Probably no political phrase of modern origin has passed into more modern use than "government of the people, by the people, for the people," which is certainly the best definition of popular government extant. It occurs in President Lincoln's speech at Gettysburg, Nov. 19, 1863, in this con-

"That this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

rom the earth."

Thus introduced it is not surprising that the happy phrase should have been considered entirely criginal with Lincoln, which it is not as the following extract shows. In a speech delivered by Daniel Webster, January 26, we have precisely the same

"The people's government, made for the people, made by the people, and answerable to the people."
In a speech delivered by Theodore Parker, May 29, 1850, we have it thus: "There is what I call the American demands.

of the great preacher, as well as the great statesman. Yet he improved upon both in his definition; it is clearer and more compact than either, and therefore better fitted for public use.

In Lincoln's second inaugural is another phrase equally as felicitous, and almost as frequently quoted;
"With malice toward none, with almost as frequently quoted;

"With malice toward none, with man who scatters thorns had better for settlement."

Charity for all, with firmnes in the charity for all, with firmnes in the right."

I have been in Fedinburgh and estate win present them and estate win present them the for settlement.

improved the phraseology even more than in the other case. Absolute originality in such matters is as difficult as it is rare. For instance, when Kossuth was in America soliciting aid for the Hungarian revolutionists, he often, in speaking of money, called it the "sinews of war," and many believing the phrase was his own invention. that the phrase was his own invention. Yet, according to Bartlett, the identiury, says: "The sinews of allars are cut;" and Diogones Lacrtius represents Bion as saying "that riches are "The sinews of affairs are meant. the sinews of business"-meaning public business. Lord Bacon uses the phrase, "sinews of war," precisely as Kossuth did, and the latter probably borrowed it from the English philosopher .- St. Louis Republican.

A pretty good story is told upon the anthority of one of the Post-office Department Inspectors who was sent to North Carolina to attend to the prosecution of a man who had rifled the United States mails. While the Inspector was waiting for his case to be called he sat in the Court-room. A jury filed into the Court-room, and the Inspector observed that it was composed of seven white and five colored men "Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed upon a verdict?" asked the Clerk in that solemn manner which pertains to Court Clerks. "We am, sir," responded an old gray-haired negro man, who had been made foreman of the jury, either out of sport or because of his white head. "What is the verdict?" asked the Clerk, "Why Jedge," said the colored foreman, looking up at the Court "do jury an gone" (LATE OF WASHINGTON TWP)

It is a fact not generally known that the mes Boss Gold Watch Cases really contain more pure gold than many "solid" gold cases The demand for these watch cases has led to the manufacture of a very poor grade of solid gold watch cases— low in quality, and deficient in quantity These cases are made from 43 to 10 karafs, and a 5 or 6 karaf case is often sold for 12 or 14 karats. It is NOT economy to buy a watch case so poor in quality that it will soon lose its color, or one so soft that it will lose its shape and fail to shut tight, thus letting in dust and damaging the works, or one so thin that a slight blow will break the crystal and perhaps the movement. It IS economy to buy a James Boss Gold Watch Case, in which NONE of these things ever occur. This watch case is not an experi-ment—it has been made nearly thirty years.

I sold two James Böss' Gold Watch Gases thirty years ago, when they first came out, and they are in good condition yet. One of them is carried by a carpenter, Mr. L. W. Drake, of Hazleton, and only shows the wear in one or two places; the other by Mr. Bowmen, of Chuningham Pa.; and I can proone or both of these cases at any time.

Wash-day has no terrors for the household where DAY'S SOAP is used, no unpleasant and sickening odors to fill your houses, no laborious rubbing on the wash-board, while the washing can be done in one-half the time necessary by following the old

MADAM -- for it is to the ladies we desire to speak more especially -you are the interested person in this matter; you it is that suffers the ills arising from the wash-tub and its heavy cares; you it is to whom the perplexities and responsibilities of the household rightfully belong, and you it is that should interest yourself in a trial of the qualities of this soap, that has always proven itself to be a boon of salvation

TO SUFFERING HUMANITY.

We do not come to you with a plausible story calculated to have you try it, simply for the amount of money such a sale would bring us; we do not come to you as irresponsible parties, who have no reputation to suffer calumny, but we do present to you this brand of soap upon an absolute guarantee and recommendation of a well-known industrial establishment of Philadelphia, of sixteen years' existence. Do you suppose for a moment it would compensate us to make false statements to you and ruin our well-earned reputation? No, dear reader; what we say about DAY'S SOAP is the truth, and it is sustained by the evidences of thousands of housewives from all over the country, besides which we stand ready to endorse it all with ready cash.
