GABE HARRIS.

The wooden tanks on all the leases in the Harford oil region had been full for many days...

Every body was careful of fire. Men who in sudden silence, or with angry denunciation of the Pipe Line Company...

From all the meetings Gabe Harris had been absent. In the attack upon the pump station he had taken no part...

"I don't think that," said Gabe, and in a moment he was at work again without coat or vest to impede him.

"I ain't played out," one of the old men said; "but I'm thinkin' you'd better get fast as you can carry you, or you won't have much for that little house of yours up to Summit."

"No, you stay here and dig. Mrs. Harris knows as much about the fire coming here as we do. She's got eyes."

"I ain't played out," one of the old men said; "but I'm thinkin' you'd better get fast as you can carry you, or you won't have much for that little house of yours up to Summit."

Millions of Mice.

The plague which the agriculturists of England are now suffering from the ravages of rats is not without precedent in Canada.

The nearest approach to this rat plague is the plague of the mice which visited Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia in the early part of the century.

It was not, however, until 1815, that the historic mouse plague set in.
