Prof. Shaler, in a well considered articl Scribner's Magazine, makes this state ent: "If we take the misapplied expense f our country-ways, if we count at the same time the many social disadvantages which they bring to the people, it is probable that the sum of the road tax in this ountry is greater than that of our ordinary axation. From some data which I have athered in my personal experience with oads, I am inclined to think that even in New England the cost to the public arising om ineffective road-ways, as well as from the waste of money expended on then mounts to not less than an average of ten ollars a household. In this reckoning I have included the loss of time and of trans-porting power of vehicles, the wear and ear of wagons carriages and the beast which draw them. It is probable that the expenditure in this direction is greater than that which is incurred for the schools or any other single element of public interest. I am inclined, indeed, to think that it

A. HECK, who always sells clothing ed by and furnishing goods at the very lowest possible prices. He took the advice, and, happy to say, was soon the happiest man on Corner of Diamond, Butler, Pa. Our illustration represents close figures, and no doubt they would like to get closer but they can't do it. We would like to make closer figures but we can't do it, because there is no more room for reduction to cut down the selling price; a little more would be to cut into the cost price, and tha would be digging the ground from under our own feet. Already we are too close for comfort to the cost mark, and must sell large quantities at these prices to make it pay. We found that our former room was entirely too small for our rapidly increasing trade, therefore we built an addition, which gives us twice the room we had before, and now we have the largest and best lighted room in Butler filled from top to bottom with Clothing, Hats, Caps, Shirts, Underwear Collars, Cuffs, Ties, Handkerchiefs, Mufflers, Gloves, Mittens, Rubber Clothing, Overalls, Jackets, Suspenders, Umbrellas, Trunks, Valises, Jewelry, and notion generally ever brought to this town. We are branching out in our line of bus ness continually, and intend to keep ahead as long as there is a department capable of improvement. We aim to be at the top of the ladder, and are bound to stay there if there is any virtue in good goods, honest methods, fair dealing and low prices. We back up our business with energy, grit and greenbacks We don't wait for weather or sigh for seasons. If the summer is backward we are forward. If the season is late we are on time, and we cut the cost to the cir cumference and convince you that a bargain is always in season. We can orce the seasons but we can force a sale.
