-At a meeting of the council of this town last Tuesday evening the tax rate for borough purposes-streets, water, etc.,-was continued at 8 mills, the same as it has been for the past two years, previous to which for some years it stood at 10 mills on the assessed value.

-The peach trees are sprouting this year at the foot of the growth of last year which seems to have been killed by the unusually severe winter. Much of last year's growth of the grape vines also seem to have been killed, and some vines of the more tender varieties are dead elemether

-A tall, very genteel, dark eyes and hair, and a killing way of saying "Yes, lady," young man, as described by one of his victims, has been defrauding the ladies of Mercer coun-ty, by taking subscriptions to the Young Ladies' Fashion Journal, $2.50 a year and 15 cents postage. He called himself George Brad-ley.

-In selecting a jury for a murder trial in Chicago a few days since, one man was excused by agreement, because of the structure of his head, which was pear-shaped, with the small part at the top. Would he have been accepted if the small part had been at the bottom, or was it the fact of his head being pear-shaped that made him ineligible, and how would it have been if the shape would have been that of an apple or a watermellen, a pomegranate, a lemon or a banana? If eligibility for jury duty is to be decided by the shape of one's head the finit tandard ehould have stitled more im

-In our issue of April 9th, we made a note of the reported decision of the Supreme Court of this State regarding the right of brewers and distillers to sell their liquors at any point within the county in which they are located, excepting the place of manufacture. The case in which the decision was made had not yet been reported; but it is reported in the "Week-ly Notes of Cases" dated May 15, 1884. The case is that of Britton vs. the Commonwealth, taken up from the Quarter Sessions of Fayette Buckets useful when empty. 10 lb Wooden Buckets ly Notes of Cases" dated May 15, 1884. The case is that of Britton vs. the Commonwealth, taken up from the Quarter Sessions of Fayette county. Britton manufactured whisky at Brownsville, Fayette county, and sold it at Connellsville, in same county. He was indict-ed for selling liquor without license, and asked the Court to charge the jury that "If you find that the defendant had a licensed distillery at Brownsville, and sold the whisky there dis-tilled at his warehouse in Connellsville, and did not sell elsewhere in the county, and there only whisky manufactured in his Brownsville distillery, in quantities not less than one gal-lon, he is not guilty." This point was refused and Britton was found guilty and sentenced, whereupon he took out a writ of error, and appealed to the Supreme Court. The Supreme Court in their decision dated Feb. 25, 1884, review the acts of Assembly of April 10, 1849, March 31, 1856 and April 20, 1853, regarding the licensing of distilleries and breweries, and part of the U. S. revenue laws, and decide the defendant was protected under the laws in his sales of liquor at Connelsville by his distiller's license, and reverse the judgment of the Court below. "A distiller of whisky, having a license under the law of this Commonwealth, is at liberty to sell the whisky manufactured by him at any place within the same county where this manufactory is established." The opinion was written by Judge Clark of the Supreme Court, and adopted without dissent, the effect of a statutory local prohibition law not being passed upon. A Card. 12 " 15 . .. BUTLER, MAY 19th, 1884. There are stories in, circulation in almost every township in the county that I own a 200 acer farm, two oil wells, 5 race horses and one half of the stock of the Bald Ridge Oil Company. That I am wealthy and do not need the office for which I am a candidate. I would consider myself fortunate if I had either that 200 acer farm or any one of the above named fortunes. If I owned so much wealth I certainly would not be asking an office. I positively deny every one of these stories and all injurious and slanderous statements which have been put into circulation. I do not own one acre of land, no oil wells or in-terests in any; never have owned a race horse. I do not and never did own one dollar of stock in the B. R. Oil Co., ner any other oil company. These absurd stories have been circulated by some of my competitors to injure me before the scente. Why here the results near heard.

-By a collision on the B. & O. R. R. near Connellsville last Wednesday, between a camp train and a freight train, fifteen men were killed and many wounded. The two trains came together at full speed on a sharp curve, and the tender of one of one of the engines was thrown up in the air and fell through the roof of a car containing fifteen men, twelve of whom were killed. The accident was the result of carelessness on the part of the train dispatcher, who has been out of his mind since it happen-ed.

-E. Grieb, the Jeweler has lately received an immense stock of silver ware, or rather sil-ver plated ware, of the very best manufactured in the country. Some people do not use this ware because they think it is expensive, but it really is not. A set of good silver plated knives and forks, for instance, will out-last three or four sets of steel ones, which have to be scoured at least once a day, and counting the time lost in so doing, and the greater dura-bility of the silver-ware, the latter is much the cheaper in the end.

The principal fight in the county was for the Sheriff's office—the best paying office in the county. The conventions to nominate county officers will each cousist of 329 delegates, the Congressional convention about half that num-ber, and the Senatorial and Assembly conven-tions a still less number. The political mat-ters of the county appear very much compli-cated to an outsider. For each county office there are generally but two candidates, the "machine" and the opposition. Chris. Ma gee and his able licutenants, dictate who shall be the machine candidates, and the opposition to have any show, must have but one. At this writing the result is not definitely known, but the machine men are claiming a pretty gener-al victory.
