IOWA ELECTION.
 Republicans Carry the State.
 Iowa stands firm to the Republican cause and her election last week is some relief to the loss of Ohio. The following is the latest from Iowa:
 Chicago, Oct. 11.—A special to the Journal from Des Moines, Iowa, says: Sherman's majority will reach 30,000. Complete returns from fifty-nine counties, which include heavy Democratic districts, give 13,300, and partial returns from the remaining counties give him 27,000. His plurality will not be less than 13,000. The Lower House is close. The Republicans now have fifty-four, and the opposition forty-one. Of the remaining five the Republicans will get three. The Senate now stands, Republicans, thirty-seven; opposition eight; in doubt, five; Judge Cook is elected to Congress in the Sixth District by a small majority. The Democrats now concede 20,000 majority to Governor Sherman.

We are pleased to notice among the Republicans elected in Ohio to the Legislature the name of our friend, Mr. W. D. Johnston, formerly of this place, and who was married here to Miss Carrie Walker, daughter of Mrs. Nathaniel Walker. While here he attended the Witherspoon Institute. He is elected to represent Huron county. We congratulate him on his election.
 A "Farmers' and Breeders' Live Stock Insurance Company" has recently been organized in this county. The object of the association is to afford farmers and owners of horses and cattle a protection against losses occasioned by death or theft. This would appear to be a much needed kind of insurance in this or any community. The intention, we learn, is to make the association as extensive as possible. Hon. A. D. Weir, is President of the company; Capt. Thomas Hays, Vice President; R. D. Stevenson, Treasurer; Dr. J. E. Byers, of Butler, Secretary, and James Stephenson, James S. Hayes, and Julian A. Clarke, Isaac Lefever and Bartholomew Nebel are the Executive Committee, all of this county.
 Reid Institute.
 REIDSBURG, CLARION CO., October 6, 1883.
 Messrs. Editors:—Permit a few words concerning this academy and normal school (for both sexes). It is designed to meet the wants and to secure the patronage of Baptist Associations in north-western Pennsylvania. Although it is owned by the Baptists of Clarion Association, and controlled by the Baptists, it is free to all. It is located in Reidsburg, Clarion county, and was founded in 1862. It commenced its twenty-first year on Tuesday, September 6th, 1883. Nearly 1700 students have received their education in part or entirely at this school. Of these there were 18 ministers. Of students for the ministry there are 7 at present. Of lawyers it has schooled 8. Of physicians 10. County Superintendents 1. The most of the remaining students have been and are teachers. Many are business men and farmers. The school has made a grand showing. Three of its principals were, A. L. Lane, A. B., now Professor of a college in New England; A. B. Rittenhouse, A. B., Government Surveyor, (deceased), and C. A. Gilbert, A. M., present Principal. The school was a success under each and largely attended. The school was founded by Sister Joanna P. Moore, who is now a missionary in the south. It has borne an undisturbed character. It has at present a board of eleven trustees of which Rev. B. H. Thomas, D. D., is president. Prescott Hall, burned down during the brief principality of Prof. J. B. Solomon, is now rebuilt one-half larger. Students are prepared in academical education for business, for professions, or any avocation.
 The school is beautifully situated on the bank of Pine Creek, on a level grove above the town, in a forest of pine and oak, and with many picturesque sceneries. The present is a pleasant one. Last year there were ten counties represented. Those who wish to have the advantage of a schooling I advise them to try Reid Institute this winter term will open on November 20th. For information address the Principal or President of the Board of Trustees, Reidsburg, Clarion county, Pa. J. W. NEYMAN.

 COURT next week for civil cases.
 THERE are 93 counties in the State of Ohio, and only 67 in Pennsylvania.
 SEVERAL interesting communications from different parts of the county will be seen in other places of this week's CITIZEN.
 THE Prohibitionists of Ohio still have hopes that the amendment to the Constitution has carried. Up to the latest news received the vote is close, with several counties yet to hear from.
 OWING to a press of job work the issue of the CITIZEN was delayed a little during the past two weeks. Our subscribers at some of the offices in the county will know from this the reason of their papers coming a day late.
 MR. WILLIAM LARDIN, of Clinton Twp., who has been confined to his home for some time past, was able to be in town Monday last. His son, Miller Lardin, of Fayette county, accompanied him. We were pleased to see them.

The election in Ohio last week was for State officers and the contest was fought upon local issues. Principal among these local issues was the liquor question, in no less than three forms.
 The Democrats have elected their candidate for Governor by at least 10,000 of a plurality, and the balance of their State ticket also. They have also carried the Legislature, thus giving them entire political control of the State.
 There were three amendments to the Constitution of the State voted upon. Two of these had direct reference to the liquor question. One provided for the regulation and assessment of the liquor traffic, in a manner similar to that in Pennsylvania. This was voted down, not receiving a third of the vote cast. The other was a prohibitory amendment, and was, of course, directly opposed to the other, as if carried, it carried down the whole liquor business. On this last the contest was principally made. There were about 700,000 votes cast and the latest news we have is that the prohibitory amendment has received at least 320,000 of these votes, but may still lack a majority.
 How parties were affected by this or how to account for the Democratic success, has given rise to various opinions. Taken altogether it appears to be a very much mixed question—if not a puzzle—the only certain fact being that the Democrats have carried the State, on local questions, and, therefore, it cannot be regarded as having any bearing on national politics, or on the vote of Ohio next year.

Why Not Agree to It?
 Last Friday at Harrisburg the Senate passed the resolution previously passed in the House, called the Ormsby proposition, and which provides that the Republicans shall choose Democrats, and the Democrats shall choose Republicans, as a conference committee to which all appropriation bills shall be referred for final consideration. It is the same proposition made by Senator Agnew at the regular session and is so fair that people do not understand why it is not acted upon. It now passed the Senate it seems when a number of Republican Senators were absent, and a motion is made to reconsider it. But why reconsider? How can it work unfairly to either party? How can it damage the Republicans? Why then reconsider? Let it pass and end the miserable farce now so long existing in the Legislature.

Death of Matthew Greer, Esq.
 Among the death notices this week will be seen that of Matthew Greer, Sr., who died at his residence in Buffalo township, this county, on last Wednesday evening, 10th inst. He had been in ill health for some years past, suffering from asthma. Mr. Greer, at one time, served the people a term as County Commissioner, being elected to that office in the year 1861. He was regarded as an able and faithful officer. Among his neighbors he was held in high esteem and served them usefully in many local trusts. He was in the 73d year of his age.

November 6.
 Pennsylvania will hold her election November 6, only two weeks from next Tuesday. We have a good State and a good county ticket, and they should be elected, and will be if the Republican voters go to the election. In this county we hope there will be a full turn out. It is time to begin to move in the matter. Let all awake to the importance of attending the polls in order to secure success. If there has been any apathy let it be thrown off and all go to work. The interest and good of the people should carry elections and not money. When the time comes that only money will bring voters out to our elections it will be an evil day. We say to the Republicans of Butler county, prepare for Tuesday, November 6, and on that day turn out to the election.

A Re-Union Picnic.
 WHITESTOWN, Butler Co., Oct. 8, '83.
 EDS. CITIZEN.—Having been present at the Re-union Picnic of the Wm. Scott family which came off on the 4th inst., I will try to give you a few incidents which I observed. But that you may more fully understand the magnitude of the affair it is proper to say that Wm. Scott, the head of this great Scott connection, came and settled on the "8 tracts," now neighborhood of Moutville, about the year 1794, and was one of the pioneers of that early day. And now his descendants run to the sixth generation and number about eleven hundred and eighty; each generation being represented, except the old gentleman himself who has been dead many years. But two of his daughters are yet living and were present, Mrs. Annie Morrison of Wartenberg and Mrs. Pogy Young, of Perry twp., Lawrence Co., Pa., both well stricken in years. The rest of his family were John, William, Nancy, Jennie, Betsy and Polly, who all lived to raise large families. John being among the oldest, his family is still in the front rank as the oldest, of whom Wm. Scott, of Lancaster twp., is we suppose the oldest survivor of the third generation and is seventy-seven years of age, and was present with four of his sisters, yet is not near the oldest man identified in the connection. Uncle Matthew Stewart, as he is familiarly known, is in his eighty-eighth year and was also present to take part in the picnic dinner, which was a prominent feature of the occasion and a success without a doubt. The table was set in the church yard and formed a hollow square, with a waiter table in the center, and all groaned with the heavy loads of good things of this life, of which the Scott family are noted for getting up and also partaking of, as we think every one present got abundance to satisfy the inner man and yet there remained twelve baskets. Now I will try to tell you something of the goings of the great day. The people began to gather about ten o'clock and in a short time the church yard was full of people and a rig of conveyance. The time until dinner was spent in shaking of hands and general good cheer as many friends who had not seen each other for twenty-five or thirty years, as some of them came from Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and other places far off to be present at this great meeting. A visiting grave yard, which joins the church yard on the north, where the old father's remains rest, was another prominent feature. His tombstone being draped with the American flag and his grave covered with wreaths and flowers. At twelve o'clock dinner was announced. After dinner the assembling proceeded to the church, which is the third one for this congregation and has been built near forty years and is yet in pretty good repairs, and was brought to order by calling Francis M. Scott to the chair and electing Alexander Stewart, Secretary. After which the 146th Psalm, 6 lines, was sung by the

A Fine Monument.
 The family of Mr. Martin Reiber, Sr., late deceased of this place, have caused to be erected at his grave in the south cemetery a very costly and fine monument. It is of the best New England granite. The whole weight of the different blocks of marble composing it we understand is about nine tons. One block alone weighed two and a half tons. It is sixteen feet in height, and taken altogether is much the largest and most imposing structure of that kind yet erected in any of the cemeteries of our town. It is as creditable to the family erecting it as it is a worthy tribute to the deceased citizen whose memory it is intended to perpetuate.

the work of women in the Ohio election last week was conspicuous and great. This time, it may be said, it was women on the one side and wine upon the other. The grape-growers and the wine-makers, together with all the other liquor influences and interests of the State, were arrayed against the proposed Prohibitory Amendment to the Constitution of Ohio. The women took up the battle for the law, were organized, and went from polls to polls on the day of election, beseeching all good men, and all others they could, to vote for the amendment. The result of their labors is the immense vote of over three hundred thousand for the law and its possible adoption. But, if not carried, one more such effort will carry it. Such an effort would have carried it in Pennsylvania this year if the Legislature had complied with the petitions and prayers of the people and given them the privilege of having a vote on the question. It is bound to come, and is but a question of time.
