The aged, the middle-aged, Press says that a farmer of West Franklin township, that county, whose word is as good as old wheat in the mill, says he had a choice hen setting on 19 eggs. One morning on pay-ing the hen a visit he found she had left the nest and he soon preceived that a huge black snake had coiled itself within the nest. Upon seeing this the gentleman stepped back gather-ed a stick and killed the snake. On cutting off the head of the snake he took it by the tail, shaking it over the nest, and the 19 eggs drop-ped back into the nest. The eggs being left in the nest, the hen returned to her nest, and in due time she had hatched 18 little chickens, said by those who have seen them to be rare curiosities. This peculiarity is noticed in the little chickens as being afraid of every stick they see, running back from it in the greatest terror, uttering the cry of fear.
