—A nice point in the law of slander, which may be of interest to some Butler people at present. Each and Mr. Galbreat object 1 to the fishers corpus, being incorporated in the case out of No. 4 of Philadilphia county last Saturday. Both the declared and plaintiff are married women living with their husbands and are near neighbors. For some time before suit was brought Mrs. Whalen, so states her counsel, Thomsen, Carpiter, and Mr. Gable accusing her of keeping a disreputable house. Mrs. Gable also reported this to the policemes on the beat. An investigation was made and the drare was shown to be false and that Mrs. Whalen is a very reputable woman. A satit was brought by Mrs. Whalen against Mrs. Gable could be arrested on a capies. Judge Thaytr gaid that white the Court would plainly hear anything Mr. Faby had to say it was under the lunpression that nothing in the new law changed the old, which held that a married woman was not liable to arrest on a civil process. the law judges of this State in disposing of the various baby cases that have come before them is recorded in the State Reports, but in all the reports in this State, and in all the other law books to be found in Butler, no parallel can be found to the complications that have arisen in the Monks-Harbison case.

Monday at 2 P.M. was the time fixed for a further hearing of the case, but on account of the large number of motions presented to the Court, it was nearly 4 o'clock before the case was reached, when Mr. Galbreath moved the Court to quash the rule for contempt granted on the defendants, on account of their not being parties to the original writ, and also filed an answer in the habeas corpus case.

Martin Monks was called by the plaintiffs and questioned as to his sister's whereabouts, when he stated that the last he saw of her was when she was getting on the train in Allegheny for Chicago, and that when last femred from she was in Kansas City. He was also questioned by Thompson as to the part taken by himself and family in getting her away.

Robt. Harbison, Jr., the father of the child, told of his taking the child, as per order of Court and keeping and providing for it, until the Monks family and their friends came and took it away by force, and recited the events of that day, as he saw them, at the house and on the road.

The star of Oildom which has hovered over the Jefferson Centre field lately has concluded to abide there for the present. On Saturday night last the drill in Bolard and Greenlee's well on the Louitz farm reached the sand, and the indications being good, drilling was discontinued and preparations made for a big well. On Monday morning of this week the well was drilled in, and with but one bit in the sand began flowing at the rate of 110 bbls an hour, and since that time drilling has been discontinued, and the well has been allowed to decline on account of the lack of sufficient tankage, and inability of the pipe line to the well, to carry off the oil. The striking of this well proves that there is a good field there, and it was immediately followed by the usual rush and scramble among the producers to get leases in the vicinity. All the farms in that vicinity will now be leased at rates varying with their nearness to or dis-tance from the big well, and some leases have changed hands at big figures. Haymaker and Leggett are
