DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION—to nominate a candidate for President—meets in Chicago on next Tuesday, July 8.

THE Conferees for this Congressional District met in Greenville on Monday and were in session at this writing, Tuesday afternoon. The conferees chosen by Capt. Flegler to represent him in the conference, for this county, are John T. Kelly, Alex Mitchell and W. H. H. Riddle, Esqs.

HON. A. W. TAYLOR, of Indiana county, this State, is announced in the Republican papers of that county as an Independent candidate for Judge of the same. Indiana county is a separate Judicial district. The Republicans at their late primaries nominated Gen.
Harry White for that office. But owing, we believe, to Gen. White's active and strong part in politics for many years past, his nomination is not received with general favor by the people of that county, and hence the bringing out of an Independent candidate. In favor of Mr. Taylor it is claimed that he is and will be free from all party bias or control in the discharge of the duties of the office. His age, being one of the oldest members of the Bar, and his experience as a lawyer, are also urged in his favor for election in November.

Gas the Coming Thing.

The new gas well on the farm of Mr. Joseph B. Criswell, of Butler p. is one of the strongest yet struck. It is not two miles from Butler, and is in a direct line South from town, and will be standing on the middle of Main street at the Diamond just evening. The roar of the gas from the well is so strong that it also can be heard here at night. The gas is from one of the wells being drilled by Mr.
William Reed, of Sewickly, for oil.
But from present appearances, and the low price of oil, it looks as if gas was already a more valuable strike to have than oil. Mr. Reed, from what we learn, will have no trouble in selling his well for its gas, or putting it in good use for fuel.

Visitors.

Hon. James T. Lane, of Davenport, Iowa, was back to his old home here last week on a visit to his friends.
Mr. Lane studied law at this place and was admitted to the Bar here, and subsequently married Miss Reed, a daughter of Gen. George W. Reed, our respected fellow citizen. On removing to Iowa he soon became prominent in his profession and is now one of the flourishing citizens of the flourishing city of Davenport, that State.

Winfield S. Purviance, Esq., of Pittsburgh, another former citizen of this place, was also here last week on professional business. Mr. Purviance was born and raised here and his many friends are always glad to meet him.

In addition to above our town is almost daily visited by strangers or people from abroad, who are interested in or come to see our rapid developments in oil and gas wells near this place.

To the Electors of the 17th Judicial District, Penn'a., Composed of the Counties of Butler and Lawrence.

At the solicitation of many friends of all political parties, in both counties of the district, I offer myself as a candidate for re-election to the place I now hold.

I have always during my term on the bench, earnestly, faithfully, and honestly tried to do right toward all men, as far as I could see and know the right, and this will ever be my aim and effort.

A careful and just administration of the laws of the land, as far as I could learn, interpret and understand them, with diligent and continuous application, research and study, has been my sole desire and ambition while on the Bench; ever mindful and conscious of the fact also that in every official act I am outbound.

I had been treated with common fairness and decency when a candidate for the nomination at the late Republican primary election and been defeated by an unprejudiced expression of the Republican electors, I would have willingly retired from the great responsibilities, vexations and burdens of the judicial office. But the base slanders, misrepresentations and falsehoods heaped upon me by a paper purporting to be one of the Republican party organs, and by a few malicious enemies, prompted by private and personal grudges, going up and down the district, self-respect and consideration for my relatives and friends, and a consciousness of the rectitude of my private life, and of the honesty, integrity and fidelity of every official act of my term and services on the Bench, lead me to yield to the earnestly expressed wishes of many friends of all political parties and of both counties and impels me to appeal to the impartial and unprejudiced judgment of all the electors of the district for justice.

I most emphatically say to all electors and citizens of the two counties interested that there is not one word of truth in all the base calumnies circulated against me, and I pronounce the originators and circulators thereof vile and malicious slanderers.

I am no violent or blind political partisan. It is true, yet I have been a Republican from the organization of the party, and a supporter of all its essential and distinctive principles, by contributions and humble personal influence, but in non-essentials and in local issues I have always claimed and exercised liberty.

During my whole life, professional and judicial, I have never taken bribes, sold justice or myself, wrecked banks or other men's fortunes, committed perjury, betrayed either public or private trusts, or squandered in speculation poor people's livings, or stolen farms, or spent in any way the money of any one I did not honestly earn or could not repay.

I have always thought and felt that judges and jurors, who have to deal with the lives and liberties, rights and possessions of men, should be especially free from all such sins and crimes, as well as free from all local, political, partisan or sectarian influences or prejudices.

And in the formation of judicial districts by the legislature, I have always thought that there should be no political partyism shown or dishonest gerrymandering, so as to utilize party majorities in favor of aspiring political ringsters or partisans, who were without much higher or better qualifications than fealty to party to aid them to judicial places, responsibilities and honors.

The remedy, however, for all evils of this kind, and where they exist, is within the easy reach and control of the honest and intelligent electors of all such judicial districts.

On account of the false, unjust and malicious charges enumerated, that were urged against me at the primary election referred to, and circulated and pressed upon the electors at the eleventh hour, when their refutation was impossible, my friends join me in declaring that I am not bound by the result of that election, but that I should, as I now do, submit myself as a candidate to the consideration of the honest, just and intelligent electors of the district, free from political, partisan, or sectarian partiality or prejudice.

E. McJUNKIN,
President Judge 17th Judicial District.

No CITIZEN next week.

STOPPING THE DRILL.

Hon. Thos. W. Phillips' Open Letter.

From Pittsburgh Dispatch of June 28.

NEW CASTLE, June 27, 1884.
DAVID KIRK, Chairman of Producers Association, Bradford, Pa.

DEAR SIR—Had I not been absent on business I should have responded sooner to your letter appointing me to a committee for organizing a movement to stop drilling for six months. Such an organization, headed by representative men, many of whom have been long and successfully engaged in the oil business, making so startling a request, demands careful consideration—more, I fear, than has been given by some whose names are appended to the list you sent me.

I will briefly state some reasons for not joining a movement so wide in its range and far-reaching in its effects. I believe the movement has done injury to the oil trade. It has given the impression that there are such vast quantities of oil under our hills that not only concerted action but also violent measures are required to stop the production, in a time, too, when the field as a whole is more limited than it has been for years; when the production has decreased in the last two years more than 50,000 barrels per day, and does not at present exceed the consumption. I state a fact when I say that a barrel of oil is intrinsically worth more today than it has been at any time for three years. Why, then, the present low price? It is simply due to the abnormal condition in which the oil business has been placed for years.

And besides, reap this harvest, while deceiving the world in regard to an unlimited supply ready to be brought to the surface. Not only the production, but the field has become limited. I venture this statement and challenge denial, that in all the counties of Pennsylvania and New York where oil has been produced in large quantities, there is not now remaining a spot half as large as the Bradford field that is not punctured with dry holes; and further, that more than seven-eighths of all the oil of this territory has been taken out, unless perchance there were shown to be a sub-deposit, which does not seem probable.

But in reply you say stocks, stocks, too many stocks. There are no more stocks than are necessary to the healthy condition of so large a trade, and you prevent violent fluctuations which you treat as a natural market. I therefore take no stock in your stock argument.

The law of supply and demand must regulate the oil business, as it does all other industries. This is the natural law of exchange, and you cannot violate it without incurring its penalty, more than you can violate with it. Both are obstructed for a time, but in the end their demands are inexorable. No great production, agricultural or mechanical, required by the world can be restricted by such measures as you propose.
I believe that such efforts will only turn to plague those who try to enforce a rule in this most certain, has been true in regard to all past efforts of this kind, and they have not been few in the oil business. The disasters that have followed in the wake of these wild schemes in the past should be a sufficient experience for one generation.

A MORE SERIOUS RESULT.

Another, and most serious if not cruel result, which does not seem to have been considered by your association, is the case of the laborer and mechanic. What provision is made for the employe or what will be reap in this harvest? If you take into account the men required to team, to build rigs, to drill wells, and to pump the same, together with the employes in the tube and casing works, in engine and boiler shops, in tool and rope manufacture, beside the production of iron, lumber, and all of the material which the trade is constantly using, and you will have an army of workers, 10,000 strong. What provisions shall be made for these?
While you are enriching yourselves are these ten thousand workmen to starve? And what are the manufacturers to get for stopping their works?
What interest on their vested capital?
It will require millions to pay these for lost time and capital, and keep many of them from beggary and want.

Again, the remedy you seek, even if all right in other respects, could never be adjusted to the diversified interests of the producers. Space and time will not allow me to enter this field of objection further than to say that existing contracts in regard to developments, drainage of territory, equalizing of production on adjoining farms, properly adjusted, all this and more between different classes, rich and poor, debtor and creditor, can never be accomplished by your committee or any other. It is to
