TORNADOES.

Scientifically Accounted for, and Some Remote Causes that produce Painful Results Explained.

The following synopsis of a lecture delivered by Dr. Horace R. Hamilton before the New York society for the promotion of science, contains so much that is timely and important that it can be read with both interest and profit:

There is probably no subject of modern times that has caused and is causing greater attention than the origin of tornadoes. The origin of tornadoes has been studied in the past by the most eminent men have investigated it for the welfare of the families. It has been a vexed subject long considered, and through all this investigation the cyclone has swept across the land carrying destruction to scientists as well as to the innocent dwellers in its track. One thing, however, is certain; the cause of the cyclone must be sought far away from the whirling body of wind itself. Its results are powerful; its cause must also be powerful. Let us therefore consider a few facts. First, the appearance of a cyclone is invariably preceded by dark spots upon the sun. These spots, indicating a disturbed condition of the solar regions, necessarily affect the atmosphere of our earth. An unusual generation of heat in one part of the atmosphere is certain to cause a partial vacuum in another portion. Air must rush in to fill this vacuum. Hence the disturbances—hence the cyclone. This theory finds additional confirmation in the fact that tornadoes come during the day and not at night. The dark spots upon the surface of the sun, whatever they may be, seem to cause great commotion in the atmosphere of the world, and it is almost certain that the extremely wet weather of the present season can be accounted for on precisely this basis. In a reasonable support to the marvellous life in general shall be less than upon the atmosphere itself through which it rains come? The cause is remote but the effect is here.

After describing some of the terrible effects of the cyclone, the speaker went on to say:—
This theory finds its application in nearly every department of life. An operator in San Francisco—the click of the instrument manipulated by his fingers, in New York. The president makes a slight change of the pen in his study at the White House, and the whole nation is aroused by the act. An uneasiness and disgust with everything in life, commonly called homesickness, is felt by many people, when the cause is to be found in the distant home thousands of miles away. An uncertain pain may be felt in the head. It is repeated in other parts of the body. The appetite departs and all energy is gone. Is the cause necessarily to be found in the head? The next day the feeling increases. There are added symptoms. They continue and become more aggravated. The slight pains in the head increase to aches. The nausea becomes chronic. The heart grows irregular, and the breathing uncertain. All these effects have a definite cause; and, after years of deep experience upon this subject, I do not hesitate to say that this cause is to be found in some derangement of the kidneys or liver far away from that portion of the body in which these organs appear. But one may say, I have no pain whatever in my kidneys or liver. Very true. Neither have any evidence that there is a tornado on the less certain of the sun; but it is none the less certain that the tornado is here, and it is none the less certain that these great organs of the body are the cause of the trouble although there may be no pain in their vicinity.

I know where I speak, for I have passed through this very experience myself. Nearly ten years ago, I was the picture of health, weighing more than 200 pounds, and as strong and healthy as any man I ever knew. When I felt the symptoms I have above described, I was in a minority, not only by reason of their aggravating nature, but because I had never felt any pain before. Other doctors told me I was troubled with malaria, and I treated myself accordingly. I did not believe, however, that malaria could show such aggravated symptoms. It never occurred to me that analysis would help solve the trouble, as I did not presume my difficulty was located in that portion of the body. But I continued to grow worse. I had a faint sensation at the pit of my stomach nearly every day. I felt a great desire to eat, and yet I loathed food. I was constantly tired and still I could not sleep. My brain was unusually active, but I could not think coherently. My existence was a living misery. I continued in this condition for nearly a year; never free from pain, never for a moment happy. Such an existence is far worse than death, for which I confess I earnestly longed.

It was while suffering thus that a friend advised me to make a final attempt to recover my health. I sneered inwardly at his suggestion, but I too weak to make any resistance. He furnished me with a remedy, simple yet palatable and within two days I observed a slight change for the better. This awakened my courage. I felt that I would not die at the time. I continued the use of the remedy, taking it in accordance with the directions, until I became not only restored to my former health and strength, but of greater vigor than I have before known. This condition has continued up to the present time, and I believe I would have died as miserably as thousands of other men have died, were it not for the fact that I had been kept in every day had it not been for the stimulant power of Warner's Safe Cure, the remedy I employed.

The lecturer then described his means of restoration more in detail, and concluded as follows:
My complete recovery has caused me to investigate the subject more carefully, and I believe I have discovered the key to most ill health of our modern civilization. I am fully confident that four-fifths of the diseases which afflict humanity might be avoided were the kidneys and liver kept in perfect condition. Were it possible to control the action of the sun, cyclones could undoubtedly be averted. That, however, is one of the things that cannot be. But I rejoice to say that it is possible to control the kidneys and liver; to render their action wholly normal, and their effect upon the system that of purifiers rather than poisoners. That this end has been accomplished largely by means of the remedy I have named I do not have a doubt, and I feel it my duty to make this open declaration for the enlightenment of the profession and for the benefit of suffering humanity in all parts of the world.

Superior Excellence.

The reasons for Peruna's superior excellence in all diseases, and its modus operandi, are fully explained in Dr. Hartman's lecture in his book on the "Mills of Life, and How to Cure Them," from page 1 to page 10, though the whole book should be read and studied to get the full value of this peerless remedy. These books can be had at all the drug stores gratis.

Peruna is the best immediate expectorant (cough medicine), that has yet been compounded by physician or druggist. There is nothing in medical print that can at all compare with it. And no less so is it the very best Tonic, Stimulant, Nervine, Diuretic, Alterative, Anti-Dyspeptic, Appetizer, Hematic, (blood medicine), &c., &c., that has ever been compounded by doctor or layman. It should, therefore, always be kept on hand for immediate use.

—A factory for the manufacture of shirts is about to be established at New Castle.

—Dr. Benson's Celery and Chamomile Pills contain no opium, quinine, or other harmful drug and are highly recommended for headache, neuralgia and nervousness. 50 cents, at druggists.

—The strike at the Beaver Falls wire works remain unchanged.

A sufferer from Rheumatism.

I limped about for years with a cane, and could not bend down without excruciating pain. Parker's Ginger Tonic effected an astonishing cure and keeps me well. It is infallible. M. G. Galt, Binghamton, N. Y.

—As long as there are lightning rod sharpeners and book agents the fool killer will be needed.

—A great many people feel themselves gradually failing. They don't know just what is the matter but they suffer from a combination of indescribable aches and pains, which each month seems to grow worse. The only sure remedy known that will counteract this feeling and restore perfect health is Brown's Iron Bitters. By rapid assimilation it purifies the blood, drives out disease, gives health and strength to every portion reached by the circulatory system, renews wasted tissues and restores robust health and strength.

—Very little good will come of preaching against the sins which you yourself privately practice. You will resemble the friar who preached against stealing when he had a stolen pudding in his sleeve.

—A dressing to beautify gray hair every family needs. Parker's Hair Balsam never fails to satisfy.

—Don't try to do more than you can do well. There is an old Hebrew proverb which runs, "He that hires one garden eats birds; he that hires more than one will be eaten by the birds."

*"Revenge is too dearly purchased at the price of liberty." It is a disordered liver giving you a yellow skin or coeive bowels, or do your kidneys refuse to perform their functions? It is a few doses of Kidney-Wort and nature will restore each organ, ready for duty. Thus health will be cheaply purchased at the price of Kidney-Wort.

—A large soul is a piece of personal property which every industrious man can acquire; but some men have souls so small that a whole regiment of them could stand "on the tip of a pine stick whittled down to nothing."

What it did for an Old Lady.

CHOCOSTON STATION, N. Y., Dec. 28, 1878.

GENTS—A number of people had been using your Bitters here, and with marked effect. In one case, a lady of over seventy years, had been sick for years, and for the past ten years has not been able to be around half the time. About six months ago she got so feeble she was helpless. Her old medicine, or physicians, being of no avail, and get a bottle of your Bitters. It improved her so she was able to dress herself and walk about the house. When she had taken the second bottle she was able to take care of her own room and walk out to her neighbors, and has improved all the time since. My wife and children have also derived great benefit from their use.

—Some one says truly that when you put excessive heat and excessive cold together there is little wonder that so many people die.

—If you are sick read the advertisement of "Wilson's" on another page. This is discovered to be nature's own remedy for the restoration of lost health. No medicine.

It is the greatest scientific discovery of the age, and is doing a most wonderful work among invalids, and those given up by physicians as incurable.

—Mineral waters are healthy because chemical analysts say so, and chemical analysts say so because they are paid for their recommendation. This is the reason why so many people recover their health at the Springs.

Hopeless Epilepsy Cured.

"The doctors pronounced my case to be one of hopeless epilepsy," says our correspondent, W. C. Browning, Attorney at Law, Judsonia, Ark., "and declared that to be my only relief. Samaritan Nervine has cured me." Get at druggists. $1.50.

—If you are a real man, then do a real man's work, say nothing about it; but if you are only a rooster, why, of course, you can't help crowing at nothing.

Fright in the Farm House.

Family all taken sick at night. Unusual symptoms. Seemed like poisoning. What could it be? What had they eaten? Was it arsenic in the soup? Was it strychnine in the coffee? Was it rats-bane in the pie? None of these. The cistern had not been cleaned for a long time. The family had been drinking impure water. They were all dead, only that they took Perry Davis's Pain Killer. Family well. Farm-house happy. Everybody pleased.

—If you wish to know whether you are an honest man don't ask your mother, for she will be partial and blind, and don't ask yourself, for you are a very poor judge, but seek the candid opinion of the man to whom you have sold a horse, and you will surely get at the bottom facts of the case.

The Wide, Wide World.

LIMA, REPUBLIC OF PERU.—Senor A. de La E. Delgado, L. L. D. and Counselor, Tribunal of Justice, Lima, Republic of Peru, says: One single application of St. Jacobs Oil, cured me completely of rheumatic pains in my left arm. I recommended it to two of my friends, the Mrs. Dona Juana Garcia, widow, and Mr. D. Herman Decker, a German gentleman. Madam Garcia was relieved entirely by the pain-cure from terrible rheumatic pains of ten months standing. Mr. Decker was cured of inexplicable pains by a single application of the cure. My brother used the great remedy for a species of paralysis of the arm. He was entirely relieved from his ailment by one or two applications, after having tried numberless other remedies without effect.

—The moral law against profanity ought to be dispensed whenever the mercury soars into the nineties. There are some circumstances under which it is impossible to express an honest opinion without the use of words ordinarily forbidden.

Roger's Liverwort and Tar.

Is one of the most reliable cough medicines ever prepared. It has brought thousands back from death's door, who had been given up to die of consumption. Dr. Roger's Syrup of Liverwort, Tar and Cane Sugar, has a reputation second to no other cough medicine in the world. It is a specific for asthma. Read this.

Mrs. C. A. Ellis, of Washington, D. C., writes:—"This is to certify that I used Dr. Roger's Liverwort, Tar and Cane Sugar for asthma, and consider it the best remedy I ever met. I have suffered all my life with it, till I used the Liverwort and Tar. It is nature's own remedy."

Mathew's Hair Dye gives a natural color to the hair or whiskers, and does not crack.

Spalding's Cephalic Pills. Celebrated remedy for headache, and for constipation, indigestion, &c.

—Henry Carey, who was born in 1663, wrote another good thing, these lines, which will not wear out by repetition:—

I envy no mortal, though ever so great, Nor scorn I a wretch for his lowly estate; But what I abhor, and esteem as a stain, Is poverty of spirit, not poverty of purse.

—Mr. Charles K. Selver, Wrightsville, Pa., says: "I used Brown's Iron Bitters as a tonic and it did more for me than I thought it would."

Physician's Wine of the Oporto Grape.

New York physician says that they have been using Spear's Port Grape Wine and Wine Tonic in their practice for years, to the entire satisfaction of their patients and themselves, and take great pleasure in recommending them to the public as being all that is claimed for them, and, in fact, the most reliable they can find. It is especially recommended for constipation, the aged, and females generally. For sale by D. H. Waller.
