SAMUEL B. SNYDER, of Butler.

For County Surveyor,
B. F. HILLIARD, of Washington twp.

The great coming event is the Soldiers' Re-union here next Tuesday. With good weather a large number may be looked for.

It is said the friends of Mr. Reuben McElvain will induce him to enter the lecture field, and if he does, success will surely attend him.

If you would vote November 6th, pay your taxes by October 6th. And mind, the courts hold one man cannot go and voluntarily pay another's taxes and thus give him the right to vote.

H. B. DOWSER, Esq., of Mercer, has been appointed through Congressman Miller to a position in the House at Washington, to last until the 1st of January next.

The Erie Conference of the M. E. Church meets at New Castle this week. The Revs. J. M. Bray, of Parker, G. H. Hall, of Emlenton, and W. Brantford, of Farmington, all being 3 year men, will have to move.

DR. JAMES W. MEHARD, a distinguished physician of Mercer, Pa., died last week, in the 36th year of his age. He was a son of Dr. S. S. Mehard, who we believe, some years ago resided and practiced medicine in this place.

We learn that the dispatch from Cleveland, copied into our last issue, relative to bad treatment to a certain Sarah Jane Blubaugh, was incorrect in so far as it stated she was from this county. The people about Martinsburg, this county, where it stated she was from, know nothing of such a person.

MR. THOMAS P. LARDIN, formerly of Kears City, this county, and now of Jamestown, N. Y., came all the way from the latter place to attend the reunion of the 11th Reserves at Blairsville last week. We were glad to meet our friend Lardin. He visited his father, Mr. William Lardin, of Clinton twp., while here.

At one day's session of the Senate at Harrisburg last week there were only 11 Republican members present out of 30, and 14 Democrats out of 20. In the House on the same day the roll call showed 71 members absent. Nevertheless their pay goes on—$10 a day—Sunday included. Is it any wonder the people are complaining of this do nothing Legislature? The only regret is that the faithful members have to suffer with the idle ones.

THE Philadelphia Ledger, organ of conservative sentiment, in its editorial scores the reckless disregard of the plain requirements of the Constitution, by the Republican members of the Senate: "The Republican Senators appear to be determined that they shall have at least their full share, if not more than their share, of the odium attached to a failure to pass the appropriation bills. Their resolution to simply go through the motion of meeting twice a week and to refuse to consider any proposition is a distinct announcement that they will not do or make any further attempt to do their sworn duty. Having reached such a determination they should have adopted one more resolution—to resign their offices. They would appear in a better light if they assumed a virtue though they had it not."—E. E.

THE Butler Eagle is the only paper in the State we notice which, while professing to support the Republican party, yet is endeavoring to make discord in its ranks. While from the State Central Committee down all are rejoicing in the harmony that has been restored, and the union that now exists in the party, and are giving the anti-Cameron men of last year praise and credit for their action and bearing this year, yet the Butler Eagle continues snapping like a blind snake. It still persists in its silly scribbles—said to be a lame duck—to fill its editorials weekly with matter calculated to distract and defeat the party in this county. All this is as untimely as uncalculated, and it is to be hoped that paper will soon come to see the folly of its ways. It is injurious for this fall's election as well as for future ones.

UNCLE JAKE ZIEGLER is getting in his work these days. Not content with $10 a day at Harrisburg, he has brought suit against Butler county for the sum of $1,732, being 20 per cent. commission upon $8,659 of State tax which he claims had been illegally assessed and paid by the county, and which he recovered. The Commissioners claim that they never made any contract with him at all and had no part whatever of his services. And so the matter stands until the suit is decided.—Mercer Dispatch, Sept. 28.

While the suit alluded to above was a surprise to all here, and looks like an attempt to make the county pay a collection fee on what was hers by operation of law, and settled in her favor by the accounting officers of the State, yet we are informed by Mr. Ziegler that he has no interest in the matter and does not propose to have any interest in it. We deem this statement but simple justice to him.

A PLEASANT RE-UNION.

And a Speech not Down on the Bills.

The Second Re-union of the 11th Penna. Reserves took place at Blairsville, Indiana Co., Pa., on last Tuesday week, Sept. 25. The surviving members of the two companies, C and D, recruited from this county in that regiment, were present on the occasion and report having been royally entertained by the citizens of Blairsville and as having had a very interesting and pleasant time.

Toasts were given and responded to; one "The Absentees at Roll Call," being responded to by Capt. G. W. Fieger, of this place.

After the regular exercises Mr. Reuben McElvain of this place, being present, was called upon for a speech. He is reported as having entertained his old comrades in a very amusing manner. Mr. McElvain, we might mention, is admirable in telling a story. During his remarks on this occasion he told the story of the "Dutch Comrade," who got into the hospital at Washington during the late war. This was told in Mr. McElvain's inimitable manner and "brought down the house," as the saying is. He is to speak at the Soldiers' Re-union here on the 9th inst, and we understand he has been requested to repeat this story in his remarks. It will be worth coming some distance to hear it. If Reuben takes the lecture field he will attract crowds beyond any doubt.

The Parker Fair.

The Fair held at Parker last week was the best yet held there and a success in every way. Many people from the four counties of Butler, Armstrong, Clarion and Venango were present. One pleasant feature noticed was that they generally came with their baskets full—in picnic style—and when dinner time came whole families were to be seen, all over the extensive grounds, taking their dinners together in their wagons, carriages or upon the green grass.

The entries exceeded the expectations of the managers. Fine horses and stock were brought by the Foxes, Grants, Tippers and others of Clarion, and by the Andersons, Brahmans, Crawfords, Martins, Parkers, Jamiesons, Sloans, Hayes, Grants, and others of this county. While these did not equal in extent those at the Butler Fair, yet in some things the Parker Fair excelled us. In the matter of swine, for instance, we think this was the case. And in the vegetable line also—the Vegetable Hall being very fine and well filled. We never saw finer potatoes, apples and other fruits.

On Thursday, the third day of the Fair, the largest number was in attendance, as many as 6,000 people being estimated upon the ground. And a more pleasant and intelligent looking body of men, women and young folks we have not seen. The best of order prevailed and everything passed off quietly and well. The management deserve great praise for the successful arrangements for the Fair in all respects. Mr. Needie, of the Phoenix, who is Secretary, we observed was kept quite busy and we were told he makes a very efficient, obliging and attentive officer.

The Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court of this State convened at Pittsburgh on Monday last, for a session of nine weeks. The first four weeks of the term will be devoted to the argument of cases from Western counties, and the remaining time to Allegheny county cases. Several important cases from this county have been taken up, among them the case of John Smith, Esq., plaintiff in error, against the Commonwealth, defendant in error, which will likely be argued and determined.

The County Ticket.

We would again call the attention of the Republicans of this county to the importance of the election of the county ticket. Although but few to elect this fall yet they are important, for many reasons. There are no elections to the candidates. They were fairly nominated. But we all remember that a part of our county ticket was lost last year although fairly nominated. This was done by the deceit and trickery of professed friends. We hope there will be no such work this year. Yet we deem it proper to give this caution. All that is necessary is to get out the Republican voters and success will be had, not only in the county, but in the State, a matter of the greatest importance to future success.

As the Senate sits but two days in the week, and each Senator gets $70 a week, the Harrisburg Patriot thinks the Senators are $35 a day men. They are more high-toned than the Democratic house, which is content to earn its ten dollars a day by sitting half an hour for four days in the week. That's the only difference.—E. E.

The Delaware County Record, a staunch Republican newspaper, published in Chairman Cooper's own county, this discusses the responsibility for the present legislative muddle: "Governor Pattison used but rightful prerogative and constitutional authority when he called the Legislature together to perform a neglected duty; the Senate majority exceeded its rightful authority, unnecessarily prolonged the extra session by its persistent and dogged refusal to confer and cooperate with the House upon the appropriation measure, and committed the additional folly of issuing its ultimatum that it would have its own way or there should be no appropriation, and made and provided by the laws and the constitution."

An Indiana Horror.

LAFAYETTE, IND., September 27.—No more frightful or mysterious crime was never committed than the murder of Ada, the beautiful 15-year-old daughter of the wealthy and well-to-do couple, the late Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Adams, of Oxford, Ind. Mr. Adams and his wife had gone to their farm at Atkinson station, on the Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis and Chicago railroad, and left at home their two daughters, Lucy, a young lady about 18 years of age, and Ada, not yet 15, a bright and handsome girl. About two miles from the farm, on the road to Oxford, where she was alone, she was murdered. The body of the unfortunate girl was found by a wild cry the sister whirled about and fled down the stairs out of the house, screaming at the top of her voice. In the garden she was stopped by an old man who has been an attaché of the place for years. He held her and tried to quiet her, and finally succeeded in getting from her an account of what she had seen. A passing neighbor was called to the scene, and the alarm given. Crowds of excited people flocked to the scene of the murder. A telephone message to Atkinson Station apprised the father of the horrid deed of his daughter. Mounting his horse the old gentleman rushed to his violated home. The news was conveyed as gently as possible to the poor mother, whose health is already broken down by grief at the loss of her eldest daughter, Emma. It is thought she cannot survive the shock and sorrow. She was conveyed home in a phaeton later in the evening. Among those who hastened to the scene of the tragedy were Drs. H. C. McConnell and A. W. Wells, of Oxford, Pa. A post-mortem examination was made as soon as the crowd could be got out of the room.

The examination revealed the fact that there had been no struggle. The bed was undisturbed, save in one place, where it looked as if some one had been seated or forced down upon it. There was no blood upon the walls or furniture, and no upon the floor, save the blood of the murdered girl, but there was plentiful. Nothing was disarranged. The body lay face down, with the right arm doubled up under it. The left thrown over the head. The work was evidently done with a large, dull knife, for the wounds, twenty-five in all, were all of them rough and jagged. Probably the first blow was made while the poor victim was endeavoring to escape. It was a fatal blow. The jugular vein was severed and the large artery was cut, and great torrents of warm life-blood came pouring out, saturating her clothing and the carpet. A cruel cut across the abdomen laid the bowels protrude. It was a most sickening sight.

There was absolutely no clew to the murder. Robbery was not the motive, for nothing had been disturbed. Several gold watches and $300 in cash remained untouched. Several theories have been advanced. But they are all held to be impracticable. It is hardly murder by lust. Only one arrest has been made, but it is not deemed important. Mr. Atkinson offers $500 reward and the county will offer $500. It is now believed that she was not outraged. Perhaps the villain, held at bay by the poor girl, struck the fatal blow and finished his heinous work by horribly mutilating her body. People in the neighborhood of the girl's home are intensely excited, and if the guilt is fixed they would make short work of the guilty party.

Pay Your Tax.

Under the new Constitution of Pennsylvania an absolute requirement of every voter over twenty-two years of age, is that he shall have paid a State and County tax within two years of the election at which he shall offer to vote. Formerly this tax could be paid on election day, and in many places voters were never challenged on account of non payment of it. But now it must be paid at least thirty days before the election, so that the only time left to voters is between now and October 6th, and we therefore earnestly urge upon all voters to have their taxes paid to vote, to hunt up the collectors and pay their taxes at once. Those who paid their taxes last year are not required to do so this year to secure their vote, but let all such be sure and hunt up their receipts. The tax required to be paid is very light, and no voter should neglect this important duty to do so will endanger his franchise.

A Re-union and a Wedding.

A very pleasant social event occurred at the residence of the widow of the late Judge Cummins, near Murfreesville, this county, on Sept. 29, consisting of a family re-union and a wedding. The happy couple being Miss Lizzie Cummins, of that place, and Mr. James Scott, of York, Pa. The wedding was celebrated inauspiciously, but before the hour arrived the clouds lifted and the sun shone on the bride and groom as they, with the re-united family, consisting of about forty members, gathered with quite a number of invited guests, repaired to the orchard, where the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Gleason, of Clintonville, all of which all present had a gala day. The bride and groom and the honored mother were the recipients of many useful and valuable presents.

Happy Homes! Happy Homes!! Happy Homes!!!

THE NUMBER OF HOMES MADE HAPPY
by the use of the Celebrated Labor and Health-Saving Day's Soap.

Is beyond power of computation. Our facilities for the production of it are taxed to the utmost to supply the orders that pour in upon us from this great wide and progressive country. Right here in your section it is being used extensively and many can testify to its wonderful properties.

READ THE EVIDENCE BELOW.
Messrs. DAY & FRICK. Having been made acquainted with the ingredients of your celebrated DAY'S SOAP, I am compelled to say that I have never used any other soap. It is perfectly harmless, and may be used with impunity even in washing the most delicate infants, the most fastidious beauty. It is purifying, refreshing, deodorant and disinfectant. No soap, no matter how good, is so good as DAY'S SOAP. It is the only soap that will not irritate the skin, and it is the only soap that will not irritate the eyes. It is the only soap that will not irritate the throat, and it is the only soap that will not irritate the lungs. It is the only soap that will not irritate the stomach, and it is the only soap that will not irritate the bowels. It is the only soap that will not irritate the bladder, and it is the only soap that will not irritate the kidneys. It is the only soap that will not irritate the liver, and it is the only soap that will not irritate the spleen. It is the only soap that will not irritate the pancreas, and it is the only soap that will not irritate the gall bladder. It is the only soap that will not irritate the stomach, and it is the only soap that will not irritate the bowels. It is the only soap that will not irritate the bladder, and it is the only soap that will not irritate the kidneys. It is the only soap that will not irritate the liver, and it is the only soap that will not irritate the spleen. It is the only soap that will not irritate the pancreas, and it is the only soap that will not irritate the gall bladder.

Messrs. DAY & FRICK. Having used your DAY'S SOAP, we can say it gives satisfaction, being much superior to others hitherto used for laundry purposes. Yours, Steward, Elizabeth Gen. Hospital and Dispensary.

Messrs. DAY & FRICK. I am using your DAY'S SOAP, and could not be induced to use any other for any amount of money. I have been suffering with skin rashes for a number of years, and could use no soap until I met yours, and to my great surprise, it healed my skin, and now I can do a day's wash without any suffering.
