According to the Mercer Press, Strange Hallucination of James C. Parker. At about ten o'cleck last Wednesday night, Mr. James C. Parker of Mercer twp, rode up to the Sheriff's residence in this town, hitched his horse, and going in, announced that he had come to give himself up. Though the night was cold he was thinly clad, and was apparently greatly excited. In reply to a question from the Sheriff he said that they were after him, that Reel the Harrisville constability of the sheriff he said that they were after him, that Reel the Harrisville constable had a war apparent to P in, but that he had given them all the slip and had come to give himself up. Secing that the man wits not in his right mind, but having no authority to confine him, the Sheriff sent him to the Donaldson House. Here he said by the fire, soon became drowsy and was pat to bed. During Thursday he acted strangely, but was not boisterous. The only thing the hotel people noticed in particular was the immense amount of water he drank. Mr. Donaldson says that he went to the water cooler about every five minutes, and each time drank aglass full. That night he slept well, and next day, Friday, acted rationally up till about nine o'clock in the evening, when he suddenly beame persensed with the idea that somebody was charging him with electricity and destroying him both mentally and physically. He would call upon the imaginary person to desist and threaten to get square with him—always, while talking, looking up a the ceiling of the room. The hotel people now attempted to put him to bed, and pulled off his boots, and then made the aston is hing discovery that the bed was charged with deletricity that thousands of wires were attached to it and that if he laid down in it, his scerest would be telegraphed to all his enemies. He pulled his boots off and on seven to accommodate the new mines now road. The officers deserve great credit have shown in getting new mines have been completed on the new connecting line to Butler.
