Work of the W. C. T. U.
BY MRS. M. H. BOARDMAN, NEVADA.

How clean and safe and beautiful our cities would become. How colleges would multiply and fill. How empty the jails would be. How crime would creep and sink into by-ways instead of bludgeoning its way into the chief places of the land. I imagine it! and all these results will follow the destruction of the liquor traffic as surely as the day follows the sun-rising. It is a great work, it will take time. But only faith in God, linked to earnest, enlightened endeavor, are needed.

Up this valley a few miles stands Slide Mountain. A mighty mass has been torn from his beetling head and shouldered and hurled at his feet. He stands there as if he had been struck by a mighty Titan, but the gentle, silent, tiny forces of Nature wrought against the stupendous mass. Here a few feet of water, here a little trickling stream entered a fissure, and urged on by the strange, paradoxical strength of hydraulic force, sank deeper and deeper, gaining power as it went, until it had excavated a deep, narrow channel, that penetrated day after day till they touched the heart of the mountain. Then when the frost above or the hidden heat below well-edged the tiny, penetrating streams, more was done than the dynamic of man ever effected—the ponderous mountain side was hurled into the gorge below.

The mountains all around blush in the glow of morning and wrap themselves in their purple mantle at evening, but no morning glow lights up his scarred forehead, no purple falls on his marked shoulders at eventide. He stands there smitten into changeless gloom. It is a mistake we poor human souls apt to make that great results only follow upon the use of immense appliances, but this is not so. Look up the valley and be convinced. Then turn your eyes upon the "looming beacon fringed with fire" behind which Satan hides in his contest with the power of your thoughts against it. Shoot the winged shafts of your prayers upon it. Turn against it the silent engineery of public opinion, and give them time to work; and some morning—not very far in the future—your will will work that bastion fall—melt away like the unsubstantial fabric of a dream. Only be strong and of a good courage.

Let me close by holding up before you, my dear sisters, another blessed motive for this blessed work. Greatly you, grateful to God that when He turned His thought to the redemption of the world He stooped so tenderly to woman. He might have come in such majesty and splendor that all the kings and potentates of earth would have yielded Him ready homage and followed in His train.

But he chose to come in such guise as forbade the ministry of man's hand. His mission was to the heart, and He came as a humble, lowly, meek, and gentle man, who dwelt in the impenetrable Son of God was built and fashioned by the gentle beating of a woman's heart. He came into her arms by the same gate of agony by which my baby came to me, by which you have come to me. The same sublime of ecstasy and humility filled her soul when He first lay in her arms that came to you in that supreme moment when your heart was filled with the thought, "I am the mother of an immortal being." She thrilled at the touch of baby lips and fingers at her breast just as we have done. She bunched over Him while He slept and marveled at the velvet of His skin and the matchless softness of His hair, and when He wakened His eyes wondered just as we have done at the searching glance that seemed to read her soul. And she nursed Him and watched over Him, and made His little garments, and so our Lord consorted by His womanhood of it, mother pain and toil and care. He uplifted it and made it almost sacred.

And when He began His public ministry He had no word of praise for those qualities which had always been the pride of man, but the long-suffered attributes of true womanhood received His blessing and His insistence. And when at last, man crucified Him and buried Him, it was woman who wept over His pierced body and came early in the morning bringing the spices for oil, and only thinking of the gentle kindness of the Master's voice when in the gloaming of that first Easter morning He revealed Himself to Mary by His utterance of her name.

What Your Friends and Neighbors Say on a Matter of Vital Importance.
Below will be found a sample of the multitude of letters of encouragement Messrs. H. H. Warner & Co., of Rochester, N. Y., daily receive. The unobtrusive testimonial from your friends and neighbors, ladies and gentlemen, you know and esteem for their honor and straight-forwardness, and who would score a party to any deception? What has been done for others can be done for you, and it is fully, nay, suicidal, to longer suffer when the means of recovery lie at your very door.

CONESTOGA, Fayette Co., Pa., Jan. 12, 1888.—I have been in the employ of the B. & O. R. R. for the past 11 years. Eight years ago, while working in one of the Company's Ice Houses, I contracted a severe cold. The physician, Dr. Graham, informed me that it had settled in my kidneys and a report to that effect was made by him, to the B. & O. Employees' Relief Association. I suffered severely for 47 days with terrible pains in the back and kidneys. Could not sleep at night, and was greatly depressed and almost wished for death as a relief. After being under the doctor's charge for the time mentioned, Dr. Graham recommended "Warner's Safe Cure." After taking six bottles I was entirely cured. Was benefited almost with the first bottle. Since then I have enjoyed the best of health. In fact I feel better than I have for many years. I have adopted it as a regulation and remedy and always keep a supply on hand in my family. I cheerfully recommend the remedy to all of my friends and neighbors.

NEW HAVEN, Fayette Co., Pa., (Main St. between 6th and 7th) Jan. 12, 1888.—I have been a sufferer with stomach, liver and kidney troubles for about ten years. Five years ago commenced using "Warner's Safe Cure." After using two bottles my health commenced improving. Had several different physicians who did me no good. I was very thin, weighing only 110 pounds and I now weigh 147 and am enjoying excellent health and feel convinced that it is due to the use of "Warner's Safe Cure," as I use no other medicine.

CONNEYSVILLE, Fayette Co., Pa., Jan. 13, 1888.—Two years ago, I was run over by a locomotive, thereby losing my right arm. It was improperly treated and consequently I have been subject to nervous attacks and epileptic fits ever since. "Warner's Safe Nerve" always affords me great relief.

INDIANA, Pa., Dec. 1887.—Have used "Warner's Safe Cure" for some time for kidney troubles, and derived great benefit from the same.

REEDSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 29, 1887.—Have used "Warner's Safe Cure" for the liver and find it a great benefit.

Prohibition Convention.

The State Convention of the Prohibition party met at Harrisburg last week nominated James Black, of Lancaster, for Supreme Judge, selected an electoral ticket which includes the name of James W. Orr, of this county, and adopted a platform of which the following is a synopsis:

First, demands the removal of all practices which, under cover of law, are hostile to the public welfare. Second, declares the party to be the policy of total prohibition by constitutional amendment. Third, declares the party to be the only one which proposes to abolish the liquor traffic by legislation. Fourth, opposes all forms of license and denounces the high license law as a delusion and a snare. Fifth, demands the repeal of internal revenue tax on liquor and tobacco. Sixth, declares for the free use of the Bible in the public schools. Seventh, insists upon the recognition of the Christian Sabbath. Eighth, demands the right of every citizen to vote as he chooses, and denounces the corruption of voters. Ninth, civil service appointments should not be based upon party service, but upon moral, intellectual and physical qualifications. Tenth, favors the election of Presidential electors by direct vote of the people. Eleventh, questions of national arbitration, differences between capital and labor should be settled by courts presided over by impartial judges. Twelfth, demands such correction of the tariff laws as will give full protection to the manufacturer and the producing laborer against the competition of the world. Thirteenth, demand equal taxation. Fourteenth, demands that the anti-discrimination clause of the Constitution shall be enforced. Fifteenth, asks such change in the immigration laws as will prevent the introduction of convicts, paupers and other undesirable elements. Sixteenth, declares for woman suffrage. Seventeenth, invites the co-operation of all citizens to vote to free the Commonwealth from the curse of the drink traffic.

Woman's Relief.
"Earth has no sorrow which heaven cannot heal," whether arising from physical, mental, or moral sources. The promises and consolations of the gospel furnish abundant remedies for all spiritual or mental woes, and the Creator has stored in the kingdom of Nature, remedies for every physical ailment. For ages these remedies were allowed to lie dormant, through the ignorance of mankind as to their uses, and for ages more but little attention was given to remedies for the peculiar ailments of woman, which was looked upon and treated as a slave by lordly, and then brutal man, and her suffering regarded with beastly indifference. In later times, science and Christian philanthropy have come to her relief, devising remedies for her peculiar ailments, which have been combined in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a remedy that cures the pains, aches, nausea, displacements, wasting and debilitating affections to which she is constantly exposed.
