Meeting of Congress.

Congress met on Monday, of this week, most interesting preliminary to their meeting was the caucus of the Republican members of the House on the eding Saturday to select their candidate for Speaker. The fight was between their enforcement. He recommends liberal appropriations to aid in the education and amelioration of the colored man. He makes a hit at the southern states, who member from this district, Mr. Townsend; roted for him. Mr. Adams of Maryland was selected for Doorkeeper; and Mr. Holmes of Iowa for Sergeant-at-Arms.

Mr. Reed, or Tom Reed as he is generated as a giant both physically and mentally.

Monday was a beautiful day in Washington and the galleries of the House an ington, and the galleries of the House and Senate were filled to overflowing to see Senate were lined to overhooming the opening of the fifty-first Congress. ROUTINE OF THE OPENING. Of the routine of calling the House to order by the Clerk of the last House, Mr. Clark, of Missouri, the calling of the roll, the election of the Speaker, the swearing in of the members, the election of Clerk, Door-keeper, Sergeant-at-Arms and Postmaster, there is little or nothing to say. It was the traditional nonsense of taking a great big oath to support the Constitution and law, etc. It was only broken slighty by four Pennsylvanians, who refused to swear in the ancient and orthodox way ination.

When it was discovered that several Republicans were inclined to support Milburn, who, it was thought, would be nominated by the Democrats, a great effort was made to whip the schismatics into line, but without avail. In the election of officers he was separated from the Morse of Massachusetts, Lehlback and Ewart voting with the Democrats. Butterworth and Forney were paired, and Grosvenor, Harmer and O'Niel, of Pennsylvania; Owen, of Indiana, himself a preacher; Payson, of Illinois; Stuart, of Vermont; Brickner, McCord and Browne, black the strength of the property of Vermont; Brickner, McCord and Browne, black the strength of the property of the property of the strength of the Vermont; Brickner, McCord and Browne, of Virginia dodged. If these had voted with their party, the four who left the party, would not have succeeded in electing a Democratic Chaplain.

The only other episode that amused the galleries was the drawing for seats. This is always funny. Dignity and ability go for nothing. A new member from wayback is just as likely to get the pick and choice of seats as the leader of the House of a dozen years. Numbers are placed on the roll opposite the names of members, and balls are put in a box, having on them corresponding numbers. A page is blindfolded, and he draws the balls from the box. When a ball is drawn its number is this loss we unite in extending to the betting the principles of our noble wire idealisticated the principles of our noble our expected. and balls are put in a box, having in them todded, and he draws the balls from the box. When a ball is drawn its number is announced, and then the name of the member having the corresponding number. By motion, the three ex-Speakers of the House, Banks, Randall and Carlisle, with Kelly, of Pennsylvania, the "Father of the House," were excepted from the chance of drawing. Kelly put his hat on his old desk, to hold it sacred. A page was placed in Randall's old chair, as the ex-Speaker was not able to come out, and Bank's and Carlisle each chose a seat, the former close to the left of the Speaker, and Carlisle well up to the center of the Democratic side, just across the aisle from the old seat of Mills. But if he expected Mills to get his old place he was dissapointed, for the Texan was left until all the good seats were taken, and then, as though mad at his ill-inck, squatted down in an obscure place in the back row, from which his friends with difficulty persuaded hin to come to a somewhat better seat, one row farther down. Right under the eye of the Speaker, Scull, Wright; Townsend, Atkinson, Brosius, Craig, Rayand and Watson got pretty well bunched, a little back of the center of their side.

The most brilliant spot in the House, however, is that on the Republican side, where, in one row, well back and next the center aisle, commanding a good view of the House, are McKinley, Hitt, Henry Cabot Lodge, Adams, of Illinois, and back of them Houk, McComas, Bayne, Butterworth and Burrows. This spot will dominate the House of the Fifty-first Congress. The committee appointed by Speaker Reed to wait on the President and inform him that Congress was in session, and awaited a message from him consisted of Messrs. Cannon, McKinley and Carlisle.

The estimated surplus in the trea any for the coming is cal year is estimated at $43, 000,000. The president recommends congress to take steps to reduce this surplus. He intimates plainly that it has no right to make provision for possible receipts in the fluture, with the result of a continued increase in the surplus. He thinks that too much has been given to the banks in thandling of government funds. He says, very pertinently; that ut present they year of the coming is the schedule of the landling of government funds. He says they furtile the surplus and their proceeds.

He says the tariff should be revised promptly and thoroughly. The president does not think it wise to

Doubtless this will cause a howl on the Speaking of naturalization, the president thinks the laws are too loose at present, and should be amended so that the moral character of the applicant should be taken into consideration. The first big break in the routine was the defeat of the Republican cancus nominee for chaplain, and it is the first instance on record when a nominee of the cancus of the majority suffered defeat.

The blind preacher, Milburn, who did the praying for the last House, and is adved-in-the-wool Democrat, would probably have been nominated for Chaplain by the Republicans had not his record of sympathy with the Southern Confederacy been bruited about. Ramsdell, who was nominated, had been a brave Union Soldier, Milburn sympathized with the Confederacy in very recent years, delivering in Virginia a speech eulogizing General Robert E. Lee. Notwithstanding this he had many warm friends among the Republicans, and there was a lively effort to bring about his nomination.

HOLIDAY ANNOUNCEMENT

_____AND-___

CLEARANCE GRAND

OF A LARGE LINE OF

BOOTS, SHOES and RUBBERS.

In view of the coming holiday season we have determined to make a special drive on all winter goods and make room for the large line of Holiday Goods which are now arriving daily, and in order to do so we have marked all goods so remarkably low as to accomplish our purpose; so read carefully each item and then make a straight bee line for our store, where will be found an immense fall and winter stock of Boots, Shoes and Rubber Goods. As the time is near when agents are now calling for their Spring rders and I am now making preparations for starting East to buy Spring goods, I will sell at a reduction of 50c. a pair on all shoes in order to reduce my stock preparatory to placing my Spring orders. Among other goods are the following celebrated and well-known makes as Reynolds Bro.'s, W. H Goodger, Krippendorf, Dittmar & Co., C. H. Barrett, &c. All the above are in Ladies', Misses' or Children's shoes. A full stock of Ladies' spring heel shoes; high cut calf school shoes for Misses and Children. A large stock of Men's dress and every day shoes. The dress shoes are made of fine calf, kangaroo and cordovan, either in button, lace or congress, plain or tip on toe, and in order to make a long story short, there was never such a lot of Men's fine dress shoes put before the market at such prices as I am offer-ing these at Call and examine, whether you want to buy or not. In re-gard to the Men's every day shoes, we have many different materials, such as genuine oil grain, bellis tongue, high cut, at $1.75 to $2.75, which we guarantee waterproof; Men's brogans at $1.15 to $1.50; Men's scuff shoes, in face and congress, single or double sole, at $1 25, and many others which I have not the space to tell you about. We request the attention of men and boys and ask you to do us this favor and read the following account of the great cutting affair in our Men's and Boys' Bo t Department. Our boot department is in the rear end of the store, where will be found 50 cases Men's kip boots at $1.50 to $2.50, 15 cases Jamestown boots at $2.75 to $3.75; 10 dozen Men's fine calf boots, hand sided, at $2.75 to $3.75; 12 cases of Men's fine kip boots at $1.75 to $2.25; 32 cases Boys' kip boots at $1.00 to $2.00; 8 cases Jamestown at $2.00 to $2.50. The above boots are in all sizes and in long and short legs. I will say no more in regard to boots; call, examine and speak for yourself. Largest display of
