LOCAL AND GENERAL.

The hand-bill and dodger advertiser is generally a man who hasn's yet heard that last year's almanacs are out of fashion. He may be a decent man and a good one, but he is behind the age and the mildew of old times is creeping over him. If he ever catches up with the procession he will dispropriate that a live ad, in a paper is worth a thousand dead dodgers in the gutter.

The law forbids are the reduction.

At the meeting of the Fourth of July committee truesday evening, the Finance Committee reported having raised $200 on a particle cannot be make contracts with the Butler Band and Eureka Drum Corps, and Chief Marshall Mechling presented his program for the day as follows:

FIFTH DIVISION.

Harvey Byerly will be in command of the swapings in a city is something that few people in the country have any conception of. The Brace Bros., for instance, employ 125 persons, do all their washing and ironing by machinery, and turn out about $2500 worth of work per week. Their office is at No. 14 Bixth street, and their laundry is in the East End. Their plant is worth about $60,000, and they pay $500 a year for water.

—A lady who cans a great deal of fruit and who in common with every housewife, has been vexed at the manner in which light fruits, such as strawberries, rise to the pop in a can, leaving the liquor beneath, gives us the following receipt to remedy the same: "If your fruit rises to the top, let it stand a short time, then shake vigorously and invert the jar, leaving it in this position for a day, when it may be placed upright. The fruit will then be found to occupy the can equally." The receipt comes handy at this season of the year.

—The measuring of the candle power of a water was the control of the candle power of a shear of the candle power of a treet with the leave the properties of the stand and the candle power of a shear of the candle power of a shear of the properties of the stand and the candle power of a shear of the properties of the candle power of a shear of the properties of the stand and the candle power of a shear of the properties Attest: W. H. Ensminger, Assistant Adjutant General.

—The measuring of the candle power of a light is accomplished by comparing the shadow east by a rod in the light of a standard candle with the shadow cast by the light to be tested. By moving the latter toward or away from the rod a point will be reached at which the shadow cast by both lights will be of the same intensity. The intensity of the two lights is directly proportional to the squares of their distances from the shadows; 6. c., suppose the light to be tested is three times the distance of the candle, its illuminating power is nine times as great.

—Two men, who gave their names as Brodie and Stowe, came to Butler several days ago with a stock of goods, consisting of clecks, hammocks, etc. These they stowed in a room in one of our boarding houses, and attempted to sell to our storekeepers. They got the goods from a wholesale house in Pittsburg con an order or recommendation purporting to be signed by Mr. Norton, of the Anderson Hotel, but as they did not perform the did not performed the sell of the sell

Mr Christopher Myers, of Oakland township, petitioned court for a commission to inquire into the insanity of Grant Albert, a boy aged about 18 years, who had been living with him for several years. The commissioners consisted of Dr. R. H. Pillow, Ira McJunkin, Esq., and Mr. John Mitchell, who reported that Grant was insane, and the court directed that notice be given to the County Commissioners and to the Overseers of the Poor of Donegal township. Grant is the son of a Mr. Albert who was killed on the railroad near Freeport some years ago, and his mother was a Derrimore. He was in his his usual health until three or four weeks ago, when he began to complain of a pain in his head, which soon after turned him into a raving and violent maniac. Sheriff Kramer went out after him Monday, and it took three persons to catch and secure him and bring him to Butler, when he was taken right on to Dixmont. When in the buggy he imagined that persons were trying to shoot him to pieces, aud made several attempts to get away.

on the 5th of July, 1776, John Adams wrote:

"Yesterday the greatest question was decided which was ever debated in America, and greater, perhaps, never was or will be decided among men. A resolution was passible, this det, without one dissenting colony, 'That these United States are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States.'

"I am apt to believe it will be celebrated by succeeding generations as the great and inversary festival."

John was right, the day has since been, and always will be celebrated as the greatest of National birth days, and this year in Butler, a special effort will be made to make the day a success. There will be a parade in the morning, of which a program will be seen below, a speech by S. F. Bowser, Esq., from the balcony of the Lowry House, and fireworks and pienics that evening. There are enough fireworks stored in Butler at present to shake the earth upon which the town stands, to fill the atmosphere with smoke, the sky with artificial stars, and last but not least, to annihilate the fingers of all the small boys. Fireworks are beautiful things, but they should be handled cautiously. The boys might take a lesson from the following old rhymes.
