There is a good and well qualified set of men left the House was destroyed by the left the House was destroyed by the ward, borough or township for which before the Republican voters for all the House was destroyed by the before the Republican voters for all these offices. The difficulty is to choose between them. But this is what the Primary was instituted for.

The measure as it was passed in the lower House would have done away with some of the "Judicial Anarchy" which now prevails in the State on the license question, and the Primary was instituted for.

The measure as it was passed in the license is sought, thereby preventing residents of adjoining districts who have business and social interests in the said ward, borough or township, from remonstrating against the State on the license question, and the state of the st what the Primary was instituted for.

All therefore are interested in the fair conducting of the Primary. Any candidate, or his friends, whose acts at or before the Primary are otherwise than fair only injures himself, as the nomination has to be followed by an election in the fall.

the State on the license question, and secured a degree of uniformity in the rulings of the courts. But the amendment of the Senate restores the vague ness of the old law and will consequently preserve the confusion. The bill came to the Senate with this provise: "That all the additional petitions and remonstrances allowed by this section shall be based on the ne-to-ment of such a law is to ease the public conscience, satisfy the demand for the primary are otherwise."
