

THE CITIZEN.
W. C. NEELY, PROP.
PUBLISHED WEEKLY.
Subscription Rates—Foreign, $10.00; Domestic, $5.00; Single Copies, 10 Cts.
Office: 125 North Second St., Butler, Pa.
Published by W. C. Neely, Proprietor.
Printed by J. H. Smith, Butler, Pa.

A Change Needed.
One hundred and three years ago, in May of 1787, representatives of all the thirteen original States, excepting one, met in Philadelphia to revise the Articles of Confederation and to form a new Constitution for the United States of America.
The delegates were men of patriotism and political insight. George Washington was President of the Convention and though they had no precedent to guide them, their work, which was adopted by all the States, and which has stood the severe tests of the remarkable expansion of the Nation, and the conflicting interests of the different sections, has proved their wonderful wisdom.
The Constitution as signed by them, excepting the change made in the mode of electing Presidents and Vice-Presidents, and with the Amendments that the course of events has made necessary, is yet the same law of the Nation, and probably will be for many centuries to come, excepting a further change that should be made in the election of Presidents and Vice-Presidents, and also a change in the method of electing United States Senators.
In the original Constitution, the mode of electing Senators was by the State legislatures. There were no telegraphs and railroads to disseminate the news of the world; people did not read of disunion, and consider the affairs of the Nation as they do now. The delegates, therefore, were not to be held upon, and therefore the framers of the Constitution placed the selection of the officers named in the hands of electors, and State Legislatures, and by this method have been selected President and Vice-President in the different States many have been elected to the United States Senate, and are members of that body who have never seen the people, nor the people ever seen them. The people, nor the people ever seen them. The people, nor the people ever seen them.

Congress and the President's Message.
The second session of the Fifty-first Congress opened Monday noon without an incident.
In the Senate 28 Republicans and 27 Democrats received the President's message. The roll call of the two new Senators from Wyoming were sworn in, and drew lots for the short and long terms; the President's message was read and then the Senate adjourned till next day.
In the House, Speaker Reed's gavel fell at noon, the crowded room came to order, 27 members answered to the Clerk's roll call; committees to notify the President and Senate that the House was in session were appointed; the credentials of C. R. Hildreth, of Arkansas, Willis Street of Idaho, C. W. Stone of Pennsylvania, and C. D. Clark of Wyoming, who had been elected to fill unexpired terms were read by the speaker and these gentlemen were sworn in; as were also three other members whose credentials had not yet arrived, and a delegate from the territory of Oklahoma.
The President's message was then read and the House adjourned till next day.

DEATHS.
HAYS—At her home in Slipperyrock Tp., Wednesday, Nov. 26, 1890, Mrs. George Hays, nee McGinnis, aged 80 years.
SUTTON—At his home in Apollo, Nov. 27, 1890, F. Sutton, formerly of Millston.
HILLIARD—At her home at Hilliard's Station on the P. & L. E. R. R., Nov. 26th, 1890, Miss Alice E. Hilliard, aged 31 years, 1 month and 27 days.
CANTRELL—At her home in Butler, Wednesday, Nov. 26, 1890, Mrs. John Cantrell, aged 74 years.
MCCORMACK—At his home in Apollo, Nov. 27, 1890, J. M. McCormack, formerly of Millston.
HILLIARD—At her home at Hilliard's Station on the P. & L. E. R. R., Nov. 26th, 1890, Miss Alice E. Hilliard, aged 31 years, 1 month and 27 days.
CANTRELL—At her home in Butler, Wednesday, Nov. 26, 1890, Mrs. John Cantrell, aged 74 years.
MCCORMACK—At his home in Apollo, Nov. 27, 1890, J. M. McCormack, formerly of Millston.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—U. S. Government Report, Aug. 17, 1888.
SANTA CLAUS'LL TAKE CARE OF US
EVERYBODY
And you will find his headquarters at the store of J. F. T. STEHLE, No. 136, S. Main St., where he will show you a fall line of Rocking Horses, Shoofly Rockers, Galloping Horses, Sleds, Clippers, Doll Carriages, Wheelbarrows, Childrens Chairs, Daisy Rockers, Tables Desks, Blackboards, Folding Wire Beds, Baby-jumpers and Swings, Iron Banks. Toys of all kinds.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—U. S. Government Report, Aug. 17, 1888.
SANTA CLAUS'LL TAKE CARE OF US
EVERYBODY
And you will find his headquarters at the store of J. F. T. STEHLE, No. 136, S. Main St., where he will show you a fall line of Rocking Horses, Shoofly Rockers, Galloping Horses, Sleds, Clippers, Doll Carriages, Wheelbarrows, Childrens Chairs, Daisy Rockers, Tables Desks, Blackboards, Folding Wire Beds, Baby-jumpers and Swings, Iron Banks. Toys of all kinds.

EVERY BODY
Has a chance to play Santa Claus this year. Prices within the reach of all, and now is the time to buy Holiday Goods while they are new, fresh and novel, at
J. F. T. STEHLE'S.
1890. 1890.
A FULL LINE OF
Holiday Goods Suitable for Christmas Presents, at the lowest prices, at
E. GRIEB'S, THE JEWELER
No. 19, North Main St., BUTLER, PA.
Dissolution Notice.
Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between Owen Brady, Joseph Hartman, A. H. Simpson and H. J. Hoyt, doing a banking business under the firm name of Owen Brady & Co., has been dissolved as of the 1st day of January, 1891. All debts of said firm are hereby assumed by the partners, and all liabilities of the said partnership, the Butler County Bank, and all other parties, are hereby notified to present their claims against said firm to the undersigned, who are the partners of said firm, before the 1st day of January, 1891, after which date they will be assumed by the partners of said firm, and the undersigned will not be responsible therefor.
Owen Brady,
Joseph Hartman,
A. H. Simpson,
H. J. Hoyt.

THE CITIZEN.
W. C. NEELY, PROP.
PUBLISHED WEEKLY.
Subscription Rates—Foreign, $10.00; Domestic, $5.00; Single Copies, 10 Cts.
Office: 125 North Second St., Butler, Pa.
Published by W. C. Neely, Proprietor.
Printed by J. H. Smith, Butler, Pa.

A Change Needed.
One hundred and three years ago, in May of 1787, representatives of all the thirteen original States, excepting one, met in Philadelphia to revise the Articles of Confederation and to form a new Constitution for the United States of America.
The delegates were men of patriotism and political insight. George Washington was President of the Convention and though they had no precedent to guide them, their work, which was adopted by all the States, and which has stood the severe tests of the remarkable expansion of the Nation, and the conflicting interests of the different sections, has proved their wonderful wisdom.
The Constitution as signed by them, excepting the change made in the mode of electing Presidents and Vice-Presidents, and with the Amendments that the course of events has made necessary, is yet the same law of the Nation, and probably will be for many centuries to come, excepting a further change that should be made in the election of Presidents and Vice-Presidents, and also a change in the method of electing United States Senators.
In the original Constitution, the mode of electing Senators was by the State legislatures. There were no telegraphs and railroads to disseminate the news of the world; people did not read of disunion, and consider the affairs of the Nation as they do now. The delegates, therefore, were not to be held upon, and therefore the framers of the Constitution placed the selection of the officers named in the hands of electors, and State Legislatures, and by this method have been selected President and Vice-President in the different States many have been elected to the United States Senate, and are members of that body who have never seen the people, nor the people ever seen them. The people, nor the people ever seen them.

Congress and the President's Message.
The second session of the Fifty-first Congress opened Monday noon without an incident.
In the Senate 28 Republicans and 27 Democrats received the President's message. The roll call of the two new Senators from Wyoming were sworn in, and drew lots for the short and long terms; the President's message was read and then the Senate adjourned till next day.
In the House, Speaker Reed's gavel fell at noon, the crowded room came to order, 27 members answered to the Clerk's roll call; committees to notify the President and Senate that the House was in session were appointed; the credentials of C. R. Hildreth, of Arkansas, Willis Street of Idaho, C. W. Stone of Pennsylvania, and C. D. Clark of Wyoming, who had been elected to fill unexpired terms were read by the speaker and these gentlemen were sworn in; as were also three other members whose credentials had not yet arrived, and a delegate from the territory of Oklahoma.
The President's message was then read and the House adjourned till next day.

DEATHS.
HAYS—At her home in Slipperyrock Tp., Wednesday, Nov. 26, 1890, Mrs. George Hays, nee McGinnis, aged 80 years.
SUTTON—At his home in Apollo, Nov. 27, 1890, F. Sutton, formerly of Millston.
HILLIARD—At her home at Hilliard's Station on the P. & L. E. R. R., Nov. 26th, 1890, Miss Alice E. Hilliard, aged 31 years, 1 month and 27 days.
CANTRELL—At her home in Butler, Wednesday, Nov. 26, 1890, Mrs. John Cantrell, aged 74 years.
MCCORMACK—At his home in Apollo, Nov. 27, 1890, J. M. McCormack, formerly of Millston.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—U. S. Government Report, Aug. 17, 1888.
SANTA CLAUS'LL TAKE CARE OF US
EVERYBODY
And you will find his headquarters at the store of J. F. T. STEHLE, No. 136, S. Main St., where he will show you a fall line of Rocking Horses, Shoofly Rockers, Galloping Horses, Sleds, Clippers, Doll Carriages, Wheelbarrows, Childrens Chairs, Daisy Rockers, Tables Desks, Blackboards, Folding Wire Beds, Baby-jumpers and Swings, Iron Banks. Toys of all kinds.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Absolutely Pure.
A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—U. S. Government Report, Aug. 17, 1888.
SANTA CLAUS'LL TAKE CARE OF US
EVERYBODY
And you will find his headquarters at the store of J. F. T. STEHLE, No. 136, S. Main St., where he will show you a fall line of Rocking Horses, Shoofly Rockers, Galloping Horses, Sleds, Clippers, Doll Carriages, Wheelbarrows, Childrens Chairs, Daisy Rockers, Tables Desks, Blackboards, Folding Wire Beds, Baby-jumpers and Swings, Iron Banks. Toys of all kinds.

EVERY BODY
Has a chance to play Santa Claus this year. Prices within the reach of all, and now is the time to buy Holiday Goods while they are new, fresh and novel, at
J. F. T. STEHLE'S.
1890. 1890.
A FULL LINE OF
Holiday Goods Suitable for Christmas Presents, at the lowest prices, at
E. GRIEB'S, THE JEWELER
No. 19, North Main St., BUTLER, PA.
Dissolution Notice.
Notice is hereby given that the partnership heretofore existing between Owen Brady, Joseph Hartman, A. H. Simpson and H. J. Hoyt, doing a banking business under the firm name of Owen Brady & Co., has been dissolved as of the 1st day of January, 1891. All debts of said firm are hereby assumed by the partners, and all liabilities of the said partnership, the Butler County Bank, and all other parties, are hereby notified to present their claims against said firm to the undersigned, who are the partners of said firm, before the 1st day of January, 1891, after which date they will be assumed by the partners of said firm, and the undersigned will not be responsible therefor.
Owen Brady,
Joseph Hartman,
A. H. Simpson,
H. J. Hoyt.