Christmas Proverbs.
Easter in snow, Christmas in mud.
Christmas in snow, Easter in mud.
A white Christmas a lean graveyard.
A green Christmas makes a full graveyard.
Christmas wet gives empty granary and barrel.
If windy on Christmas day trees will bring forth much fruit.
If it snows on Christmas night we expect a good crop next year.
If at Christmas ice hangs on the willow clover may be cut at Easter.
If Christmas finds a bridge he'll break it; if he finds snow he'll make one.
A green Christmas indicates a white Easter. A warm Christmas a cold Easter.
An English proverb tells us, "If ice will bear a man before Christmas, it will not bear a mouse after Christmas."
"If on Christmas night," says a German proverb, "the wine ferments heavily in the barrels a wine year is to follow."

Importance of the South American Trade.
No other country in the world can manufacture such excellent tools and machinery as the United States, and in no other country are the prices for high grade articles of that kind lower than they are in the United States.
Yet of the $2,219,000 worth of tools and machinery that the South American republic of Chile purchased in 1922, only $211,000 worth, or less than one-tenth of the whole, purchased of us. More than $2,000,000 worth was purchased from England, Germany and France.
On such a showing as this, is there not something manifestly wrong somewhere? Ought not our manufacturers and merchants make more of an effort to obtain this trade than they have done? It would seem to be the best foreign market open to us.
"Years have not been, and time shall not see," the people sit down quietly to suffer pain, whose enterprises can afford such a painful opposition in the life of business' has not been sustained in one instance at least. Since the introduction of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup all other cough remedies have been dead stock.
At Aspinwall on the Atlantic side of the Isthmus of Panama the rise of the tide is only 14 feet, but at Panama on the Pacific side there is at times a difference of 21 feet between high and low water.
Mrs. Silliman says she "always likes to see a clergyman in the pulpit with his surplus."
"If it is divine to forgive then divines should forgive each other their theological differences."
"If your heart is larger than your head you injure yourself, and if your head is larger than your heart you injure your neighbors."
"Men are often capable of greater things than they perform. They are sent into the world with wills of credit and sedition draw to their full extent."
"If vacation has failed to give you health and strength, take Hood's Sarsaparilla now."
"An exchange quotes a shoemaker as saying that most girls buy shoes to fit their heads instead of their feet."
"When a wife gets to paying more attention to a black-and-tan or a pug than to her husband, she's in the shape to cast an affirmative vote on the question, "Is marriage a failure?"
"While Sam Jones was preaching in Kentucky recently on "The proper method of raising children," a Kentuckian interrupted him with: "We raise horses and bring up children." "Yes," retorted Sam, "you raise horses worth $50,000 apiece and bring up children worth $3 a head." Sam had better have his pistol handy.
Hark, the sound of many voices
Jubilant in gladdest song,
And full many a heart rejoices
As the chorus floats along.
"Hail the Favorite Prescription!"
How the happy voices blend,
"Wonderful beyond description."
Woman's best and truest friend,
Well may it be called woman's best friend, since it does for her what no other remedy has been able to do. It cures all those delicate ailments and weak ailments peculiar to females. Cures them, understands. Other preparations may afford temporary relief, but Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription effects a permanent cure. It is guaranteed to do this, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded. It is the great remedy of the age.
"The worst Nasal Catarrh, no matter of how long standing, permanently cured by Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy."
"Another venerable fiction is the notion that "The good die young." The saying is true enough as to chickens and unhealthy young folks, but beyond this it has no special point. People don't have to be unwholesome to be good.
"People sure of their own social position are never afraid of condescend."
"Often the 'nicest kind of people' become snobs as soon as they get money."
"It is the glorious prerogative of the engineer of knowledge that what it gains it never loses."
"There is no necessity for any one being taken in by a counterfeit bill. Take a United States bill of any denomination, hold it up to the light, and you will see two lines running across it lengthwise. Upon examining you will find these to consist of silk threads, a red one and a blue one. Every genuine bill has this mark of genuineness. Without these marks a bill may be put down as a counterfeit, no matter how good the engraving on it. No paper mill will dare make this sort of paper, and that is the government's only protection on its currency."
Definite and detailed information as to the results of the observation of the total eclipse of the sun last Sunday week by the United States expedition sent to Mexico, on the west coast of Africa, must be deferred until the arrival of mail advices. Indeed, it is probable that actual copies of the photographs of the copies taken will not be published until the return of the expedition, in March. Everything, of course depended on the clearness of the weather at Mexico, about 3 P. M., when the eclipse would have been visible if not obscured by clouds. But it is exceedingly unlikely that that day's weather was duplicated at the point of observation. Owing to the comparatively narrow visible path of all total eclipses such a phenomenon can be rarely observed at a given spot on the earth's surface at intervals of years.
