Republican State Ticket. FOR PRESIDENT,

FOR VICE PRESIDENT. ROBERT T. LINCOLN.

JAMES G. BLAINE.

FOR CONGRESSMAN-AT-LARGE, GEN. E. S. OSBORNE, Of Luzerne county.

For President.

The Republican State Convention obeyed the will of the masses of the Republican party of Pennsylvania and instructed her delegates-at-large to the National Convention to vote for the Hon. James G. Blaine as her choice for President. We raise his name therefore to the head of the CITIZEN this week.

This action of the State Convention is not only in accord with the expressed sentiment of the Republicans of this county but with that of the Republi. cans of the State as well. The six Delegates-at-Large, who are to represent the State at the Chicago National Convention, are all friends of Blaine and are instructed to support him as long as his name is before that Convention. The district delegates are instructed by the people and Blaine should therefore receive Pennsylvania's full yote-about 60. Unless the will of the people is again ignored we look for his nomination on first ballot in the National Convention. The names of the Delegates-at-Large and the proceedings of the Convention will be seen in another place.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT, We also raise the name of Robert T. Lincoln, of Illinois, only son of Abraham Lincoln, the first martyr President of the United States. Should the national convention present these names to the people they will sweep the country beyond a doubt.

FOR CONGRESSMAN-AT-LARGE, We place the name of General E. S. Osborne, of Luzerne county, the nomince of the State Convention, in its proper place.

THE ELECTORAL TICKET, Will hereafter be placed in its proper place. It is a particular matter, as to qualifaction, and may need some re

A Just Complaint.

It seems there is disappointment and bitter complaint following the manner by which the two delegates to the National Convention for this district were which bargain Mercer and Butler counties agreed to divide the delegates between themselves, and did so. By this action it is claimed that Crawford prived of her right to one of said delegates. The charge of unfair dealing in the matter is founded upon the fact, that when the conferees of the three counties went into session the first ballot developed the election of a Butler and a Mercer county delegate. Crawford was thus left out, very unexpectedly to them, and hence the complaint.

Were it not for the fact that the right of Crawford county, to one of the delegates on the present occasion, was freethis county who understood the situation, we would not think the matter worthy of serious notice. In the CITI-ZEN of Feb. 27, we referred to the right of Crawford to one of the delegates to were elected except Milliken. be chosen this time, as a matter that should be conceded to that county. And our only purpose now is to place the Republicans, generally, of this Mr. Blaine, county right in this matter. And this because of the serious effect this action of Butler and Mercer may have in the political affairs of the district. We lin, had presented a resolution declaragree with the Greenville Advanceing for Calvin Wells, of Allegheny, Argus, that honesty is the best policy John Leisenring, of Carbon, and Gen. political affairs of the district. We in political as well as other matters, and that this matter, like chickens, may come home to roost.

The facts are about as follows: Four years ago, 1880, Butler and Mercer counties had the two delegates to the National Convention and Crawford then accepted the Elector. The Elec- victim proved to be General Todd. His tor matter is not regarded as of so name was struck out, Dobson's insertmuch political importance or honor as ed, and with a whirl, unanimously and that of being a delegate. Therefore, without going any farther back than four years ago, Crawford county naturally expected one of the delegates at this Presidential year, and that Butler or Mercer would take the Elector now. to be determined between them which one. This, we are bound in justice to say, would have been the proper action of the conference, the more especially as Crawford is much the larger in population and Republican vote of the three counties of the district. The Republicans of this county should not be held responsible for this dealing to-wards Crawford county in this matter.

HARRISBURG, April 16,-The Republican party of Pennsylvania, in convention assembled, to-day registered the popular will in the formal nomina-tion of James G. Blaine for President and Robert T. Lincoln for Vice President Of the intention of the great majority of the delegates to perform this work in good faith and with enthusiasm there was at no time any doubt. To make sure of it. however, and to make sure of it without any unnecessary delay, the delegate broke in upon the order of proceedings which had been agreed upon and had a vote on the main question just as soon as the permanent chairman, Mr. Grow, had set the wheel in motion for the routine

It had been intended that Senator Stewart should, at the proper time, introduce the resolution of preference and instruction, but he never had an opportunity. When the rural delegate threw in his resolution instructing the Com-mittee on Platform to report Blaine and Lincoln instructions, it was adopted with a rush. One of Magee's Alle gheny men who expressed dissent was actually hissed down. The luckless fellow then called for a division and they gave it to him with a vengeance. Only little group of Philadelphians and Pittsburghers braved another storm of derision by standing up for the negative, and most of the Philadelphians nastened to explain to Mr. Blaine's friends, some that they were in favor of Blaine, but opposed to instructions, and others that their opposition was to the Lincoln part of the resolution. When it came to the consideration of the platform there was not a dissenting voice at the mention of Blaine's name, and the desired instructions were unanimously given.

THE ONLY STRUGGLE. The Allegheny contest nearly wore out the patience of everybody, as it did that of the Committee on Contested Seats, before it came fairly before the Convention. It was referred in the morning to the committee, which was constituted about as agreed For six long hours the committee wrestled with this Allegheny affair, both sides presenting big paper books and being represented by counsel, and it was not until 8 o'clock to-night, several recesses having been taken meanwhile, that the result was announced on the floor. There were two reports, the majority, headed by Senator Stewart, favoring the ousting of the Magee delegates and the seating of the Blaine contestants, and the minority, whose spokesman was Howard Reeder, of with admirers of Magee, and the minority report, which was long and argumentative, was greeted with great cheering. A spirited debate followed, in which Senator Stewart made the speech of the day and Judge Reeder displayed great ability. Thus the whole Philadelphia delegation, with the single exception of Col. Snowden, voted for the adoption of the minority report. There were some excellent nominating speeches, notably those of Col. A. Wilson Norris, naming Jas. McManes, and of Col. Snowden, presenting Hamilton Disston. The other candidates were Senators Emery, Lee, B. F. Jones, P. L. Kimberly, Jessup, James N. Shomo and James Milliken.

Mr. Jones, who was represented by Col. A High Handed Outrage--Removing a Ballot Box. EDS. CITIZEN :- No doubt you have heard of the outrage perpetrated upon the Republican voters of the 2d ward of Butler borough, by the "bosses" of the Greer-Robinson ring, through a catspaw called Howard Colbert. For the benefit of every honest man in the county I will state what it was. At the election held on the 5th of April to elect delegates to the State and Nation Conventions, the election board of the 2d ward was composed of Capt Samuel Walker acting as Judge, and G. C. Pillow and Howard Colbert acting as clerks. After the vote had been counted, it clerks, in the presence of Alfred Wick, at whose hotel the election was held, ballot box should be left in care of Mr. Wick, and should not be debert, one of the election board, without consulting either of the other members, (and knowing that Mr. Wick was away from home) and with his usually pompous, contemptible, and cynical manner walked into the Wick House and asked Mrs. Wick for his box-describingiit to her-Mrs. Wick not knowing it was the ballot box he wanted handed him the box described, and Colbert put it under his arm and went directly to John Greer's office with it. From that time to this it has not been seen by any person except the select few of the "Greer-Robinson ring." doubt the cats-paw in this nefarious transaction was ordered to do what he did by the "bosses" of the ring, and he obeyed the command like a faithful subaltron, "thinking to do God service." The clerks at said election both had a list of voters with a number to each name to correspond with the number marked on the ballot when voted, and there is no doubt but that the bosses know how every republican in the 2nd of names kept by Pillow was inclosed in the envelope with the tally sheet and sent into the convention, but the list written by Colbert was put in the ballot box and the box was then nailed shut and banded to Mr. Wick. Capt, Walker met Colbert on the street on Friday the 11th and said to him, "let us go to the Wick House and get the ballot box and burn the ballots" Colbert answered: "I did burn them." "I was passing there and fearing some one might 'ake it and open it, I got it and burned the ballots." He may have burned the contents of the box after the votes and list of voters had been compared that the bosses might know how every man voted in the 2nd ward. We have all Northampton. The gallery was filled read of the way the ballot box is stuffed in some of the Southern States, but this act of Colbert's was an outrage that throws all ballot box removing into the shade, and has not been equalled since '74 when this same select crowd counted out honest votes, cast by honest men who dared to vote as they thought and that too despite the fact that the lash was applied unmercifully, that honest men might be compelled to vote for a corrupt and dishonest candidate, and that supplemented with lowing the contestees to vote on their the free use of whiskey from Harvey's distillery, and the corrupt and dishon est use made of the money belonging to the depositors of the now defunct National Bank. This year the "bosses' have neither distillery or National Bank to fall back on for a campaign tween the conferees of Mercer and But-ler counties at said conference, and by plish the purposes of the Greer-Robinson ring. Co of Butler.) 88.

Before me the subscriber personally came W. Howard Colbert who being by me duly sworn according to law deposes and says: That he was one of the board for holding the Republican primary election for choosing delegates to the State and National Conventions in the 2nd Ward in the borough of Butler, which election was held on the 5th day of April last. That he was sworn to perform his duties as were the other members, in accordance with the act of assembly in such cases made and provided. That after the ballots were counted, tally sheets and certificates made, the ballots still remaining on the table, he suggested that something ought to be done with them, in orde to preserve them until after the Convention met, on the following Monday. Following his suggestion the ballets were put in a cigar box and the box fastened by him, and at his suggestion and by him, they were given to Mr. Wick, the proprietor of the Wick House, where the election was held, with the request to Mr. Wick that they be kept until they were called for to be destroyed. Capt. Walker, one of the board, at afflant's suggestion was to meet him after the Convention at the Wick House and destroy the ballots. He was not met by any of the board, and was not spoken to on the subject. until about dark of the evening of Friday or Saturday following the Convention when he immediately informed Capt. Walker that he had destroyed the ballots himself-no one else coming. On Doctor Pillow of this place, to repre- the first or second day after the Convention, affiant, as an officer, of the Election Board, acting under his oath, called at the Wick House, and standing in the door-way of the dining room, and in the presence of a number of the boarders of the Wick House, including and in no secret manner, nor desiring Jarge, selected at the Harrisburg in any way to conceal the fact of getting them, he received the cigar box containing the ballots from Mrs Wick, who gave them to him in presence and burned it and the ballots, intact, in the stove in his office. Not a ballot was disturbed or examined by affiant, nor was the box or a ballot seen or after he received it from the hands of Mrs. Wick.

> EDS. CIT.ZEN: - My attention has just been called to a statement by Thomas Roibnson in last week's issue of the Eagle in regard to Mr. Harding's application for licence in Concord twp., and his connection therewith. Whether Mr. Robinson was attorney for Mr. Harding or not I do not know, but I do know that while the license Court was being held, or probably a few days before, I was spoken to Mr, Robinson in regard to Mr. Harding's application. Mr. Robinson informed me that Mr. Harding was married to a Christley, of Centreville, that he, Robinson, was very friendly to that family and was anxious to have Mr. Harding succeed in getting license at Troutman. I suggested to him that he mark his name with mine fo: the application. This he declined doing, but said he would speak or had spoken to Judge Weir on the subject and that Weir was or would be in fa ward voted on the 5th inst. A candidate for most all other offices may personally solicit and button-hole the citizen for his vote, but when it comes to the high office of a Judge, a position requiring legal learning, experience and full competency, then it is regarded as indelicate and out of place for a man to say, "I want you to vote for me for Judge."
