

Worth Looking At The prices of fall & winter clothing AT Schaul Bros. & Co's NEW CLOTHING HOUSE.

A low price does not always secure an advantage to the buyer; extremely low prices mean very poor clothing; that's not our sort. But we don't ask you unreasonable prices, because every garment we sell is warranted to be as cheap as could be duplicated in any other store in this vicinity.

In suits we have about all kinds of fabrics in use—cheviot, worsted and cassimere. $6 to $24 is the range of prices. In double-breasted jackets we have six different styles: Silk-faced Overcoats, Meltons, Beavers and Kerseys, $5 to $22. Rough overcoats, heavy weights, same assortment. Box overcoats, English short fashion, we have the correct styles. Boys' and Children's Suits and Overcoats must be seen to be appreciated.

Two Good Papers at a Bargain. We have made arrangements by which we can furnish The Ohio Farmer, the leading agricultural, live stock, and family journal of this country, and The Citizen, the best news paper published in this vicinity, at a very low price.

Oil Field Notes. The Hundred-foot Company's well on Hampshire is doing about 500 barrels a day.

Stewart & Co.'s well on the McKinley is rated at 100 barrels. Markham & Co.'s well on the Welch is in the sand and doing 60 barrels.

McLane No. 12, on the Melane, is rated at 100 barrels. Burton & Co.'s well on the Shuster, near Mt. Chestnut, is in the sand and showing a good well.

Barnhart & Co.'s No. 2 on the Stoff is rated at 175 a day. The Perrine on the Thos. Graham St. and improving, and the Leidecker on same farm at 75 to 100.

Golden & McClung, on the William Graham, started off at 25 an hour. Barram & Co., on the Orphan Home lot in Zellenopolis, is rated at 30 barrels; the Allen farm well 100, and the Wilson farm 125, while the Lockwood, on the Passavant, is a duster in the Hundred-foot and is being drilled deeper. The Gehring Co. well on the Helm is also dry.

The Estelmer's well on the Clendenning has already produced 29,000 barrels of oil. Davis Egan, & Fisher have three rigs and three wells drilling on the Jack here, and Gully & Co. three rigs up and two well drilling on the same farm.

May is drilling on the Alons, Dixon & Co. on the Mahan, and Crawford & Co. are building a rig on the Hadlet.

Mellon & Co. on the Sam Bell is in the Hundred-foot. Painter & Co.'s well on the Hughes is a gas well; the Clendenning wells doing about 12 barrels an hour.

The Saxon Oil Co. got a dry hole on the Smith farm in Penn township. Phillips No. 3 on the Byerly is showing 110 bbl. a day.

Parshall Bros. & Patton got a duster on the McKee farm, near Clintonville; and Bradshaw & Co. on the Jas. Martin, and Baker & Co. on the C. P. McKee, are small.

A new field has been opened in Allegheny county, between Mansfield and Groveton, and the Patterson well in the latter is reported at 600 barrels a day.

WEDDING BELLS.

Mrs. E. S. Weisenberger. The leading social event of the season was the wedding of Miss Lina Mueller and Mr. P. S. Weisenberger, at the German Catholic Church, on Wednesday morning at nine o'clock. The bride is one of Butler's best known and most popular young ladies, and has been prominently known in musical circles. The groom is an oil peddler of Pittsburgh and is well known in the circles in that city.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Rummelinger, and Miss Mame Pappert acted as bridesmaid, with Mr. Albert Gloger playing the part of groomsmen. Immediately after the wedding, the guests assembled at the home of the bride, where a reception was held and elegant refreshments served. The presents were many and costly, and among them was a diamond necklace from the groom, and an elegant silver toilet case from the members of the church choir.

At 6 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Weisenberger were in the parlor where they will make their home in the elegant residence lately built by the groom in Lawrenceville, 4704 Penn. ave., at which place they will be at home on Wednesday after Nov. 19.

Thursday evening, Oct. 16th was a joyous and happy one at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Linberg in Butler. The occasion was the marriage of the daughter, Miss Bertha Linberg, and Prof. J. C. Tinstant. Although the night was dark—the rain falling and there was a stormy wind—yet the number of about one hundred assembled to witness the ceremony and to share the happy couple their hearty congratulations.

At 7:30 the bridal party entered the parlor where the guests had assembled, the bride attended by her sister Miss Emma Linberg, and Miss Mary of Greensburg—the groom by Prof. Mackey and T. C. Linberg. The solemn ritual of the Reformed Church was read by Rev. Frugh—Rev. White led in prayer, and the bride and groom were joined in the holy bonds of wedlock. Rev. Frugh, while led in prayer, pronounced the bride couple kneeling before him, this venerable divine invoked God's blessing upon their union and pronounced upon them his benediction.

Rev. Linberg then delivered a brief, but most touching, beautiful, and impressive address to the bride and groom—reminding them of the sacredness of the covenant they had entered into, and their duties to each other, at all times, on all occasions, in all places, in all circumstances, and adversity, joy and sorrow, health and sickness, and comforting them, in all the trials and tribulations of life, with the strength to a Higher Power. He closed his address by presenting the couple with the Bible and exhorting them to take it for their counsel and guide, then giving the groom, in the beautiful custom of the Reformed Church, the kiss of welcome, a son, and the bride the kiss of parental blessing, the ceremony was over, and John C. Tinstant and Bertha Linberg were husband and wife.

Congratulations were then in order, and they were most genuine and led by the bride party the company repaired to the dining room where enough and to spare in the way of refreshment had been provided for the occasion. Rev. Harsh invoked the Divine blessing, and then full union was done to the refreshments so lavishly prepared.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Linberg, and is a young lady very highly respected and esteemed by all who know her, for her excellent traits of character, and good qualities of mind and heart. The wedding presents were many, handsome and costly.

Prof. Tinstant, the groom, is well known throughout the county, as a gentleman of high social standing, a great friend of education, and one of the ablest and foremost teachers of the county. The best wishes of his numerous friends of which he is, as with his charming bride, his bark launches out on the matrimonial sea.

Butler has not had a fire for some time and when one occurred last Monday evening the whole town went to see it. Shortly after supper time, Kesselman's blacksmith shop on the South side was discovered to be burning. The fire originated from the forge, and spread to the corner of the building and when discovered had spread over the entire roof. The alarm bells were rung and the hose companies were at the scene, as soon as the conditions of the streets would allow and by means of a ladder, a great hundred feet and in two directions soon had two streams playing on the buildings, and saved part of the machine shop, and also Campbell's warehouse. The blacksmith shop, however, was completely destroyed, and it will take from three to four thousand dollars to replace it. If the new and big steam hammer is warped that will mean a loss of three thousand more, and if the boiler is warped, that will mean two thousand more. The machinery is somewhat damaged.

The entire insurance on the establishment is $4200. Mr. Kesselman located in Butler seven years ago. He was doing a large business and will rebuild his shop.

The flames from the burning building lit up that whole end of town, and as everybody wanted a look at them, the thieves of the town had an opportunity of which they took advantage. Ory Phillips and his wife left their store for a few minutes and when they returned they found that their bill had been robbed of "notes and change amounting to about sixty dollars.

At the Opera House. A large down-stairs house was an accident fact that met the eyes of Rice's Minstrels as the curtain rolled up at the Opera House last evening. Crowded benches were the first miracle of the season and because Rice, Slavin, Rice & Moran have a reputation which the drama here, the show was whirled around by the twisted snaker rods, and struck him on the neck and broke the singing, into and skirt dancing by Winthrop in imitation of Carmenita made a great favorite, and Grandall and back to the evening one of complete enjoyment.—Owego Record.

The Secret of Libby Prison. One dark night in February, 1864, more than a hundred Union prisoners escaped through the tunnel of Libby Prison, Richmond. The Confederate sentinel on guard at the time was true to the Southern Confederacy, and saw the shadowy figures as they emerged into the light of the street lamp, but did not challenge or fire upon them. It has long been a source of wonderment why he acted thus, and the real reason has never been made public. The true explanation is given in Nos. 49 and 41 of THE HOLIDAY, which paper will be sent, on receipt of five or six, to any address in the country. Address THE HOLIDAY, 19 Beekman Street, N. Y.

The ringing of the bell of St. Mary's Catholic church for one hour on Wednesday recalled to many of the citizens of Kittingham the peculiar legacy left to that church by the late John Giffin, Esq. It is his will that $100 be set apart each year, the estate, $100 of the annual income from which was to be paid over to the trustees of the above named church providing they would ring the bell of the church for one hour on the 8th day of October of each year. Iowa has passed a stringent tramp law. It declares that any male person sixteen years of age or over, who is physically unable to work, who is wandering, begging or idle, and who cannot show reasonable efforts to secure employment, shall be deemed a tramp, sent to jail and put at hard work. While in jail he shall not be allowed to receive any letters, or any other means of amusement. It will be the duty of the sheriff if such a law existed in Pennsylvania.

At a recent term of court, Judge Patterson of Lancaster, took occasion to call down a Justice of the Peace who sent a petty assault and battery case to court. The action of Judge Patterson calls attention to and deals with a matter that has become an nuisance to the courts and a burden to tax payers. The nature and cause of this nuisance are hit off in this column by a Williamsport correspondent. No judges would pay more attention to the cases returned to courts by Justices and Aldermen would be less likely to run for the courts, less costs for the county and a better state of affairs all around.

The traveling and advertising agencies of the State, with but few exceptions, never hesitate to send to court of the cases that are brought before them. They seem to be not men competent to determine the merits of alleged violations of the law, and will not do so for themselves, the lawyers and the constables who bring them their business.

The Golden Gate Tours of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Preparations for the inaugural series of personally conducted tours to the Golden Gate Coast, under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Railroad, are progressing, and a detailed itinerary, containing the routes, conditions and will be published at an early day.
