Borough Council.

The Town Council had an interesting and extended meeting last Tuesday evening. They began at 8 and did not adjourn till nearly midnight.

Several matters of general import to the citizens of the town were considered. Engineers Piller and McQuiston reported that it would cost about $600 to do the necessary surveying and marking of elevations necessary for a system of sewerage, and later on in the evening it was decided to have the surveying done by a special act on sewerage to meet with the Council.

Some sidewalkers were asked for and Geo. Gocher, Esq. asked the Council to open a street from Brady St. northward to Pearl St. to be called Oak St. and the matter was held over until Mr. Gocher furnishes specific to keep the Council from all expense for views.

Bill aggregating about $200 were passed. The police reports were received and read.

A fire plug was ordered for Monroe St. some building permits were granted and some of the lots were referred to Council.

Several persons were notified to build sidewalks. Mr. Nichols moved that the borough refer to the matter of contributions from the saloons—a motion that led to an animated discussion—and was finally lost.

Mr. Nichols moved that the police be dispensed with after Feb. 1st, and that the Council consist of fifteen members.

Three from each ward—but there are seldom more than a dozen present. Prospective candidates do not like to become mixed up in the clash of interests that come before the Council. The term of five members, the first to expire on the 24th of P. Schenk of the 2d, Joseph Reinken of the 4th and Al Heck of the 5th, expire this spring, and their places will be filled at the February election.

LEGAL NEWS.

Court met Monday afternoon with Judge Hays presiding. The first business attended to was the calling over of the jury list, and hearing those who wished to be excused.

The bond of C. F. L. McQuiston, County Surveyor-elect, for $5,000 was handed to the Court for examination, and Mr. McQuiston was sworn in. The bond of a Co. Surveyor is rather extensive as compared with the business of the office at present, and but few officials pass through his hands, but there are some papers, such as plots of the surveys of the donation lands that should be in his possession, as at present all surveys have to be sent to Harrisburg for information.

A petition for the appointment of Wm. Polhemus for County Commissioner was presented to the Court. It was signed by two dozen persons. In this connection Judge Hays said that no appointment would be made until Judge McMichael came on the bench, and that Judge McMichael was sick that day.

The petition of Mr. Hilliard was presented, asking the Court to order that old county surveys not becoming due on the docket be transferred.

Ferd Reiber, Esq., asked to be excused as receiver in the Christie-Thompson controversy over the lease of the High McClelland farm, and McClelland asked to make a change in the petition which had been presented the preceding Saturday.

Aron Reiber, Esq., was sworn into office as District Attorney by Clerk McElvain.

Other petitions were presented to Court, a note of which is made below.

A jury was then called into the box and the case of Tiley vs. Peace, a case in which the title to a piece of property, on which part of the Millertown water-works is located, was taken up.
