Thanksgiving.

Every human being in the United States

Every human being in the United States of North America, even though his or her condition be as despreate as was that of Miss Hannah, whose story we print on our first page, can, if they wish, find some material advantage for which they can express thanks to the Supreme Being.

All nations have their distinctively national holidays, and Thanksgiving Day and Decoration Day are ours. It seems that the New Englanders observed sources for a Thanksgiving Day before the Revolution, and that after the Revolution, and that after the Revolution the Presidents of the United States occasionally selected a day for the giving of thanks to the Creator for some special providence, or for fasting and prayer my have been the chief features of the day, but now that the Nation has become the chief features of the day, but now that the Nation has become many have been the chief features of the day, but now that the Nation has become many hard the condition of the Day of the battle of Gettysburg, and the selected toward the elected covard the elected features of the day, but now that the Nation has become material advantages for which they can express the selected toward the elected features of the death of the features of the day, but now that the Nation has become material advantages for which they can express thanks to the Supreme Being.

Among the living or the dead,
O, hearts we love where'er ye be, For you the sacred board is spread, The feast of Love and Memory! Clear eyes fulfilled of holier light,

Clear souls at peace past death's din banks, Come, keep with us the day of thanks! The waves of storm-scourged years that

May fleck the golden head with foam; By the old hearths we sit no more; Yet God be thanked for love and home

Though hopes and joys, like April snow, May melt, though good or grief befall; For all man's life, for bliss or woe, Be thanks said at this festival! Old homes, old hopes, old friends, old days
Wherefrom full many a season parts—
For all, for all, to God be praise,
And most for love and kindly hearts!

DEATHS.

The town of Parker has had several sensations lately. On Saturday evening the 15 the inst. John Duff was assaulted, beaten and gagged on the streets, and then taken to his house, and robbed; and on the following Tuesday evening some twenty persons who took supper at the Parker House were poisoned by eating corn-cake, made of meal into which some time. He went to Forida for the benefit of his health and returned but a few weeks ago, seemingly much improved. But the dread disease took a renewed hold after his return and he sank rapidly until death called him away on Thursday last. The deceased was a son of Joseph Zeigler. Sr. of this place. He leaves a wife and two children and many dear relatives and friends to mourn his untimely taking away. He was laid to rest in the Menese cemetery on Sunday, attended by a large concourse of people.—News.

She has heard her mother's voice That which makes the soul rejoice, She has heard ner mother's vice,
She has heard a father's tone,
And she is not there alone.
She has an angel sister there
Beautiful and bright and fair,
And an angel baby boy
Once a mother's pride and joy;
She has heard the voice which here
She has mourned for many a year,
Seen the faces which she lost
O'er the river she has crossed;
She has found the better land
Where the purple violets grow.
She has seen where angels stand,
Passed from toil and earthly wee.
So, dear'friends, there in the light
We'll say good-morn but not good-night,
O, send us all from shores above
The benediction of thy love.
