Nitro-Glycerine in Doses.

The other day a representative of the Star newspaper met Dr. H. H. Burchard, one of the clever and famous physicians of Philadelphia. In speaking of the progress of medical science in these later years he said: "Have you any idea of how far high ex plosives are used in medicine? You can-not get your knowledge from books unless you ransack five hundred volumes and pick up the scattered items here and there. It may surprise you to know that they are in daily use and of the greatest value in all sorts of diseases and injuries. rful as nitro-glycerine. Dissolved in ether, it makes that wonderful compound we choice bargains.

It dries rapidly —in fact, almost as fast as it is employed— and leaves behind a fine, elastic artificial skin, which is air and water proof against microbes and disease zerms. Mixed with cantharides, collodion makes the best blistering plaster known to science. Mixed with tannin or tannic acid, it makes a wonderful remedy for stopping bring the best return. Hence we say he flow blood of from wounds. In cases of scalding and burning, collodion enables the profession to cover the exposed flesh in a manner never before possible. No secre-tion of the human body affects it, nor, on ther hand, does it exert any unpleasan or objectionable influence upon the sys

"But of even greater value is nitro-gly-erine. When used in medicine it is largey diluted, one part being mixed with one nundred parts of alcohol, and one drop o relief in nervous asthma, hiccoughs, head-aches, and similar disorders. It has repeatedly cut short an attack of the chills certain forms of Bright's disease, and also for that most miserable of earthly ailments,
