without noticing anything suspicious. Quick as a flash with revolvers drawn. the five men who had quieted Hughes rushed upon the two officials, and in a trice had them "dead to rights," bound, gaged and locked in a cell

Without standing upon ceremony the armed gang ordered the fifteen prisoners to their cells. The men read determination upon the faces of the gang and made no show of resistance, and were locked up. With the keys secured from the turnkey they had no trouble in making their way to the fore they could make any outcry, and, unnerved by the flourish of weapons in the hands of the five prisoners, quickly obeyed them and were locked up in a room of the Sheriff's office, where their cries could not be heard. The coast was now clear, and the desperate party hastily left the jail and struck out for the open country. Their presence on the streets was not noticed, and they were thus enabled to get a good start on their pursuers. It was fully an hour before the imrisoned officers were discovered by Sheriff Kile. They were immediately liberated, the alarm was given, and in a very short space of time the Sheriff and a posse of 50 men set out in pursuit of the jail-breakers, and at last accounts were scouring the country. Before nightfall they struck a trail, sighted the escaped prisoners and exchang-ed shots with them. They have bagged no game, however. A reward of $500 has been posted for the capture of the desperate criminals.

IN BUTLER COUNTY. On Wednesday night the party stole a horse and buggy from J. L. Patter-son, near Blacktown, Mercer county, and next day were traced as far as Centreville, this county, where all trace of them was lost. The reward for their capture has been increased to $1,200.

Bold, dashing, adventurous and patriotic; loyal friends, to country and the interests of society, their work was singularly effective in the advancement of western civilization. With seeming recklessness, their efforts were in the interest of law and order, and the people owe them a debt of gratitude they do not forget. Their page of history is as fascinating as it is honorable, and there is a peculiar pleasure in reading the narrative of their wonderful exploits. Among those, whose careers were singularly adventurous, are Kit Carson, Wild Bill, Buffalo Bill, Capt Payne, whom thrust a gag into his mouth, Texas Jack, Calfornia Joe, Capt.
