The frightened neighng of horses, the shouting of excited men, the roaring of the crackling flames, all tended to make the scene one of terror and grandeur combined, and will always form a never-to-be-forgotten event in the men's minds who witnessed it. One of the great curses in many such cases, turned up here, viz: a scarcity of water, and when the de- works, boiler and girder shops, gun partments of both cities arrived on the ground, much of their work proved in-operative from this cause. In very quick time, Chief Evans and the engines of district No. I were on the ground, but the flames had augmented to such a pitch of fierceness that no amount of

How the fire originated is still a mystery. The first alarm was given at 1.50 A. M. from the boiler room at the south end of the building, near Machinery Hall. The tinder like condi tion of the building made easy prey for the flames, and almost quicker than it takes to write it, the whole southern end of the structure was a seething ass of uncontrollable flames. The hundreds of gingerbread jimcracks which adorned the cornices and walls served as powerful assistants to the pearances healthy dwelling houses, in fierce flames, sending forth a crackling roar, which could be plainly heard all round the enclosure.
