

THE CITIZEN.

W. C. NELEY.

Prop.

Entered at Postoffice at Butler as 2d class matter

FRIDAY, APRIL 5, 1891.

Subscriptions—Inside the county $1.00 per year, in advance; outside the county, per year.

ADVERTISING—One inch, one time, $1; each subsequent insertion 50 cents; executors and administrators' notices 50 cents each; notices of death 50 cents; notices of birth 50 cents; notices of marriage 50 cents; notices of adoption 50 cents; a line for first and 5 cents for each subsequent insertion; a line for each insertion. Obituaries, cards of thanks, and airs, &c., inserted at the rate of 5 cents a line. Money to accompany notices of death.

Bates for standing signs and job work on application.

Each issue of the Citizen some extra copies are printed which are sent to citizens of the country who are not subscribers to the paper.

Subscribers will do a favor by sending us their names and addresses, not now taking a country paper.

All communications intended for publication in the Citizen should be addressed to the real name of the writer, not for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Marriage and death notices must be accompanied by a responsible name.

Announcements.

FOR JURY COMMISSIONEE.

J. W. RICE, of Butler twp.

H. J. PONTIUS, of Millersburg.

W. P. BROWN, of Butler.

WILLIAM R. PATTERSON, of Penn twp.

Time for Action.

The time has now come in the tide of learning when Butler can take rank with other towns in the importance of founding a college. All the necessary primary steps have been taken by our head of the most progressive citizens and the only thing now needed is the support of the people. It is proposed to obtain a charter, with the capital stock, for the present, fixed at $50,000. This will be divided into $50 shares, and the amount to be held by any individual will be limited, thus preventing its control by any political or sectarian organization.

There will be no direct profits or dividends to stockholders. All income will be spent on the school. A successful college here would be of incalculable benefit to the town. There are hundreds of children in and near Butler whose education stops with the public schools simply because of the expense of going away to school. It would be better to let them to finish their education at home for many reasons. A college here would attract people with children to be educated, and would add much to the name of the town.

Let the bold men of this vicinity put their shoulders to the wheel, and the way is clear.

Sixes of the patent medicine men have combined to put up prices, and black-list druggists who cut rates. There is to be a coupon arrangement, and a clearing house in each large town.

The death lists of the city papers have been immured during the past few days.

Death of Nelson P. Reed.

Nelson Purvis Reed, formerly of this place, died at his home in Pittsburgh on Saturday evening last, in the 50th year of his age. The news of his death was received here with as much sorrow and regret as if one of our own chief citizens had been taken from us. All here felt an interest and a pride in the man who by his push and pluck had built up a great new newspaper, the Pittsburgh Commercial-Gazette.

He was born in Pittsburgh when a young man and became connected with the Gazette when it was not in a prosperous condition, and leaves it now, in the prime of his life, one of the most successful men of the State. That he has been called away so early in his career seems a sad fate. Few men we have ever known had more energy and laudable ambition than had our once townsmen Nelson P. Reed. He failed a victim to the singular disease that is so prevalent at present.

Mr. Reed was a son of our aged and respected fellow citizen, George W. Reed, and the sympathy of our entire community goes out to the father and to the brothers and sisters in this their sad and sudden bereavement.

A PHILADELPHIA paper says that the only thing left out of the new tax bill is a tax on dead people.

One of the interior provinces of India, last week five hundred native troops and their English officers, were massacred by natives, the fight being the result of a feud between a Rajah and a tribal chief.

Cameron.

The following expression of the views of Hon. Josiah McPherson, upon the re-election of J. Donald Cameron to the U. S. Senate, harmonize with those expressed in these columns on the same subject. Interest is added to this article from the fact that it is from the pen of a native of Butler county who for two terms creditably represented the county in our State Legislature. He now resides in Western Iowa, and in his 80th year is a active interest in Political affairs.

"Cameron, the silver speculator of your State, is said, distributed a large sum of money in Pennsylvania before the last election, ostensibly to help bear the expense of getting him elected. He failed to help elect a Republican Governor, but was effective in accomplishing the selfish purpose of his election, in securing the election of one of the members of his party to the Senate.

We are not surprised that intelligent members of Congress bowed their heads in shame when Pennsylvania's delegation to the Senate of the United States for the same feeling is experienced by all honest friends of the country, and contempt of the man who has done this.

Colonel Young had been a sufferer in many cases, to be going hand in hand this winter. Now, as a great many of the little Indian bands are just getting along the mounds, the stamping out of the race that they are not allowed to run out too far or in any way expose themselves before they are entirely well. As the eyes of the world are upon them, we are sorry for this kind of great practicality, conducted on the right principle; as we have reason to believe the one at Rattigan is present.

The Coyleville school is going to have an exhibition in a number of cities, we have no doubt about it. We hope that for her a large and ample audience house as it takes plenty of hard work to prepare for exhibition.

We had the pleasure of pleasure of hearing at the meeting of the Battie Library Association on Friday, Owing to a certain number of us, who are bound to see him, to finish their school year at home for many reasons. They were the only family that could manage Rose, bear with him and induce him to do any kind of labor.

Mr. James McQuiston died in 1851, at the age of 45.

ARCHIBALD MC CALL—ORPHANS HOME.

Mr. Archibald Mc Call was a Philadelphian merchant and a man of wealth. He became owner at this time of a large body of land in this city, some of it laying next to the river. To help him out of his difficulties he brought him frequently to our town, between 1830 and 1843 and probably before and after those dates. On his visits here, and also in the country, he was a constant visitor in our town, a great and honest man, highly regarded by all.

Teachers local institute was held at Coyleville on Friday, Owing to a certain number of us, who are bound to see him, to finish their school year at home for many reasons. They were the only family that could manage Rose, bear with him and induce him to do any kind of labor.

Mr. James McQuiston died in 1851, at the age of 45.

R. L. FENNELL DELIVERS BOOKS THIS WEEK.

J. F. DIPPER & J. A. MILLIGAN are agents for "Sherman's Life"—hand their order.

Call on R. L. Fennell & Son they are always glad to see you. Patronize home trade.

W. B. DIPPER is not in as good health as we would like to see him. Hope he will be soon.

Mrs. Lank Fullerton is in poor health at present. She has been severely troubled with ear-ache, caused by inflammation of the inner ear.

Miss Priscilla Randolph, of Emporia, Kan., is the guest of the Misses Randolph. Mrs. N. A. Randolph, of Worcester, Mass., is on her visit to her mother, Mrs. Melton.

Mr. Dr. Tized, of Butler, is in town with friends.

R. R. DURR is at the Milwaukee Hospital, and has undergone the operation of bone grafting. He is doing well.

The funeral services of Colonel Sam Young, editor of the Compromising Valley News, who died at Franklin, were held in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon. The church was crowded with relatives and friends, and the services, many being unable to gain admittance.

Mrs. D. C. Muntz, and Dr. Jackson, and family of Beaver Falls, will move to town in the spring.

There are several cases of grip in town.

DEATHS.

GARBER.—At the home of her son-in-law Phillip Crouse, on the South Side, March 28, 1891, Mrs. Garber.

BREDIN.—In Pittsburgh, on Saturday evening last, in the 50th year of his age. The news of his death was received here with as much sorrow and regret as if one of our own chief citizens had been taken from us. All here felt an interest and a pride in the man who by his push and pluck had built up a great new newspaper, the Pittsburgh Commercial-Gazette.

He was born in Pittsburgh when a young man and became connected with the Gazette when it was not in a prosperous condition, and leaves it now, in the prime of his life, one of the most successful men of the State. That he has been called away so early in his career seems a sad fate. Few men we have ever known had more energy and laudable ambition than had our once townsmen Nelson P. Reed. He failed a victim to the singular disease that is so prevalent at present.

Mr. Reed was a son of our aged and respected fellow citizen, George W. Reed, and the sympathy of our entire community goes out to the father and to the brothers and sisters in this their sad and sudden bereavement.

A PHILADELPHIA paper says that the only thing left out of the new tax bill is a tax on dead people.

One of the interior provinces of India, last week five hundred native troops and their English officers, were massacred by natives, the fight being the result of a feud between a Rajah and a tribal chief.

Cameron.

The following expression of the views of Hon. Josiah McPherson, upon the re-election of J. Donald Cameron to the U. S. Senate, harmonize with those expressed in these columns on the same subject. Interest is added to this article from the fact that it is from the pen of a native of Butler county who for two terms creditably represented the county in our State Legislature. He now resides in Western Iowa, and in his 80th year is a active interest in Political affairs.

"Cameron, the silver speculator of your State, is said, distributed a large sum of money in Pennsylvania before the last election, ostensibly to help bear the expense of getting him elected. He failed to help elect a Republican Governor, but was effective in accomplishing the selfish purpose of his election, in securing the election of one of the members of his party to the Senate.

We are not surprised that intelligent members of Congress bowed their heads in shame when Pennsylvania's delegation to the Senate of the United States for the same feeling is experienced by all honest friends of the country, and contempt of the man who has done this.

Colonel Young had been a sufferer in many cases, to be going hand in hand this winter. Now, as a great many of the little Indian bands are just getting along the mounds, the stamping out of the race that they are not allowed to run out too far or in any way expose themselves before they are entirely well. As the eyes of the world are upon them, we are sorry for this kind of great practicality, conducted on the right principle; as we have reason to believe the one at Rattigan is present.

The Coyleville school is going to have an exhibition in a number of cities, we have no doubt about it. We hope that for her a large and ample audience house as it takes plenty of hard work to prepare for exhibition.

We had the pleasure of pleasure of hearing at the meeting of the Battie Library Association on Friday, Owing to a certain number of us, who are bound to see him, to finish their school year at home for many reasons. They were the only family that could manage Rose, bear with him and induce him to do any kind of labor.

Mr. James McQuiston died in 1851, at the age of 45.

R. L. FENNELL DELIVERS BOOKS THIS WEEK.

J. F. DIPPER & J. A. MILLIGAN are agents for "Sherman's Life"—hand their order.

Call on R. L. Fennell & Son they are always glad to see you. Patronize home trade.

W. B. DIPPER is not in as good health as we would like to see him. Hope he will be soon.

Mrs. Lank Fullerton is in poor health at present. She has been severely troubled with ear-ache, caused by inflammation of the inner ear.

Miss Priscilla Randolph, of Emporia, Kan., is the guest of the Misses Randolph.

Mrs. N. A. Randolph, of Worcester, Mass., is on her visit to her mother, Mrs. Melton.

Mr. Dr. Tized, of Butler, is in town with friends.

R. R. DURR is at the Milwaukee Hospital, and has undergone the operation of bone grafting. He is doing well.

The funeral services of Colonel Sam Young, editor of the Compromising Valley News, who died at Franklin, were held in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon. The church was crowded with relatives and friends, and the services, many being unable to gain admittance.

Mrs. D. C. Muntz, and Dr. Jackson, and family of Beaver Falls, will move to town in the spring.

There are several cases of grip in town.

GARBER.—At the home of her son-in-law Phillip Crouse, on the South Side, March 28, 1891, Mrs. Garber.

BREDIN.—In Pittsburgh, on Saturday evening last, in the 50th year of his age. The news of his death was received here with as much sorrow and regret as if one of our own chief citizens had been taken from us. All here felt an interest and a pride in the man who by his push and pluck had built up a great new newspaper, the Pittsburgh Commercial-Gazette.

He was born in Pittsburgh when a young man and became connected with the Gazette when it was not in a prosperous condition, and leaves it now, in the prime of his life, one of the most successful men of the State. That he has been called away so early in his career seems a sad fate. Few men we have ever known had more energy and laudable ambition than had our once townsmen Nelson P. Reed. He failed a victim to the singular disease that is so prevalent at present.

Mr. Reed was a son of our aged and respected fellow citizen, George W. Reed, and the sympathy of our entire community goes out to the father and to the brothers and sisters in this their sad and sudden bereavement.

A PHILADELPHIA paper says that the only thing left out of the new tax bill is a tax on dead people.

One of the interior provinces of India, last week five hundred native troops and their English officers, were massacred by natives, the fight being the result of a feud between a Rajah and a tribal chief.

Cameron.

The following expression of the views of Hon. Josiah McPherson, upon the re-election of J. Donald Cameron to the U. S. Senate, harmonize with those expressed in these columns on the same subject. Interest is added to this article from the fact that it is from the pen of a native of Butler county who for two terms creditably represented the county in our State Legislature. He now resides in Western Iowa, and in his 80th year is a active interest in Political affairs.

"Cameron, the silver speculator of your State, is said, distributed a large sum of money in Pennsylvania before the last election, ostensibly to help bear the expense of getting him elected. He failed to help elect a Republican Governor, but was effective in accomplishing the selfish purpose of his election, in securing the election of one of the members of his party to the Senate.

We are not surprised that intelligent members of Congress bowed their heads in shame when Pennsylvania's delegation to the Senate of the United States for the same feeling is experienced by all honest friends of the country, and contempt of the man who has done this.

Colonel Young had been a sufferer in many cases, to be going hand in hand this winter. Now, as a great many of the little Indian bands are just getting along the mounds, the stamping out of the race that they are not allowed to run out too far or in any way expose themselves before they are entirely well. As the eyes of the world are upon them, we are sorry for this kind of great practicality, conducted on the right principle; as we have reason to believe the one at Rattigan is present.

The Coyleville school is going to have an exhibition in a number of cities, we have no doubt about it. We hope that for her a large and ample audience house as it takes plenty of hard work to prepare for exhibition.

We had the pleasure of pleasure of hearing at the meeting of the Battie Library Association on Friday, Owing to a certain number of us, who are bound to see him, to finish their school year at home for many reasons. They were the only family that could manage Rose, bear with him and induce him to do any kind of labor.

Mr. James McQuiston died in 1851, at the age of 45.

R. L. FENNELL DELIVERS BOOKS THIS WEEK.

J. F. DIPPER & J. A. MILLIGAN are agents for "Sherman's Life"—hand their order.

Call on R. L. Fennell & Son they are always glad to see you. Patronize home trade.

W. B. DIPPER is not in as good health as we would like to see him. Hope he will be soon.

Mrs. Lank Fullerton is in poor health at present. She has been severely troubled with ear-ache, caused by inflammation of the inner ear.

Miss Priscilla Randolph, of Emporia, Kan., is the guest of the Misses Randolph.

Mrs. N. A. Randolph, of Worcester, Mass., is on her visit to her mother, Mrs. Melton.

Mr. Dr. Tized, of Butler, is in town with friends.

R. R. DURR is at the Milwaukee Hospital, and has undergone the operation of bone grafting. He is doing well.

The funeral services of Colonel Sam Young, editor of the Compromising Valley News, who died at Franklin, were held in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon. The church was crowded with relatives and friends, and the services, many being unable to gain admittance.

Mrs. D. C. Muntz, and Dr. Jackson, and family of Beaver Falls, will move to town in the spring.

There are several cases of grip in town.

GARBER.—At the home of her son-in-law Phillip Crouse, on the South Side, March 28, 1891, Mrs. Garber.

BREDIN.—In Pittsburgh, on Saturday evening last, in the 50th year of his age. The news of his death was received here with as much sorrow and regret as if one of our own chief citizens had been taken