To those of our old subscribers, who, after settling up their old subscribers accounts, paid us for a year in advance, and to our new subscribers who did the same we return our hearty thanks. The CITIZEN has, we believe, the best list of subscribers in the county, and this action on the part of those who have already settled up their old accounts dispels our fears of the list being practically a "dead letter" for us for the first year.

Several of our merchants made efforts in that direction, those of Mrs. Pape and her daughters, and Messrs. Louis Stein & Son and Wm. Aland being the most noticeable.

The father and mother of Mr. S. D. Miller Jr., of East Pearl St., and also Miss Mary Malcomson, all of Oil City, are now this guests; and Mrs. Warner, Supt. of the workhouse at Claremont, and Mrs. T. C. Little of Sewickly, were his guests last Sunday.

—Rev. Chas. Elgar, a licentiate of the Baptist Church, lectured to a large audience in the U. P. church room last Sunday evening. He was formerly a bookkeeper for a Chicago newspaper firm, and stole some of their money, for which he was imprisoned in the Joliet penitentiary for two years; and his lecture was on the severifies of prison life, which he recounted as a warning to young men who are inclined to ties of prison life, which he recounted as a swarning to young men who are inclined to be loose in their principlees. It certainly requires some moral courage for a man to go into the pulpit and hold himself up as a terrible example, but that is what Mr. Elgar did, and he said a great many good things.

—The Major E. H. Montooth Band, of Pittsburgh, attended our Fair and furnished the music which was good and appreciated by our people. The band is composed of a fine body of men, dressed in fine uniforms, and well equipped in all respects. On Monday evening the band paid the printing offices of the town a visit and complimented them with some of their choisest music. For their visit to the Ctrzusz office, thanks were returned to them by the late Editor who was present at the time.

on the part of the CITIZEN force-now comosed of John H. Reiber (foreman), Jame M. Maxwell, Felix C. Negley and Louis Scheiring of which we feel very proud. The type, itself, is from the foundry of George Bruce's Son & Co.-established in 1813, and one of the best in the country and it is their No. 14, Brevier. We select ed it for its clean cut face and business-like appearance. When set "leaded," it is, we think, as easy to read as our old Primer though two sizes smaller; and when set 'solid", to accommodate anything of par ticular interest and length, it is yet easy to read, and double the number of letter can be placed in the same space. That the typography of the paper needs further improving any one can see, and as our newspaper press has not been doing per fect work of late, we may need a new one Everybody to His Trade.

Nothing is truer than that a man who attempts to be a jack at all trades is successful in none. Equally true is it that life is too short for a man to prepare himself for grappling with all kinds of diseases. We need specialists in medicine, and in large cities it is becoming more and more the custom for physicians to adopt some fayorite special line of practice. The nature of many such become familiar the world around, as that of Dr. Douglas who at tended General Grant, or that of Dr. Foote, of New York, whose original ideas of and successful practice in chronic diseases, have become widely known because his entertaining writings and remarkable cures are to be found in almost every county of every state of the Union. His favorite work, "Plan Home Talk," has worked its way around the globe both ways, via London and via San Francisco to Australia and New Zealand, with the result that the doctor, at his office, 120 Lexington Ave. New York, is in receipt of consultation letters and reports from patients in every foreign mail. But this prophet is not without honor in his own country, and it is mainly from his own countrymen that Dr. Foote invites free consultation, and to whom he offers the benefit of his thirty years experience. His career and success alone prove the advantage of specialism. Everybody to His Trade.

The Grand Inquest of the Common wealth

The Grand Inquest of the Common wealth of Pennsylvania, inquiring in and for the said county of unter, at September sessions in the year 1888, do respectfully present, that it in obedience to instructions of the Court, we have made a careful and thorough examination of the public buildings, Court House and offices therein, a'so of the basement and upper stories of the buildings, and of the jail, fengine house, stobles and grounds surrounding and attached to these buildings.

We are pleased to report that we find the offices all clean and in a good, healthy condition, and we commend the officers in each for the tidy and cheerful appearance of the county offices. We find that the grass plots in front of the Court building are well cated for and present an attractive appearance to those who enter the building.

We would recommend that the ground opposite the Court House, across Main street known as the Park, should, as soon as practicable, be improved and trees planted, walks made, &c., so that it would add to the appearance of the borough and county build--No advance in cotton Goods at L. Anyone Can Readily Learn-The National Garment Cutter Company Have Opened a School for the Purpose of Teaching All Classes of People How to Cut Their Own Clothing—The Most Complete System in Use—Anyone Can Learn It—No Tailor or Dressmaker Can Afford to do Without the System -Only a Few Lessons Necessary - Terms Reasonable-Rooms, 47 South Main Street-Light and Ventilation Excellent—A Competent Lady in Charge of Rooms—For Farther Particulars, Visit the Rooms or Address, Pittock & Lavery, Butler, Pa.—Parties at a Distance Taught by Mail.

NECESSARY PART OF A YOUNG LADY'S EDUCATION.

The National Garment Cutter people since establishing their cutting school in Butler have been instrumental in more fully arousing public sen matter how difficult your case 5:00 and 8:00 p. m.

may be, we ask you to give us physical substitution of the properties of the physical substitution of the phy The originators of this school claim that parents owe a duty to their daughters to 1 Educate them in such a manner that they can earn a good living by their own efforts, if such a thing should at any time become necessary 2 To be able to look after their own clothing and see that it is made rrectly and in becoming style.

3. To be able when the proper time comes, to bosorably and intelligently look after the affairs of her own house. To be able to impart useful knowledge to her daughters and to teach them the dangers and follies of idleness.

5. That a woman may be independent and earn her own living as a matter of right and not compromise her dignity thereby.

6. That as a matter of honor she should earn her own living and not take it from another without rendering due value therefor.

7. That educating the eye and hand is a useful and important part of 8. That no part that is required to make a well rounded, full and complete education should be neglected, but if through necessity some part must be neglected, that it should not be the practical part but the lighter and more

10. That the requirements of the age demand an unlimited knowledge of how to dress with economy and comply with the requirements of the prevailing styles.

11. That employment is an essential to health and happiness. That a lazy woman is as useless to society as a lazy man and probably more dangerous to the community. That here are twelve strong statements pointedly made, none will deny and that they are true, cannot be questioned. In fact if, these statements were reduced to rules, and then fully practiced, there would be a revolution for good such as the world has never witnessed, and that this revolution is actually taking place and to those who are reading the press of the country and studying the signs of the times there is no doubt upon this subject, But some will ask, What has the National Garment Catser to de with this subject? By a little investigation it will be shown that the Garment Cutter and cutting schools have a great deal to do with it. A little careful investigation of the claims set forth would be profitable. and the first is doubly so. Think of the fond father with a slender income rearing daughters in all the care possible within his means but in case of accident or death, what are those daughters going to do to earn a support? Are they going to be thrown out upon the world to do as they can, or are they going to live upon the work of another without rendering value received. What a relief it would be to that father to know that the daughter was prepared to earn an honorable, honest living with her own hands. Thousands of girls are left destitute and homeless every year by death and misfortune and what are they to

Some will find work that they without skill can perform in competition with others of like skill, where the competition makes it nearly impossible to live. Others will soon die of privations and hardships while if others sink into degredation and into sin, it is not to be wondered at. Parents, fulfill your duties to your daughters and teach them useful knowlede whereby they, if necessity demands it, can earn an honest living and maintain their womanly dignity.

All ladies should be so trained that they can take charge of a house and manage it properly so as to be an honor to herself and a blessing to her husband and raise her daughters like the daughters spoken of by the wise man, when he said, "she looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness, she considereth a field and buyeth it; with the fruit of her hand she planteth a vineward. She maketh herself coverings of tapes try; her clothing is silk and purple."

By the foregoing we are to conclude that it is more honorable for a woman to earn her own bread that it is to stay under the roof of another and share the fruits of his toil without rendering due recompense.

Not only in your household will this knowledge be of value to you, but it will fit you, "should you desire" to fill one of the many lucrative positions constantly waiting for competent workers.

In large cites there is a constant demand for good fitters at salaries range There are hundreds of young women throughout the country who have at J. N. PATTERSON'S. S.G. Purvis & Co. the taste and talent to fill such positions; all they want is an opportunity, and a knowledge of the laws that govern the art of dressmaking.

A want of this knowledge precludes the possibility of reaching a hip

We will help you in this matter, we teach you in detail the art of cut That our method is not hard to learn is clearly demonstrated by the following testimonials of some of the best citizens of Butler. We could give several columns of such and even stronger. Dear Sir: —I take great pleasure in recommending your cutter. I think it is the aeme of perfection. I have used the Cutter just two months, and have cut over 35 dresses, besides wraps, aprons and under-garments. Everyone being satisfactory. In all my drafting I have rebasted but two or three times; and then but little.

I think any dressmaker stands in her own light when she does not get the Cutter. I remain, a friend to the Cutter, and hoping you success,

Miss. NETTIB CLINGMAN, Dressmaker,

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., July 21, 1888.

I took the National Garment Cutter last April; since then I have cut 26 dresses with the Garment Cutter and each one one was a perfect fit, requiring no change whatever. Being simple and easy to learn and correct, it has advantages possessed by no other system, as it cuts all kinds of garments for men, women and children. I can heartily recommend the Garment Cutter to all. Wishing you all possible success, I remain, LAURA CORFMAN, Dressmaker.

BUTLER, PA., July 10, 1888. Mr. Pittock:—We have tried the "National Garment Cutter;" and feel that it is as near perfect as anything of the kind that we have ever seen; and that it is just what it is claimed to be—"a perfect garment cutter.,"

M. S. & M. MARKS. BUTLER, PA., August 22, 1888.

Gentlemen:—After taking five lessons at your Cutting School, I cut myself a basque to see what success I should have. I had no previous knowledge of cutting, hence was surprised to find what a lovely cut I had obtained. It fit like a glove without a wrunkle.

I am well pleased with the system and with instructions given which are very ough.
I shall recommend it highly te my friends. Yours respectfully,
SARAH M. VGGELEY.

BUTLER, PA., August 22, 1888. Mossrs, Pittock & Lavery: Mossis. Pittock & Lavery:

Gentlemen.—When I first saw your system I had a McDowell system in the house on rial. Yours being so much simpler, easier to learn, hence more durable, together with the additional advantages of larger range and lower price, I could but, in justice to myself and you, return the McDowell and take yours. A month's test of your system convinces me of the price of the p reat superiority over other systems I have seen used.

BUTLER, PA., August 25, 1888. General Section of the National Garment Cutter, having made up several garments cut by it, I must say I am highly delighted with it.

It was so easy to learn, is so uniformly correct, and has such large range that it cannot but be of great benefit to all having cutting to do.

MISS LOU GROHMAN,

Messrs, Pittock & Lavery: Continued:—I take pleasure in saying that I am highly pleased with the National Garment Cutter and with instructions given. I found it not only very easy to learn, but perfectly! reliable in all cases. I have used it with excellent success, not having to do any fitting. I cheerfully recommend it to those desiring a perfect Garment Cutter. Lizzie Crouse.

SYBILS SECRET

EMPORIUM.

After Lelia Pith has done its duty in clearing the skin, as we told you it would last week, there remains almost s great a misfortune as a sallow comolexion-a pearly white, washed-out skin, with not a trace of color to give tone to the general appearance. There are three requisites desired of a rouge. It must be perfectly harmless, defy detection, and must add to the appearance to the ultimate degree. We are assured of the pre-eminence
