The G. A. R. reunion and parade in Pittsburgh on Saturday last Tuesday, was a grand success, although it rained very hard that morning and the streets were very muddy. The number of men on foot, by actual count, was 4,167, and the ambulance corps added in the neighborhood of four hundred to the total.

To pass a given point took thirty-eight minutes. At Greenville made a flagrant mistake, and the route, many of the men being unable to stand the long march in the mud. Post No. 105, of this town, numbering thirty men, under the command of Newton Black, marched with the Third Division, and some men from Harrisville and Centreville marched with them. The parade in the city, via the P. & W. R. R., until half past three, when the parade was over. An Allegheny paper stated that a seven foot giant from this county attracted great attention, being frequently mistaken for a giant. We are sorry that we do not know who it was, unless it was the man who carried the flag—a man who lived near Harrisville, but whose name we did not learn.

DEATHS. VOEGELY.—At his residence in Pittsburgh, South Side, on September 24, 1883, Mr. Frank Voegely, aged 67 years, 1 month and 19 days.

Mr. Voegely was the elder brother of Mr. George Voegely, of this place, and the late William Voegely. He was a man held in high esteem by his friends and neighbors, and was a good citizen of this county.

Our dear, beloved James was called away from us who fondly loved, and dear. To heavenly mansions long above the skies. We have no doubt, we have no fear.

Now we, bereft most do without thee, James! God, our Heavenly Father, will comfort us. There is a vacant chair and place at home, which never can again be filled.

It is so sad and lonely now at home, For one we loved so dearly here. And still we think we hear thy gentle voice; Thy welcome footsteps; Oh! how dear.

We fondly hoped that God would lift thee here. For many long and happy years. But He, from toil, did kindly call thee home; And we are left alone in tears.

'Twas hard for us to part from thee, dear James, Whom we so dearly, fondly loved; But still it soothes our aching, breaking hearts, To think thou art at home above.

Thou art not dead, we know full well, Though laid awhile from mortal eyes; We hope that we shall meet thee once again, At home beyond the azure skies.

To be with thee forever in the land, Where saints and holy angels dwell, To sing "The Song of Moses and the Lamb," The anthem of creation's end.

And may the thought that thou art happy now. Redeem us saved by Christ in love, Console our aching hearts, and closer bind us to our Heavenly Home above. W. E. B.

HOW THEY DO IT. The Manner in Which Newspapers Obtain Their Most Interesting Reading—An Excellent Illustration of it.

Few positions in journalism are so important as that of the "exchange editor." To those that are unacquainted with the workings of a large newspaper, it may be stated that the "exchange editor" is the man who uses the scissors and paste-pot.
